Rickey Defeats Brickyards.
 Twenty-five to 14 was the score in the baseball game played yesterday afternoon between the Rickey team and the Brickyard nine and Rickey was the victor. The battery for Rickey was Nash, as pitcher and Ashby as catcher. For the Brickyards Gamble was in the box and Sbedeck did the catching. The game was witnessed by a large crowd, and the rooters cheered lustily for their respective favorites.

CAPITALS BEAT WOOLEN MILLS.

Baseball Game Saturday Was One of the Best of the Local Series.

Saturday's baseball matinee was one of the best pulled off under the auspices of the Capital City Amateur league, but the manner in which the Capitols thrashed the Woolen Mill boys was not at all slow. After four innings the Capitols took mercy on their rivals and called the game off. Altogether it was an interesting exhibition of the great national game and the crowd cheered vociferously when a player came sailing over the home plate.

The story of the contest is told emphatically by the final score which was 14 to 5. At first glance it looks as though the factory boys proved a rather easy article for the representative of the state but not so. Only in the last inning did the Woolen Mills boys loose their grip on the situation and allowed their opponents to bring in 10 tallies.

The Capitols has Southwick in the box and Perkins held the big mit behind the bat. The Woolen Mills were represented by Bowen, who struck out four men and by Sheridan who did some good work in the catcher's position.

COUNT BONI TO EXPOSE "BEGGARS" IF DEFEATED.

Declares He Will Bring to Light Letters of Many Who Sought His Aid.

Paris, July 30.—Count Bini de Castellane made an almost spectacular re-entrance into society at the Austro-Hungary ambassador's garden party. Dressed in the height of fashion, the count moved superbly through the crowd that roamed the magnificent gardens, a costly orchid for his boutonniere.

Other dandies, envious, reported that his black silk cravat was tied under the personal supervision of his friend and sartorial mentor, Lebargy, the exquisite.

Count Boni, gayest of the gay, persistently approached every one of his former friends. They manifested a disposition not to see him, but he seemed to win back every one by the charm of his smile and engaging manners.

Hope of being re-elected to the chahber of deputies at the second polling in the Basses Alos district inspires Boni. Well informed politicians believe that much of the opposition De Castellane incurred at the last election will vanish under the influence which the money power will bring to help him.

He has promised to be "good as gold" toward his political enemies until after election. If he is chosen he will remain silent. He says: "If I am defeated I will bring into daylight certain begging letters written when money stood in my name—letters none too delicate and not from political enemies, I assure you."

FAITHFUL THOUGH DIVORCED

Former Wife Cared for Insane Man for Six Years

Tacoma, Wash., July 30.—For nearly six years Henrietta M. Rynerson, divorced wife of Francis M. Rynerson, nursed her insane husband, and by constant care and attention succeeded at last in effecting a cure of his mental disorder. Today Rynerson is in his right mind, and his former wife is once more happy and contented.

This story and more was told in court Saturday afternoon before Judge Huston by Mrs. Rynerson, who asked that a divorce granted her October 30, 1906, be set aside. In support of her plea she asserted that when the divorce was granted it was her belief that Rynerson was merely shamming insanity to frighten his wife and children. Two days after the decree had been entered Mrs. Rynerson, according to her statement in court, learned that instead of shamming her husband was actually insane and had been so for months. To convince herself of the fact she summoned a number of physicians, who concurred in her belief and pronounced it a case of softening of the brain.

Regardless of the fact that she was no longer the legal wife of the unfortunate man, and not wishing him sent to the asylum at Fort Steilacoom, Mrs. Rynerson has cared for him night and day, and his mind has slowly and gradually cleared and his former mental faculties have returned to him. Today he is sound of mind and healthy of body but the credit of it all he gives to his wife.

Japan to Buy Railroads.

Tokio, July 30.—The Japanese government has just announced the dates on which it will purchase the six private railroads, authorization for which purchase passed both houses of the Diet last March. The dates are as follows: The Hokkaido Tanko Tetsudo and the Koku Tetsudo, on October 1906; the Nippon Tetsudo and the Ganyetsu Tetsudo, on November 1, 1906; the Nishinari Tetsudo and the Sanyo Tetsudo, on December 1, 1906.

The aggregate sum of the purchase price will amount to 250,000,000yen, or about $125,000,000. For the purchasing sum of each railroad the government will allow the interest of 5 per cent a year, beginning with the respective date of purchase. The government will not issue these bonds until it sees fit to undertake the issues. The returns from the six purchased railroads will not only pay the running expenses and the interest, but will also yield a surplus, the exact amount cannot yet be estimated with any degree of certainty.

WOULD PATCH UP THE VENUS.

Tom Sharkey Offered $300 for Statue to Place in a Saloon.

New York July 30.—Tom Sharkey is back from his trip abroad, where he went to indulge his taste for culture. At his saloon and dance hall here tonight he dwelt with pleasure on his delightful outing. There was but one note of sadness in his narrative, and that was when he referred to his failure to purchase the Venus de Milo in the Louvre at Paris to exhibit in his saloon.

Sharkey said: "When I sees that stately, I says to meself, she certainly looks pretty dirty and badly busted, too. But if I can get Kleinfinkel, my Dutch friend on Third avenue, to put arms on her and fill in the chipped places and put a coat of clean white paint all over her, she'd do."

"I told the old guy wit brass buttons I'd be willing to give $200 or $300 for her. What do you think he says? He tells me the government paid $600,000 for the thing. I thot I'd faint. I've seen 'em half as big on Fourteenth street for $1.50."

Army's Health Improved.

Washington, D. C., July 30.—The annual report of the surgeon general of the United States army, for the year 1905, covered by statistics just available, will make such a showing as is most gratifying to army medical officers. There has been nothing like in many years, and the gratifying condition is attributed to the improvement in sanitary conditions. This is especially so in the treatment of epidemics, particularly typhoid, with which the army was seriously threatened some years ago. All kinds of devices have been adopted, after thorough trial, in the hope that there would be decided improvement in the conditions prevailing at army posts. The same precautions for health of the troops have been taken in the field, on marches and on army transports. The army medical corps is some thirty officers short of its authorized commissioned personnel but it is found possible to maintain the health of the army in a way which has not been equalled since the record-breaking year of 1897. The statistics, when available, will show a remarkable state of affairs, entirely creditable to the surgeons who have been working so hard all along for better military hygiene.

Automobiling to Cascadia.

Dr. Morse, accompanied by Messrs. Henry Dancy, F. K. Lovell, John Moir and Dr. Olinger returned last evening in his large automobile from Cascadia, after having had a very pleasant trip.

The party left Salem Saturday and when the big machine rolled into Lebanon, many said that it was not possible to make the trip in such a large auto.

The only mishap that occurred to mar the pleasure of the spin was that the driver ran the machine into deep water and the engine refused to pull them out, whereupon the gentlemen were compelled to wade, and drag the machine to the bank, but as there was two doctors in the party nothing serious has resulted from the over-taxed muscles or getting wet.

JUMPED FROM CAR.

Threw Off Boy and Then Leaped From Blazing Caboose.

The Dalles, July 30.—The experience of C. D. Bernard, a cattleman of Fossil, and his son, who were on the caboose which burned a few nights ago near Mosier, was an unusual one.

Mr. Barnard was accompanying a car of cattle to Portland. With him was his son, Alvis, 12 years old. At the time the blazing axle set fire to the woodwork of the car the boy was asleep. When the father discovered the blaze he threw the boy off, and as soon as he noticed the danger of his son rolling back under the wheels of the car, leaped to his assistance. He fell heavily and sustained injuries to his head. The boy escaped with a burned hand.

James G. King, who was also in the caboose, climbed out the front end of the car next ahead and was unhurt. Only the three were in the car at the time, and the train crew was ahead and could not be notified of the occurrence. When they did discover the flames the car was burning briskly and it was too late to attempt to save it. The train was stopped about two miles from the spot where Mr. Bernard jumped off, and the train crew went back and got him and his son.

Be a Gentleman.

She was fair stenographer
 Who wore a peek-a-boo;
 She'd skidded through a Business Course,
 And knew a thing or two;
 So when the Boss, a little cross,
 Presumed her work to scan,
 In horror-laden voice she cried:
 "Why, he's no gentleman!"

Then came a sturdy son of Baal
 And offered her his name—
 He'd put some money in the bank,
 And had a timber claim.
 She said, "My lad, you're not so bad,
 (He has a lovely tan)
 But I can never marry you,
 For you're no gentleman."

She wedded with a stunning chap

Who looked like Richard Carvel,
 Whose garments were—on Sixty per—
 A most amazing marvel.
 'Tis true he had no bank account,
 And oft times rushed the can,
 And dallied with the ponies—
 But, "he's such a gentleman."

They're living in a three-room flat
 And mostly when the rent
 Is overdue they can't "come through."
 They haven't got a cent—
 "The rent collector? Ah, just call
 Next week please, if you can."
 If he demur, she'll tell him "Sir!
 You are no gentleman—"

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIyer, of Vanceboro, Me., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation, caused by a neglected cold; but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life." Guaranteed best cough and cold cure, at J. C. Perry's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
