SOME STRANGE TRIALS

A trial which carries us back to the middle ages has just been concluded at Delemont, in the canton of Soleure, Switzerland. Last January a house was broken into and robbed, and its owner, a rich man named Merger, murdered. Suspicion fell on a certain Scherer and his son, who, on being arrested, while confessing the crime, averred that Merger was first attacked by their boarhound, which pulled him down and killed him before they plunged their knives into his breathless body. This line of defense resulted in the arrest of the hound, which was placed in the dock beside its masters. The jury, having found the three prisoners guilty, says London Tit-Bits, the judge sentenced the two Scherers to imprisonment for life and the dog to be shot.

In 1849, at the time when Hungary rose in revolt against the dominion of Austria, a dog belonging to a Magyar patriot chanced to bark at an Austrian officer. This harmless demonstration was construed into a treasonable act, and in default of the dog's owner, who could not be found, the animal was arrested and tried by court-martial. Fortunately for the prisoner, it by chance displayed a marked liking for the presiding officer, on whom it fawned affectionately, and who, considering its present conduct a sufficient indication of regret for its erstwhile disloyalty, ordered its acquittal.

An amusing trial took place at Breslau in 1825, when a pig was hailed before the magistrates, charged with a savage assault upon the burgomaster, whom it had chased through the town and bitten in the leg. The lawyer who was retained for the animal's defense pleaded that his client had mistaken the civic magistrate for one against whom it owed a grudge, and was ready to offer full apology for its misdeeds. the presiding magistrate thereupon remarked, with much solemnity, that the prisoner's correct attitude had undoubtedly saved its life, and that a fine would meet the merits of the case. This was duly inflicted and paid by the pig's owner, who was then permitted to lead the delinquent out of court.

Mhow, in central India, was the scene of a court-martial of an elephant accused of having killed his native keeper. With its neck encircled by a chain firmly attached to the collars of two other elephants, the culprit was led between a double file, consisting of all the elephants of the station, to the place of trial. When it had been firmly secured, the brigade major and staff rode along the line, halting within a few rods of the prisoner. Then, having produced several sheets of foolscap, the brigade major proceeded to read the charges, with the evidence for and against the culprit, who was ultimately found guilty and sentenced to forty-eight lashes with a chain and to drag about for three months a log attached to its leg. The first part of the sentence was carried out by a powerful elephant, who, wielding the chain with its trunk, belabored its fellow-pachyderm most unmercifully.

Although it can scarcely be called recent, the case of a gardener's ass which in 1768 was tried at at Nimes on a charge of sacrilege, may be here cited. Its master, having left it for a few minutes, the animal strolled into a church, the door of which was open, and, seeing a basin of holy water, took a drink. Caught in the very act, it was called upon to answer for its iniquity. Counsel was appointed for its defense, but so irrefutable was the evidence that a verdict of guilty was a foregone conclusion. The ass was sentenced to be hanged, and afterwards burned, while the gardener was mulcted in the costs of the trial.

"IT SAVED MY LIFE"

PRAISE FOR A FAMOUS MEDICINE

Mrs. Willadsen Tells How She Tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Just In Time.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I can truly say that you have saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words.

"Before I wrote to you, telling you how I felt, I had doctored for over two years steady and spent lots of money on medicines besides, but it all failed to help me. My monthly periods had ceased and I suffered much pain, with fainting spells, headache, backache and bearing-down pains, and I was so weak I could hardly keep around. As a last resort I decided to write you and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful that I did, for after following your instructions, which you sent me free of all charge, I became regular and in perfect health. Had it not been for you I would be in my grave to-day.
"I sincerely trust that this letter may lead every suffering woman in the country to write you for help as I did."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of an organ, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. Refuse all substitutes.

For 25 years Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, has under her direction, and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIver, of Vanceboro, Me., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation, caused by a neglected cold; but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life." Guaranteed best cough and cold cure, at J. C. Perry's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

The Light of the Sun.

From a comparison of the relative intensity of solar, lunar and artificial light, as determined by Professors Euler and Wollaston, it appears that the rays of the sun have an illuminating power that is wonderful in the extreme. According to their deductions, the illuminating powers of the "great day star" is equal to that of 14,000 candles at a distance of one foot, or of 3,500,000,000,000,000,000,000 candles at a distance of 95,000,000 miles. From the above figures it follows that the amount of light which flows from the solar orb could not be produced by the daily burning of 200 globes of tallow, equal to the earth in magnitude.

Cheerfully Recommended for Rheumatism.

O. G. Higbee, Danville, Ill., writes, Dec. 2, 1901: "About two years ago I was laid up for four months, with rheumatism. I tried Ballard's Snow Liniment; one bottle cured me. I can cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from like affection. 25c, 50c and $1. For sale by D. J. Fry.

DREAM MYSTERY.

The Events That May Be Crowded Into a Few Seconds.

The duration of a dream is so seldom accurately measured that a story published in the St. Louis Medical Record is worth repeating.

The writer, a doctor, was seized with an uncontrollable drowziness during a call and was struggling to keep awake when he was asked by his companion, "How long may you stay in B.?" His answer, which came promptly enough, was, "That depends on the Western Union," and catching himself, he explained that he was expecting a telegram. In fact, however, his answer related to the facts of a dream which had been sandwiched between the two parts of the sentence.

After hearing the words "How long" the doctor had dozed off, dreamed that after long and tedious experiments he had invented a wonderful apparatus for holding telegraph poles in a vertical position, had negotiated with the postal company for its sale, but unsuccessfully, and had finally gone to the authorities of the other company. They, in the dream, told him they were considering a German invention for the same purpose, and the dreamer crossed the ocean to examine the rival device, returned, explained the differences to the intending purchaser and was writing a reply when he woke in time to hear the end of his companion's question.

The events of the dream had apparently consumed months, yet the actual time that elapsed was merely that required for uttering about four short words.

Twenty Year Battle.

"I was a loser in a twenty-year battle with chronic piles and malignant sores, until I tried Bucklin's Arnica Salve; which turned the tide, by curing both, till not a trace remains," writes A. M. Bruce, of Farmville, Va. Best for old Ulcers, Cuts, Burns and Wounds. 25c at J. C. Perry's drug store.

Paid for the Opinion.

Shortly after Chief Justice Purley of the court of appeals of New Hampshire had retired from the bench and resumed the practice of his profession a man called on him to get his opinion in a certain matter. After stating his case clearly he said, "Well, judge, what do you think of my case?" The judge promptly replied, "I think you are a scoundrel." "How much do I owe you for that opinion?" inquired the client. "Ten dollars," demanded the judge. The fee was promptly paid.

Only 82 Years Old.

"I am only 82 years old and don't expect even when I get to be real old to feel that way as long as I can get Electric Bitters," says Mrs. E. H Branson, of Dublin, Ga. Surely there's nothing else keeps the old as young and makes the weak as strong as this grand tonic medicine. Dyspepsia, torpid liver, inflamed kidneys or chronic constipation are unknown after taking Electric Bitters a reasonable time. Guaranteed by J. C. Perry, druggist. Price 50c.
