Portland, July 26.—Horace G. McKinley, one of the arch conspirators in the land frauds in this state, according to the Oregonian, is now on his way to San Francisco from China, and will arrive in the Bay City within two weeks.

Since his conviction last year in the United States district court of Oregon, together with S. A. D. Puter, Dan Tappan, Frank H. Walgamot and Mrs. Emma L. Watson, McKinley has traveled a considerable portion of the United States and China. Detectives on his train during a large portion of his wanderings, but he finally escaped them and went to the Orient. His bondsmen never surrendered him and he was free to come and go at will.

Indictments are pending against McKinley in this state and it was to his trial on these indictments that Assistant United States Attorney General Heney consented to his release on bonds before presenting him for sentence under his former conviction. It is expected he will come soon and submit to sentence at once on his arrival at San Francisco.

S. A. D. Puter, who was convicted with McKinley, was sentenced to two years in the Multnomah county jail to pay a fine of $7000. Emma L. Watson is in jail here, having been surrendered by her bondsmen. She is on $29,000 bonds. Walgamot and Tappan are in this city at liberty, and their call as witnesses in other

Portland, July 26.—The concluding arguments in the Nickell land fraud case occupied the day in the federal court, but the case will probably go to the jury late this afternoon. Young Gladstone studied at Oxford, where he maintained the family record for scholarship and seriousness. Speaks of Esther Mitchell.
W. T. Gardner, of Portland, superintendent of the Boys' and Girls' All Society, is in the city on official business. He will meet the members of the local society, and then go to Eugene where several children are to be committed to the home.

He is of the opinion that Esther Mitchell's mental condition is much better now than it was when she was an inmate of the home. Her actions then showed her mind almost totally deranged, but in a conversation with her during his last visit in Seattle the girl, who is 19 years of age, appeared to be in good mental poise. She spoke reluctantly concerning the killing of her brother, when Mr. Gardner approached her on the subject.

Bootblacks Will Play Baseball.
Another baseball aggregation is to come into the glare of the lime light. The bootblacks of the city are planning to organize a ball team, that promises to be a "shiner" in the galaxy of local nines. Among the boys that do the shining there are some clever artists with the willow and the leather sphere and who, when once in good training ought to be able to do things with any of Salem's baseball bunches.

New Richmond, Wis., July 26.—During a battle at Cameron dam, on Thornapple river, between the sheriff and six militiamen on one side, and the family of John Deitz, who for three years has defied courts and the Mississippi Boom Company, a soldier was killed as the officers approached, intending to oust the Deitz family upon order of the court. Dietz mounted a stump and told the sheriff he would only be taken after his rifle was empty and his body dead. The women of the family stood behind with relays of loaded guns. The officers opened fire, which Dietz returned. Dietz and his son, Clark, are probably fatally shot, but Dietz retains possession.

Bumper Melon Crop.
Grants Pass, Or., July 26.—That there will be a bumper melon crop in Josephine county, despite the slow growth of the vines early in the season, because of the cold weather, is now an absolute certainty. The hot days and warm nights of the past two weeks have brought out the melons in great shape. Both the vines and the young melons are enjoying a rapid growth, and growers report that the output will be as great from the Grants Pass district this season as ever before. The crop of apples, peaches, pears, and plums will also be large in Josephine county this year.

Barrington Not Hanged.
Jefferson City, Mo., July 26.—Today was the day originally set for the execution by hanging of F. Seymour Barrington, the bogus "Lord" Barrington, who was found guilty of the murder of James P. McCann. The execution did not take place however, as his case will be brought before the United States supreme court on a writ of error.

"Lord" Barrington appeared in St. Louis about four years ago and was apparently a man of leisure, wealth, and aristocratic lineage. He spoke of his English estates and the ownership of Melrose Castle, and captivated Miss Grace Cochran of Kansas City and they were married. The falsity of his tales was soon after discovered and a divorce was granted to Mrs. Barrington "Lord" Barrington then became acquainted with McCann, a prominent horticulturist of St. Louis. He was convicted of the murder of McCann on June 18, 1903.

Jefferson City, Mo., July 26.—The Republican State Judicial convention of Missouri will meet this afternoon for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the short term on the supreme bench and for the transaction of any other business which may come up for consideration. The attendance at the convention will probably be very light, possibly lighter than at the state convention in May, when only 650 of the 1,076 delegates were present. It is understood that there are seven candidates for the judicial nomination in the field, but it is asserted by well informed delegates that the nomination will probably be offered to Assistant Attorney General John Kennish, of Holt county. The Democrats have nominated for that position Judge Waller W. Graves, formerly of the law department of the Missouri Pacific railroad.

Many of the singers are accompanied by ladies. Some of the delegations are quite large. Milwaukee, for instance is represented by 300 men. The German singers of St. Paul and the citizens in general have made the most elaborate arrangements for the reception and entertainment of the visiting singers and have systematized everything in the most admirable manner.

In addition to the singers several thousand excursionists have come to this city, who availed themselves of the low railroad rates, which enabled them to take a trip to this beautiful city at small expense. The hotels downtown are crowded, but the visitors do not find it impossible to obtain quarters. Although the big auditorium erected specially for the Saengerfest, is not completed, there will be no change in the program of the festival as arranged by the local committee. Everything is in readiness for the opening concert tonight, which promises to be a great success.
