NEW BOOK BY MARY McLEAN.

After two years in the depths of retirement Mary McLean, the Butte, Montana, literary genius, is to bring a new book on the world.

It is to be very unlike her first work. In fact it is to be very different, so different the public would not know the first Mary McLean to be the author.

The writer was an obscure Montana girl when she wrote her first book. It caught the ear, the eye and the attention of the world—that is the little American world.

It was a shocker, an astonisher, but harmless. Now it is thought to be legitimate to attract the attention of people to be able to tell them some greater truth. That is what we are to expect of Mary's next "coup de grace."

Notoriety, publicity, fame of a certain quality has not spoiled Mary McLean. It is said she is original. When refreshments were served at a Butte reception, to which she was invited as an entertainer, more than a guest, she said: "Now I suppose we shall all proceed to get our feet in the trough." She had never been at a small crush at the Capital City. It was a very rare thing to say at a society gathering.

RANDON BY THE SEA.

The Randon Biscuits for July 12th. A. T. Fetter, editor, comes to hand in twenty-two-page illustrated edition, a boom edition for that live town of Southwestern Oregon.

Although one of the smaller harbors on the Oregon coast, Randon is able to make a showing something like the equivalent of 425 carloads of exports for the year ending July 1st.

This is without counting the lumber products, which is over twenty-five million feet, board measure, besides large shipments of pine for telephone and telegraph lines.

During the year mentioned 108 steamers entered the port and 268 other vessels entered and cleared the harbor of Randon. Seven ships were built there the past two years, including steamers.

From the Randon one can get a very good impression of the varied resources and enterprises of this little gem of a city in Southwestern Oregon, which has many claims to be considered as a future summer resort.

Woodburn Woman Hurt.

Mrs. A. M. Ogle, of Woodburn, who is spending the summer at Newport, met with a severe accident Sunday afternoon. She was picking up agates on the beach at Nye creek, when a breaker rolled in. She attempted to run from it, stumbled and fell, fracturing her left hip. Had not assistance been at hand she would have been carried out into the surf.

No doubt Pauline Bigelow has been invited to join the president's excursion to Panama, where his thorough knowledge of the situation acquired in that twenty-eight hour visit, will prove invaluable to Colonel Roosevelt.

Pale? Thin?

How is it with the children these days? Have they plenty of grit, courage, strength? Or are they thin, pale, delicate? This reminds you of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It does great things for children. It gives them a good appetite, improves their digestion, builds up their general health. Ask your doctor if he endorses this.

STATE NEWS

Forest Grove will not build a new city hall, as contemplated, on account of lack of funds.

Fruit men about The Dalles are afraid the excessive heat of the past week has damaged their crops.

Crossed wires in the central exchange at Forest Grove Monday caused a fire which done $200 damages.

J. P. McRee, a well-known resident of Corvallis, and a pioneer of Benton county, died at his home in Corvallis Saturday.

Portland preachers are roasting parents for allowing their children to visit "The Oaks," the pleasure resort at that place.

The largest hay crop in the history of Harney county is now being harvested there. There is a great scarcity of laboring men.

A tree bearing 23 distinct varieties of fruits and nuts is growing on the farm of Thomas Glaze, near Albany. It is certainly a wonder, and contains all kinds of peaches, plums, prunes, almonds and walnuts.

The Creffield Sway.

Creffield dead seems to sway his deluded followers with a malignancy of force and purpose unknown during his earthly career. The cold, calculated, deliberate murder of George Mitchell on Thursday evening by his sister for whose honor and salvation he had already put his life and soul in jeopardy, was an emanation of the vile cult of which Creffield was the high priest, that should, at least, operate as a climax so far as the law of the land is concerned. Every one connected with the nasty band of degenerates, as votary, or as neophyte, should be rounded up and placed within the walls of the handiest asylum. That they are radically insane is the utter limit of kindly consideration. The law has dillyed with the monstrous thing too long, and should assert itself before the next, and inevitable, horror is developed. Such people as they are a constant menace to the peace and moral dignity of any community they shall infest; the people at large are devoutly anxious for their entire and final subjugation and will soon take a hand in the matter if something in the way of radical relief is not furnished by the courts. Toleration ceases to be a virtue when murder, suicide and limitless hermitism, are the main tenets and practices of any group of people, whether carried on under the guise of religion, or enacted in the honest course of undisguised human passion. Creffieldism must go!—Astorian.

Body Identified.

The man found dead near the poor farm Sunday afternoon has been identified to be Chris Nelson. The identification was made by Mrs. Carl Beatty, of Chemawa, who went to P. J. Clark's place yesterday and identified the pipe and hat as those belonging to Nelson. For the past six months Nelson had been living in Eastern Oregon, but returned to Chemawa to visit his aunt, Mrs. Beatty, a few days ago. He left her home Thursday, purchased a ticket for Salem and came to this city and found his way across the river in search of work.

Patent Medicine.

A man that compounds or invents something that is just a little better than the next best thing, is certainly entitled to the best share of the profits to be derived from the sale of the article. So he patents or copyrights to protect his interests. Patented goods are good goods, poor goods are never patented. We have twenty years of trial behind us to give us the assurance that we have the best medicine compounded for the cure of dyspepsia, sick headache, biliousness, indigestion and all stomach disorders. We protect the public as well as ourselves by keeping the formula a secret, as long as we make it we know it is made tight and it cures these diseases. Druggists tell us that it is the one medicine that the sale is ever on the increase. To get the best remedy for dyspepsia or indigestion ask the druggist for Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills, price 25c per box; only one for a dose.

A Pleasant Way to Travel.

The above is the usual verdict of the traveler using the Missouri Pacific railway between the Pacific coast and the east, and we believe that the service and accommodations given merit this statement. From Denver, Colorado Springs and Denver there are two through trains daily to Kansas City and St. Louis, carrying Pullman's latest standard electric-lighted sleeping cars, chair cars and up-to-date dining cars. The same excellent service is operated from Kansas City and St. Louis to Memphis, Little Rock and Hot Springs. If you are going east or south, write for particulars and full information.

Back from Canada.

Rev. Ezra Maurer, presiding elder of Salem district, has returned from a five weeks' visit to his native province, Ontario, Canada. He reports having had a very pleasant time. Both his father and mother died since his previous visit home. Mr. Maurer's father, who died last March, had been a minister in the Canadian conference for about 25 years. A sister, who returned with Mr. Maurer, is at present visiting a sister in Portland, but expects to make her home at Salem.

X-RAYS

There is a proverb that covers some local cases. It says: "Every man will protect every woman against every man—except himself."

Congressman Newt Williamson did not draw his mileage. It will also be noticed that he has not yet drawn his sentence.

It was Virgil who wrote "Arma Virumque caedo," which has been somewhat liberally translated "A man, a gun and a dog." A rather deadly combination, but nothing to getting a few yards of calico in charge of the butt end of a pistol.

Chorus Girls in Demand.

The investigation of the district attorney's office to discover the motive for the killing of Stanford White by Harry K. DRAKE MAKES KICK

State Law Board Has no Jurisdiction in Determining Water Rights

The dispute over the water rights in the big irrigation scheme at the town of Bend, in Crook county, came before the state land board this morning. The Deschutes Irrigation and Power Company was successful so far as the action of the state land board has jurisdiction, and the question of title to water rights will probably be carried into the courts by the protestant, A. M. Drake, owner of the townsite of Bend, and a big sawmill owner.

The Deschutes Irrigation and Power Company, successor to the Pilot Butte Development Company, asked the state land board to recommend to the general government favorable action on its application for a patent for 53,000 acres of government land in the country under the ditch they are building. The state engineer went to the site of these operations a few weeks ago, and in his report the state land board recommended to the government that the company be granted a patent on 24,000 acres of land.

Mr. Drake, representing the townsite company, and his own sawmill interests, appeared before the board this morning, and objected on the grounds that the Deschutes Irrigation and Power Company does not have title to sufficient water to irrigate 53,000 acres of land, and has not shown title to enough water to supply 24,000 acres.

The state land board held that the question of title to water rights is one for the courts to settle, and that the board has no jurisdiction in the matter.

The board will make the recommendation to the government that the company be granted a patent to 24,000 acres.

McCormick

The word that is forever immortalized by the machinery having that name.

The pioneer harvesting machinery that has always led the van, and that is always used as a standard for comparison.

"As good as a McCormick" is the favorite argument of many a salesman for inferior machines.

What we always invite the intending purchaser to do is to scan every feature of all machines, then come and look at the corresponding points in the McCormick.

They will always be found superior in the vital features, the things that really count for something.

GOVERNOR ISSUES PARDON

Following closely on the heels of his pardon of the notorious Paddy Lynch, of Astoria, doing time in the state penitentiary for "shanghaiing," Governor Chamberlain yesterday afternoon pardoned George J. Jackson, sent up from Multnomah county in 1897 for robbery. Jackson was sentenced to a term of 30 years and six months. The reasons given for the pardon were that Jackson is the victim of an incurable disease, and his children have agreed to take him to California, and care for him there during his remaining days.

Governor Pardons Lynch.

Governor Chamberlain has pardoned P. J. Lynch, of Astoria, who kept a sailor boarding house in the city by the sea. The reasons upon which the chief executive pardoned the man are the petition of the business men of Astoria; his excellent deportment during his confinement at the state prison; the grave doubts as to his guilt of this particular crime, and that if guilty he has been sufficiently punished; his health is in a precarious condition, and on the recommendation of the prison chaplains, Rev. Father Moore and Murphy, of Salem.

Objections to the granting of the pardon were made by the British vice-consul, Sheriff Thomas Linnville and others. Lynch had been accused of complicity in kidnaping and shanghaiing O. W. Gunderman whom he placed on board the British vessel Foloresdale March 14, 1903, and for which he was sent to the penitentiary for eight years. Theodore Robinson, who was jointly convicted with him, was given but one year.

MINING COMPANY ORGANIZED.

Joe Simon Will Engage in Mining With His Partners.

Articles of incorporation of the Page Mining Company were filed in the office of the secretary of state this morning. The incorporators are Former Senator Joseph Simon, C. A. Dolph and Frank T. Post, of Spokane. The main office of the company will be at Portland, and the capital stock is fixed at $2,000,000.

Notice was filed this morning in the office of the secretary of state that the Los Angeles Railroad Construction Company was dissolved yesterday, and the capital stock divided among the shareholders. The meeting was held in the office of William T. Muir, at Portland.

Saved from Drowning.

At the peril of his own life, Master Frank Friebert of North Salem, saved two small boys, Earl Unruh and Martin McLeannan, from being drowned in the Willamette river. The two boys were in bathing, and had reached water over their heads, and were about to go under for the last time, when young Friebert saw their danger and plunged in, with his clothes on, and saved them.

JUST READY By MARAH ELLIS RYAN FOR THE SOUL OF RAFAEL

When Keith Bryton went to Mexico to look up some mining property, he came upon a strange hill tribe of Indians. And after he had been "struck down and well—used up," as he said, he was saved and nursed back to life by a lovely Mexican girl whose name he did not learn.

Nor did he see her again until after she had married Rafael de Artega, the worthless scion of a noble race. Here is the situation at the beginning of this fascinating romance of Old California, and here are the principal characters. Perhaps you will think that the happiness of Bryton and the girl he loved so reverently are worth far more than the soul of Rafael, but they did not think so, and that is what makes the story.

And it is a splendid story, of the kind that charms without the least effort, because of its inherent strength and sincerity. The outward appearance of the book is worthy of its contents. It is not possible to adequately describe it here, but nothing more original or beautiful will be found among this year's novels.
