Those saddle colored Cuban revolutionists in Cuba belong to what the printers call, the "black face type."

Dan Fry has six tons of chittim bark in storage, enough that he can defy any foreign country or even Uncle Sam himself to—take it

Lighting a candle to hunt a burglar with is the style in the Maples, also a good safety valve for the burglar, allowing him to blow off

We may be Webfoot, but anyway here in Oregon when a man is dead and buried he doesn't try to get into the swim, but anything goes in Kansas.

Now then will Kansas, Texas, California, Utah and even Nevada be good and quit pointing the finger of scorn at us "Beavers" and at the same time uttering that wearisome word "Webfoot."

Chicago's great merchant, Marshall Field, left an estate in Chicago valued at twenty-five million dollars. He was assessed for any paid taxes, on just one tenth of that sum. Marshall Field while posing as a philanthropist was just 90 per cent thief, as far as his dealings with the state were concerned.

If the scenery around Tillamook, is as good to look at as the young woman crowned "Queen of the Carnival" today, then indeed will Tillamook become famous as a resort for all who love the beautiful. Sometimes the horse-editor regrets his gray hairs (and lack of them) and wishes he was young again. He has that lonesome feeling as he jots this down.

Senator Beveridge says all law breakers are treated alike. With all due deference to the learned Hoosier senator the horse-editor arises to remark that the senator knows he is prevaricating. The wealthy corporations are fined and their officers are not punished, while the poor man is sent to the pen. When one president of a corporation violates the law is sent to the pen—the public will take some stock in the senator's statement but not otherwise

President Roosevelt has struck the most strenuous job he ever ran up against. He is undertaking to force "revised spelling" on the people, and has hit off considerably more than he can masticate.

The president will find before that spelling reform is ripe, he will have to change his "programme."

Savings Department Capital National Bank

FAY LEGROW, STOCK KING.

Owms, in Connection With Drumheller, Immense Stock Farm.

Fay LeGrow, cashier of the First National bank of Athena, is one of the principal owners in one of the largest stock ranches in the northwest, says the Athena Press.

The big cattle ranch is situated in the Crab creek country up in Washington. Last year Mr. LeGrow and the Drumhellers of Walla Walla purchased the lands and hundreds of head of Herford cattle of an English lord. An idea of the magnitude of this great ranch may be had when it is learned that 15 sections of land are under fence, in addition to thousands of acres of outside range which the company controls by virtue of water rights.

Several thousand head of cattle forage on this excellent range, for the Crab Creek lands are noted for succulent grass and plenty of it. Nearly all of the stock ranging there is owned by the company, and nearly every head is marked with the white face of the Hereford.

This year in that portion of the range under fence, 1100 head of little white-faced Hereford calves sport and play on the hillside, and next year there will be a greater number, for only barren calves and heifers are being sold out of the cow herds. An interesting sight it is to see 1100 calves in one bunch, and more interesting still, when you cannot tell "one from another," for with their well known Hereford characteristics, they all look alike to you.

Over 800 head of beef cattle have been sold from the ranch this season the greatest number being purchased by Walla Walla buyers.—East Oregonian.

Coins of the Cynics.

The following paragraphs are taken at random from a rather big store of acrid wisdom entitled "The Complete Cynic's Calendar of Revised Wisdom for 1906:"

A Pleasant Way to Travel.

The above is the usual verdict of the traveler using the Missouri Pacific railway between the Pacific coast and the East, and we believe that the service and accommodations given merit this statement. From Denver, Colorado Springs and Denver there are two through trains daily to Kansas City and St. Louis, carrying Pullman's latest standard electric-lighted sleeping cars, chair cars and up-to-date dining cars. The same excellent service is operated from Kansas City and St. Louis to Memphis, Little Rock and Hot Springs. If you are going East or South, write for particulars and full information.

Bread Line in the Far North.

The question of raising wheat in northern Canada is just now attracting considerable attention. The rapid filling up of the Canadian northwest with immigrants from Europe and the United States promises that the population will soon be pushing northward toward the limits of successful agriculture, although it will probably be several generations before any general settlement of the country beyond the borders of Saskatchewan and Alberta will be attempted. The northern boundary of these provinces coincides with the 55th parallel of latitude. Up to that border it is practically certain that wheat can be grown successfully on the wide and fertile prairies that are soon to be opened by the new railways to settlement.

Beyond the 55th parallel wheat-raising is yet more or less of a problem, though the outlook is hopeful. In small patches wheat has been grown as far north as Fort Simpson, on the Mackenzie river, in latitude 60 degrees and 49 minutes. Here wheat weighing sixty-two and one-half pounds to the bushel has been raised. Four degrees south of this place, at Fort Chipewyan, on Lake Athabasca, wheat has regularly been grown for many years, and as long ago as 1876 a sample of grain from there took a gold medal at the centennial exposition in Philadelphia. At Fort Vermillion, in latitude 58 degrees, 24 minutes, or almost 10 degrees beyond the United States boundary, there are three small flouring mills supplied by local grain. One of these mills is owned by the Hudson's Bay company, has been operated since 1902, and has a capacity of 35 barrels a day. Its product supplies the company's trading posts in the far north. At Peace River Landing, a little farther south, there are two other small mills.

Thus it is probable that the great plains watered by the Mackenzie river and its tributary streams and lakes will in time support a considerable population of wheat-growers. St. Petersburg, in Russia, is on the 60th parallel of north latitude, and eastward of that city are great wheat, rye and barley fields extending several degrees farther north. Wheat is grown, though less extensively than rye and barley, in Finland, and the northern limit of profitable wheat production ranges from about the 62nd parallel, in western Russia, across that empire in a slightly southern direction, reaching the Siberian border at about 60 degrees and thence crossing Asiatic Russia to the 59th degree on the Pacific coast. Northward of the line other grains are grown, supporting a moderate population. There is little reason to doubt that the American climate will permit wheat-growing within practically the same limits as those established for this agriculture in the interior of Russia. Wheat is more widely grown and has greater powers of adaption than any other grain, its culture extending from the tropics to the 65th degree in Norway. The climate of interior North America is, like that of interior Russia, one of the great extremes, with intensely cold winters and long, hot days through the brief summers. Nature will probably provide wheat and other grains for the support of humanity as far north as the Canadians will find climatic conditions endurable.—Tacoma Ledger.

Cures Sciatica.

Rev. W. L. Riley, LL.D., Cuba, New York, writes: "After fifteen days of excruciating pain from sciatic rheumatism, under various treatments, I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment; the first application giving my first relief and the second entire relief. I can give it unqualified recommendation. 25c, 50c, and $1.00. For sale by D. J. Fry

Was a Repeater.

One of George Gray's pack horses rolled down the embankment as he was taking Editor Brown and party to the mines last week. The animal lodged against an old log ten or twelve feet below the trail, but after the pack was removed it was found necessary to roll the animal into the river 40 or 50 feet below in order to get him to the trail. When in the trail the horse again made a misstep and again went overboard, and again stopped against the same log. No damage resulted.—Brownsville Times.

SAMARITAN HOSPITAL LEASED

W. B. Scott of Seattle Will Take Charge of Sanitarium Next Week

W. B. Scott, of Seattle, has leased the Samaritan Hospital from Dr. Cartwright, and will take charge about September 1. He will conduct a first class hospital. Mr. Scott is a graduate of Willamette University and will take a course of medicine in the medical department of the school while conducting the affairs of the hospital.

The sanitarium will not be called the Samaritan, but the new name has not been decided upon. Miss O'Keefe gave the institution the name "Samaritan," but it is not considered appropriate, as the hospital is not a charitable institution.

The hospital building will accommodate about 20 patients and has one of the best operating rooms of any hospital in the Northwest.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

A Brief Answer.

Many stories have been told about the long telegraphic messages sent by women, as if the feminine mind were incapable of expressing itself concisely. How false and slanderous such an impression is is well known by the following incident. A gentleman went to London on business. As he left he said something to his wife about buying her a new dress. Just before starting homeward he wired to his wife: "Which shall I bring you—a diamond ring or a silk dress?" The reply was concise and explicit—"Both."—Astorian

The End of the World

Of troubles that robbed E. H. Wolfe, of Bear Grove, Ia., of all usefulness, came when he began taking Electric Bitters. Sure cure for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney complaints, Blood Diseases, Headache, Dizziness and Weakness or bodily decline. Price, 50c. Guaranteed by J. C. Perry's drug store.

A SALEM CASE.

Many More Like It In Salem.

The following case is but one of many similar occurring daily in Salem. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you cannot ask for better proof than such conclusive evidence:

Mrs. S. Collins, of 679 High street, Salem, Ore., says: "Trouble with my kidneys and backache have caused me much annoyance for several years. Although I used a good many remedies I obtained no positive relief until my attention was called to Doan's Kidney Pills, and I procured them at Dr. Stone's drug store. They soon brought me effective benefit, eased the bearing down feeling through the back and loins, and banished the aching and other symptoms that had annoyed me for so long. I have since learned of others who think the world of your reliable remedy and I gladly recommend it to all suffering from backache or kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Good Wheat Yields.

Only a few farmers have begun to haul wheat in to the mills in this city, but those who are hauling report splendid yields.

W. M. Coburn, who lives near the Pringle school house had ten acres that averaged 35 bushels to the acre. The rest of his crop went 28 bushels to the acre.

William Calder, of Polk county, made 28 bushels to the acre in his entire crop.

W. M. McIntire, of South Salem, averaged 25 bushels to the acre.

In Self Defense.

Major Hamm, editor and manager of the Constitutionalist, Eminence, Ky., when he was fiercely attacked, four years ago by piles bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, of which he says: "It cured me in ten days, and no trouble since." Quickest healer of Burns, Sores, Cuts and Wounds. 25c at J. C. Perry's drug store.

Reform School Truants.

Roscoe Wilson, of Sherman county and Daniel McDowell, of Gilliam county, unceremoniously left the reform school and are supposed to be trying to make their way to Eastern Oregon over the Barlow trail. Each of them is 19 years old.

Herbine.

Renders the bile more fluid, and thus helps the blood to flow; it affords prompt relief from biliousness, indigestion, sick and nervous headaches, and over-indulgence in food and drink.

G. L. Caldwell, Agt. M. K. and T. R. R., Checotah, Ind. Ter., writes, April 18, 1903: "I was sick for over two years with enlargement of the liver and spleen, and I had given up all hope of being cured, when my druggist advised me to use Herbine. It has made me sound and well." 50c. For sale by D. J. Fry.

From Sept. 10 to 15 inclusive at the State Fair Grounds Near Salem

In both quality and quantity of exhibits, and in every other way, it will be the greatest State Fair in the history of Oregon. Never before was there such widespread interest in this institution. A visit to the State Fair of 1906 will be a liberal education. It will show you what Oregon has done, and, more important, it will point the way to the magnificent possibilities of the future. No one can afford to miss the Oregon State Fair for 1906. Few patriotic people who can spare the time will miss it.
