WILL RECOMMEND LAW OF WATERS FOR THE STATE

Water Law Conference to be Held in Salem September 10 and 11 Will be Attended by Leading Citizens of Oregon

It is difficult to overestimate the importance of the water law conference that will be held at the state house in Salem September 10 and 11. The conference was first called by the Portland Board of Trade, and has been taken up and endorsed by the leading water users and irrigators of the state. At the meeting a general discussion will be held regarding the laws for the use of water for agricultural, mining, domestic, commercial and manufacturing purposes. A bill will be recommended to the next legislature for the establishing and recording of vested water rights and providing for a new administrative system, which will eliminate from enterprises depending on the use of water the doubt of the legal status of water rights and the expense attached to defending those rights.

All persons interested on the passing of a new water law are invited and expected to attend this conference.

Leading irrigation experts, practical farmers and horticulturists, business and commercial men, state officials and legislators and mining men will be present and will give the meeting the benefit of their views.

The personnel of the conference will be:

The governor and other state officers; officers of the United States reclamation service; members of the present and of the next legislature; members of the 1904 commission; leading private citizens of the state; three delegates from each commercial club or similar organization in the state; three delegates from each water users' association in the state; three delegates from each company working under the Carey act.

People residing in the Willamette valley are especially interested in the conference, as it is generally conceded that no portion of the state is more vitally interested in irrigation than this valley.

The meeting is one of the most important conferences that will be held in the state during the year and a large attendance is expected.

CLEAN STREETS SECURED

Two Fine Thoroughfares Assured for State Fair Week

Mayor Waters, co-operating with the city authorities and the state and state fair officials, has been able to secure the cleaning and sprinkling of the two principal thoroughfares during state fair week. Commercial and Twelfth streets from the river to the Southern Pacific depot, and Liberty street and the fair ground road from State street to the fair grounds will be freed from rocks and rubbish and sprinkled so as to be entirely free from dust. It is going to take all the sprinklers that the city and state and government have to accomplish this, and it will take all the water that can be got at conveniently. But it will be done thoroughly for the first time in the history of the city. The state fair will have the largest attendance in its history, and the Capital City will be put up to the standard of other civilized communities, and it will be done without passing a subscription paper among the business men, a system that always takes the public spirited while the knocker stands back and lets the good work go on with his usual generosity.

Deserves the Bouquet.

A Salem lady who lives near 19th and Bellevue streets, deserves the bouquet as a flower lover, as she grows large quantities of floral beauties, and has to carry all the water used in raising them from the well. She carries from 50 to 100 buckets daily to irrigate her pets, and as a result enjoys blooming health. It would be hard to decide which is the prettier, she or the big baskets of flowers that are the result of her hard labor. There is no city water to be had in that part of Salem.

Herbina.

Renders the bile more fluid, and thus helps the blood to flow; it affords prompt relief from biliousness, indigestion, sick and nervous headaches, and over-indulgence in food and drink.

G. L. Caldwell, Agt. M. K. and T. B. R., Checotah, Ind. Ter., writes, April 18, 1902: "I was sick for over two years with enlargement of the liver and spleen, and I had given up all hope of being cured, when my druggist advised me to use Herbina. It has made me sound and well." 50c. For sale by D. J. Fry.

DECORATE STREETS FOR FAIR

Council Will Probably Approve Money for Arch of Welcome

A well defined effort is on foot to have the city council appropriate a small sum of money to erect an arch at the corner of State and Commercial streets to signalize the welcome that Salem will extend to the entire state during the state fair.

In connection with this plan it is suggested and the suggestion is meeting with hearty approval, that all the citizens in the business portions of the city decorate their houses and stores as they did during the Fourth of July festivities.

The approaching state fair will no doubt be the biggest exposition ever held in the state, with the exception of the Lewis and Clark fair last year, and it will mean a great deal for the city of Salem in a hundred different ways. Thousands of visitors will be here from all parts of Oregon and from other states, and the people of the city feel like not only giving the visitors a hearty welcome, but in making them feel so by decorating the main thoroughfares of the city.

It will not be a very expensive movement on the part of the citizens to put up elaborate decorations, as a great many people have lots of flags and bunting on hand that was bought to use on the Fourth of July. A few additional purchases will place everybody in shape to dress the city in a gala attire when the guests arrive.

Another Bank.

The Bank of Sherwood, Washington county, filed its incorporation papers today in the secretary of state's office. The capital stock is $25,000, and the incorporators are: L. S. McConnell, Arthur W. Hall and Fred J. Epler.

Galveston's Sea Wall

Makes life now as safe in that city as on the higher uplands. E. W. Goodloe, who resides on Dutton St., in Waco, Tex., needs no sea wall for safety. He writes: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption the past five years, and it keeps me well and safe. Before that time I had a cough which for years had been growing worse. Now it's gone." Cures Chronic Coughs and prevents Pneumonia. Pleasant to take. Every bottle guaranteed at J. C. Perry's drug store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

GOING TO BOOST FOR SALEM

Many Delegates Going to the Forest Grove Convention.

Several Salemites have signified a willingness to attend the Forest Grove Development Convention September 7. That beautiful college city is making great preparations to entertain the Willamette Valley Development League. The city will be filled with people, music, flowers and fruits and grains. Mayor Waters will talk on electric lines in the Willamette valley; City Superintendent J. M. Powers will boost for Salem as an educational center; Hal D. Patton will boost for the state fair and try to persuade the people of Washington county to come to Salem the following week in a body. Many other Salem business men are going to the Forest Grove meeting.

On Saturday, September 1st, The Capital Journal will get out a special Development Edition in color, and will reach all the towns and cities of Western Oregon with a large special edition. This edition will be devoted to the cause of the State Development League that is to meet at Salem during state fair week for three days, and The Journal will labor to swell the attendance to one thousand delegates.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
