Ten Year Old Boy Tackled and Held Bank Robber

Cleveland, Aug. 4.—The Banca Italia, the big banking institution of the Italian residents of Cleveland, was entered at noon today by an unknown man, who took $200 in bills from the teller's counter and rapidly left the building. The president and two employes gave chase.

Little Sebastian Liotta, a 10-year-old boy, who was playing near the bank, heard his father fire a revolver at the fugitive, and surmised that a robbery had taken place, and tackled the fleeing man around the legs after the manner of a football player, and held him until the crowd gathered.

The money was recovered, the robber arrested and locked up.

The people are making a hero of little Sebastian.

ART EXHIBITS BURNED.

Destructive Fire at Milan, Italy, Consumed Many Works.

Milan, Italy, Aug. 4.—Fire which broke out here yesterday morning in the international exposition did extensive damage. The sections devoted to the decorative art of Italy and Hungary were destroyed, as also was the pavilion in which were installed the exhibitions of Italian and Hungarian architecture. The damage is estimated at $800,000.

The fire was discovered at 5 o'clock in the morning in the Hungarian section and spread rapidly to the art sections, situated in an adjoining park. For a time the British, Swiss, Japanese and Netherlands sections were threatened, but by energetic work the firemen succeeded in saving them. The jewelry and fine arts sections also were threatened, but a large force of carbiniers carried the pictures, many of them of almost priceless value, from the gallery of fine arts into the corridors of sections beyond the fire zone. At noon the fire was under control.

Some of the estimates place the loss as high as $2,400,000, which possibly is excessive. The origin of the fire is attributed to an electric short current. The authorities reject the theory that the conflagration was of incendiary origin.

Backed by Hill.

Minneapolis, Aug. 4.—The Journal says the three-cornered war among the Harriman, Hill's and Milwaukee railway interests in the Northwest is reaching an acute stage. It developed yesterday that James J. Hill is behind the Dakota Midland railway, which is about to invade the Milwaukee's territory between Sioux City, Iowa, and Pierre, S. D. The new road is to run through part of the great corn belt of Iowa, in competition with the Milwaukee. Having failed to get control of the Milwaukee in 1901, Mr. Hill has now started to parallel the system wherever possible in retaliation for the Milwaukee's construction of an extension to the Pacific coast.

J. P. Morgan and his interests are allied with Hill, and the Harriman interests are believed to be in close alliance with the Milwaukee.

Engineer Killed.

Livermore, Cal., Aug. 4.—John Gibb, the engineer of a traction engine, was instantly killed this morning. The engine ran off the tracks with three cars of ore, the wheels passing over the engineer. The fireman jumped and escaped unhurt.

PILGRIMS WERE GRAFTERS.

John D. Long Stirs Up the Descendants of the Mayflower Passengers.

Plymouth, Mass., Aug. 4.—John D. Long, former secretary of the navy, stirred up a lot of excitement here, at the tercentenary of the first church of Plymouth, by his address on the Pilgrim Fathers.

"The saints in Plymouth colony can be counted on the fingers," he said. "Some of the very select were false to their trust and used their positions to feather their own nests—faisler to the trust than any president of a modern insurance company. Within the first decade social vices infested the community; drunkenness, bickering, slander and licentiousness and even crimes against nature were common. All this took place in a community of very limited numbers. No New England village of today need fear comparison with the early Plymouth colony."

Gas Plant at Eugene.

Eugene, Aug. 4.—Actual construction of the gas plant being elected here by the Willamette Valley Company began this morning. Henry Schremser, an expert sent out by the company furnishing the tank, will have charge of the erection of the big 44,000 foot tank which is to hold the gas. The concrete foundation was finished a couple of weeks ago, and is in readiness for the holder. The outside tank, which will hold the water, will be 44 feet in diameter and the inverted tank for gas 42 feet.

The gas machinery construction company has sent W. J. Huddle to have charge of the erection of the machinery for the manufacture of the gas. The foundation for this machinery has also had several weeks in which to season.

About twenty men will be employed, mostly from Eugene. It will be necessary to send away for a few machinists and boiler makers, but the bulk of the work will be done by Eugene workmen.

Bills of lumber required for the scaffolding were made out yesterday and sent to the mills.

Manager Charles Welch yesterday afternoon stated he would let the contract today for the grading of the new well which the company is to dig on the north side of the river, opposite the pumping station.

This well will be 40x100 feet in dimensions, and dug down through to solid gravel. The walls all around will be of solid concrete, and the whole well will be covered over. Construction will be pushed as fast as possible.

While in Germany, General Duvall and General Barr, with whom he will be associated, will be considered the guest of Emperor William.

ANOTHER ERUPTION FEARED

Port au France, Martinique, Aug. 4.—Four strong earthquakes occurred in the island Thursday night. It is feared that another eruption of Mount Pelee is imminent, but as yet the volcano shows no signs of breaking out. The residents of the city are much frightened, and are preparing to flee if the quakes continue. Earthquakes similar to these preceded the great eruption that destroyed St. Pierre.

FOR THE FOURTH TIME.

Swiftwater Bill Again Sues for a Divorce.

Seattle, Aug. 4.—Tired of being sued for divorce and pursued by sheriffs attempting to collect alimony, W. B. Gates, better known as "Swift Water Bill," one of the most eccentric characters the Klondike gave the world, brought suit in the superior court to obtain a divorce from Kitty Bardou, his fourth living wife.

Gates charges his most recent wife with adultery and the woman who is lying on the sick bed in a local hospital has petitioned the court to immediately award her $3,000 for attorney's fees and alimony.

Gates married the woman, whom he is now suing for divorce, in Sacramento, California, less than two years ago. He took her with him to Alaska and she was with him during the last season when he took $1,000,000 out of his claims. Gates' matrimonial troubles have occupied the King county courts for nearly two years.

YAQUIS DEFEATED.

Mexican Troops Fight Two Days With Indians and Disperse Band of Savages.

Tucson, Ariz., Aug. 4.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Guaymas says: Lieutenant Colonel Jose Corona and 200 men have just returned to Las Guaymas, the headquarters of the Twentieth battalion, Mexican National Guard, with 30 Yaqui prisoners, captured after a battle with Indians in the Novillos mountains, which lasted two days, and in which more than 20 Yaquis were slain, and six Mexican soldiers met death, among them a sergeant named Bobles, a member of a prominent Sonora family.

The Yaquis have been raiding ranches and the roving bands had united into a force numbering 100. They had fortified a camp in the mountains, where the Mexicans advanced against them. The result of the first day's fight was doubtful, and during the night the Indians withdrew to Chiquelete, a point farther back in the mountains, whither they were pursued next day by Colonel Corona and two companies.

Near Chiquelete, Saturday, the Indians were completely routed, scattering in great disorder and leaving many dead and wounded behind.

A Collection of Important Paragraphs for Your Consideration

Melons, cheap as the cheapest, at Ragan's, Court street.

A crew is busy at work at the depot surfacing the Southern Pacific tracks. About 40 men are employed and the tracks will be put in first-class condition.

The Silver Bell Circle, Women of Woodcraft, are planning a picnic, to be held on the lawn of the Miller home in South Salem, which will take place in the near future.

The popularity of "The Maples" is growing. During the past week seven camps have joined the summer village within the grounds. A fine musical program will be given tomorrow evening, which will no doubt bring out a large crowd.

As a result of the grass fire in South Salem last evening, many other residents are getting ready to cut their grass, and thus avoid destroying property by fire. In all the streets there is an abundance of grass, so dry that even a cigar stub would ignite it, and many valuable residences put in danger. Besides, the grass looks bad, and it would add a general look of prosperity to the adjoining property, if it were cut, as well as beautify the city.

The fire alarm was sounded at 9 o'clock last evening, and the department and several hundred citizens went post haste to South Salem, where the crest of the hill beyond South Mill creek was enveloped in a mass of lurid flames. It was soon ascertained that Frank M. Brown was burning a lot of dry grass between his lot and Leslie street. The wind changed and the fire soon got beyond his control, and for a few minutes several houses were supposed to be in danger. It only required a few minutes to extinguish the fire.

Brief Telegraphic Dispatches From all Parts of the World

The Duke of Rutland, the oldest duke in the British peerage, died in London today.

Crown Princess Alberta, of Belgium, gave birth to a daughter today.

Horses Ate the Provisions. Edgar F. Averill, city editor of the Tribune; Ronald N. Oliver, the young Pendleton attorney, and G. E. Hunter, the sheepman, returned to the city yesterday after a three-week camping trip in the mountains. While in the mountains they saw one bear which they were unable to secure several deer, which they did not molest because of the law, and other things. On one occasion their horses ate up their stock of provisions, thus necessitating a trip to La Grande to replenish the same.—Pendleton East Oregonian.

Baled Moss.

About the queerest product of this section now being marketed is moss. It is baled the same as hay, and to see a load of it coming down the street, somewhat ragged as to bales, and a bright green, it makes a stranger wonder what he is up against, and if he is not growing color blind. It might be well to add the moss does not come off the backs of the old Oregonians, as some one has insinuated.
