Precedent for "Governess."
Albert VII., archduke of Austria, married Isabella Clara Eugenia, infant of Spain, who brought to him the sovereignty of the Low Countries, etc. When Philip IV. of Spain ascended the throne in 1621 he took from his aunt the sovereignty of the Low Countries, but left her the title of governess. Her husband died soon after, whereon she took the veil, though still retaining the reins of government. She died at Brussels in 1633, aged 66. Here there is precedent for the use of the word governess when a lady holds the post.—London Notes and Queries.

Sixteen Land Fraud Cases Set Down for Trial up to August Twenty First

That pleas of guilty are likely to be entered to indictments now pending in the United States circuit court charging William H. Davis, former mayor of Albany; Clark E. Loomis, former special land agent of the general land office, and Salmon B. Ormsby, once a forest ranger in the Cascade Reserve, with complicity in Oregon land frauds, was indicated this morning, when Assistant Attorney General Francis J. Heney informed Judge Wm. H. Hunt during the calling of the calendar that he did not expect the cases against these defendants to come to trial.

Ex-Mayor Davis was indicted January 31, 1905, charged with perjury in having sworn falsely when making final proof on a homestead entry. He voluntarily went before the federal grand jury, and it is understood that he made a clean admission of his connection with the fraud, although warned that the evidence he gave could be used against him. His story to the grand jury is believed to have been little short of a full confession, and it is not thought that he will undertake to acquit himself of the charge by standing trial.

Two indictments are pending against Loomis and Ormsby, charging conspiracy to defraud the government out of public lands. They are jointly involved with Henry A. Young, William H. Davis, and George Sorenson, on one indictment returned December 27, 1904, and an indictment consolidated with it involves Congressman Binger Hermann, S. A. D. Pater, Horace G. McKinley, Emma L. Watson, Daniel Webster Tarpley, Elbert G. Brown, Mrs. Nellie Brown and Frank Walgamot, a Portland dentist. When this case was reached on the calendar, Mr. Heney informed the court that he expected pleas of guilty, but that the case was ready for trial, and had it set down.

One Defendant Is Ill.

W. D. Fenton, attorney for State Senator Franklin P. Mays, appeared this morning and gave notice that he desired to file pleas in abatement in all three of the cases pending against his client, and said he would have to ask for a continuance in the case against Mays, for the reason that he is unable to be tried. Mays is now on his Tygh Valley farm, and Mr. Fenton says he is in a poor state of health. He broke down immediately following his indictment and went to California. Mr. Heney, so Mr. Fenton stated to the court, would not consent to a continuance of the Mays case.

Charles F. Lord, indicted jointly with ex-United States District Attorney John Hall, Henry P. Ford, formerly sheriff of Washington county; Harry L. Rees; A. P. Caylor, ex-Deputy Sheriff John Cordano, John Henry Hitchings, a local lawyer, and John Northrup, appeared this morning and made another plea to have his case set for trial.

Lord declared that his reputation had been smirched; that he had repeatedly pleaded for a trial during the attendance of seven juries on the court and ended by demanding a trial under the guarantees of the seventh amendment to the constitution. Judge Hunt said he would call the calendar, and Lord set down.

Lord Is Reprimanded.

When his case was finally reached on the docket, Assistant Attorney General Heney asked that it go to the foot of the calendar. Lord declared he didn't want it to go there. He said the indictment against him had been brought by spite on Mr. Heney's part. Judge Hunt reprimanded him for using such language in court toward a government officer and said that as an attorney he ought to know better.

Mr. Heney informed the court that when the grand jury was in session a conspiracy was entered into by several persons, among whom was defendant, Lord, to obstruct justice, and that to give him a trial now would be to further the ends of the conspirators, and he felt it a duty to let this case go over until all other cases had been tried.

Lord interjected that Mr. Heney had added insult to injury by placing his name on the same piece of paper with those of John H. Hitchings and John H. Hall.

Judge Hunt finally told Lord to come back in two weeks, and he would pass on his application for trial. Mr. Heney reminded the court that this case is one in which he could not appear.

Lord was indicted with the others on a charge of attempting to obstruct justice by forming a conspiracy to libel Mr. Heney, and thus interfere with his work as a government officer. Cases were set for trial in the United States Circuit Court this morning as follows:

July 16—Case against Henry W. Miller, Frank E. Kincart, Martin G. Hogo, and Charles Nickell for conspiracy.

July 19—Case against William H. Davis for perjury.

July 20—Case against Hamilton W. Hendricks, for subornation of perjury.

July 23—Case against Charles A. Watson and Coe D. Bernard for perjury.

July 24—Case against Franklin P. Mays, Horace G. McKinley, S. A. D. Pater, Marie L. Ware, Emma L. Watson, D. W. Tarpley, and Robert Simpson for conspiracy.

July 30—Case against Winlock W. Steiwer, Hamilton H. Hendricks, Clarence B. Zachary, Adelbert C. Zachary, Charles A. Watson, Clyde E. Glas, Binger Hermann, John H. Hall, Edwin Mays, Franklin P. Mays, Clark E. Loomis and Edward D. Stratford for conspiracy.

August 2—Case against George Sorenson for conspiracy.

August 6—Case against Binger Hermann, John N. Williamson, Franklin P. Mays, Willard N. Jones and George Sorenson for conspiracy.

August 13—Case against Frank E. Alley, A. R. Downs, Edward D. Downs and Rev. Stephen W. Turrell.

August 14—Case against John Henry Booth, for accepting bribe.

August 15—Case against James Benson, for perjury.

August 16—Case against Claude Thayer, Clark E. Hadley, Maurice Leach, Walter J. Smith (since deceased), Thomas Coates, John Tuttle, Charles E. Hays and G. O. Nolan, for conspiracy.

August 17—Case against Herman K. Pineh, Thaddeus S. Potter and Bert Blauvelt for conspiracy.

August 18—Case against Charles A. Graves, Erwin N. Wakefield, Ora L. Parker and Robert B. Foster, for conspiracy.

August 20—Case against C. Sam Smith, and Dr. Van Gesner, for conspiracy.

August 21—Case against George Sorenson, refusal of case for offering bribe to John H. Hall, then United States District Attorney.

The case against State Senator Geo. C. Brownell for subornation of perjury was passed for the present.

Thin People.

Thin, scrawny, fleshless people are usually nervous, irritable, bilious and dyspeptic. Every change of weather affects them; if they happen to eat or drink anything containing disease germs, it develops at once, and they are the first subjects of any contagious disease coming in the neighborhood. Their life is a continual worry in their efforts to avoid exposure to damp and malarial atmospheres. People can gain from one to three pounds of solid healthy flesh per week by the use of Dr. Gunn's Blood and Nerve Tonic. It puts their system in condition to resist sickness. This Tonic is in tablet form, to be taken right after meals. Sold by all druggists for 75c per box or three boxes for $2. It turns the food you eat into strong rich blood. This prevents and cures disease. People tell us who have used the Tonic that it cures them, then keeps them from getting sick afterward.

This English Language.

Chicago News.
That "policy" which a man gets from an insurance company is no relative of that other word "policy" which the president, for instance, may use in dealing with the beef question. The latter is a lineal descendant, along with "polity" and "police," of the Greek "polis," a city. But the former is of the Latin "politicum," "politicum" or "politicum," a register wherein dues were enrolled which is believed to be really the Greek "polyptichum," a document folded into many leaves. If so, the development of the word may be paralleled by that of "diploma," the parent of "diplomatist," which meant simply a document folded double.

"Spanking" did not suggest chastisement originally. It was unknown to Johnson in this sense. To him a "spanker" meant "a person who takes long steps with agility." Rapid motion seems to be the root of the word "spank," which is not merely representative of the sound of the act, as "slap" and "smack" are. The low German "spakker" or "spenker," to run and spring about quickly is close to the original meaning. Hence a "spanking pace," a "spanking breeze."

Strictly speaking, a "journal" should be a daily publication, although the word no longer has that limited use. The case of "journey" is exactly comparable. Even to Chaucer it still meant a day's progress, and in the fourteenth century it was possible to speak of one country as being "52 journeyes" distant from another—a "journey" being reckoned usually as twenty miles.

Why the Whistle Blew.

Cleveland Ledger.
An Irishman was run over and killed by an express train and his widow sued for damages.

One of the witnesses swore that the locomotive whistle was not sounded until after the whole train had passed over Mr. Ryan.

Then the attorney for the railroad thought he had him.

"See here, Mr. McGinnis, you admit that the whistle blew?"

"Yes, so; it blew, so."

"You were Mike's friend and would like to help the widow, but tell me now what purpose there could be for the engineer to blow the whistle after Mike had been run over and killed?"

"I suppose that the whistle was for the next man on the track, so."

Indigestion.

With its companions, heart burn, flatulence, torpidity of the liver, constipation, palpitation of the heart, poor blood, headache and other nervous symptoms, sallow skin, foul tongue, of fensive breath and a legion of other ailments, is at once the most widespread and destructive malady among the American people. The Herbine treatment will cure all these troubles. 50c bottle. For sale by D. J. Fry.

Deadly Snakes.

Of deadly snakes, which is the most fatal? Mr. Claude E. Benson supplies an answer in an interesting paper on venomous reptiles in the Cornhill. The most dangerous snake is, it seems, the African mamba, one of the largest of the cobras. It flies at everybody and everything; it goes out of its way to quarrel; it will even come down from a tree to solicit an interview. Over in India there is the great king cobra, or hamadryad, a size larger, quite as fierce—it has been known to chase a man on horseback; he had to ride for his life—but its poison is a degree less virulent. The difference, however, may be considered negligible, and ceases to interest the patient after a few minutes. Among the Australian coxas, the pitvipers of America and the great west African vipers there are species with evil reputations; and the most alarming feature is that the aggressive snakes are all desperately poisonous.
