DEVELOPMENT THE WORD.

The Journal will print all the news about city and local affairs, and will not shield any man or SUPPRESS ANY FACT OR TRUTH about public matter.

The scandals about the police department, accusations against aldermen, and threats of exposure of private citizens by public officials will receive FULLEST PUBLICITY if they become public property of record.

But this paper is not hunting for such stuff to fill its columns. It is deeply interested in the development of the community along other lines, street improvements, new railroads, industries and enterprises.

PATROLS ARE OF MORE IMPORTANCE to this community than airing scandals. There should be at least 500 men employed on public works. We should have miles of oiled streets, instead of three blocks.

Those things will come if we all work for them, and make them the main purpose of our activities. The game of politics must be left to the professional who works that sort of thing.

There is no development for the community at the hands of the man who has such a low conception of public affairs as to try to work his private graft all the time.

He is the very opposite of the public-spirited citizen who takes sane, wholesome and healthy views of life. From President down to member of the city council and school board NEW IDEALS PREVAIL.

The grafter is a savage in public affairs. He belongs to the age of the dugout, the cave dweller, the highwayman. All people shun him. The community must go on without him.

The development of this city, school district, county and state is enough to engage THE BEST EFFORTS OF PUBLIC-SPIRITED MEN regardless of party. To that class this paper will constantly appeal.

Salem should go forward at a rapid pace. Our finest streets should be paved. More electric lines should be built. The lines to Silverton, Mehama, Dallas and McMinnville will be built.

These matters will have the attention of The Journal in preference to low and dirty personal politics. The low and dirty politician WILL NOT ESCAPE PUBLICITY, but our greatest efforts are elsewhere.

X-RAYS

Some things can be learned even from a negro—ask Nelson.

The news of the fight Monday afternoon, in many of the rounds stated, "Gans had a shade the best of it." The fact is Gans had several "shades" the best of it from the start.

Geo. B. McClellan, mayor of New York, says professional politicians are needed. He should either wait with that assertion until after the next mayoralty election in New York, or else have added—at home.

A Wonderful Record.

As made up by improved and exact processes Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. It cures the backache, periodical headaches, the dragging-down distress in the pelvic region, the pain and tenderness over lower abdominal region, dries up the pelvic catarrhal drain, so disagreeable and weakening, and overcomes every form of weakness incident to the organs distinctly feminine.

Henry Wade Rogers, dean of Yale university law school says. A successful lawyer may remain honest. But then you see Henry Wade Rogers is only a dean and not a successful lawyer, and therefore Henry Wade, knows not whereof he speaks

Josef Brunner in Field and Stream and Farm advises killing all cats that run in the fields because they will kill quail and other birds, depriving the sportsman of his pleasure in shooting them. If Brunner's logic is good why not take a shot at Brunner, or any other sportsman?

The Domestic Cat.

The track and trail of the house cat (if it were only a house cat I should not say anything about it here) is too well known to need description. If it is found anywhere in the great outdoors or in parks, etc., the finder will do a favor to all lovers of nature and its useful feathered denizens if he, where possible, will set a trap baited with fish, herring or cheese; that is, if there is no chance to fill that varmint's anatomy with pellets from a shotgun or a 22 rifle or to cut it apart with a big rifle bullet. It may seem a waste of powder and lead but it is not, for, in the writer's opinion, there is no more harmful creature afoot or a-wing than the domestic cat outdoors. It would be vain to attempt to put down the figure of damages in hard dollars which they do by killing songsters which nature intended to restrain insect pests and to gladden the hearts of those laden with cares and worries.

As far as the sportsman is concerned, a single cat will often deprive him of his shooting in a given locality for, if it has once found the location of a bevy of quail or grouse or other game birds, it will not stop until the last one of the family is killed. Wild predatory animals generally restrict their raids to the hours considered night; a domestic cat will prowl and kill at any hour during the twenty-four of a day. Some specimens attack even deer-fawns and other game of like size. A cat shrinks from nothing in its lust for killing—not even from water.—Josef Brunner in September Field and Stream.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. Oh, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by J. C. Perry, druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Dogs at Maryland State Fair.

Timonium, Md., Sept. 4.—The 26th annual state fair opened here today. It is by far the biggest fair ever held in this state and presents many novel features never before introduced on that occasion. One of the most interesting features, in addition to the customary agricultural display, is the dog show, which will be made a permanent fair feature, if it should prove a success this year. Should it prove successful, a bench show under the auspices of the American Kennel Club will be held in connection with the next year's fair.

Some Family.

The French chamber of commerce in Brussels founded recently a prize to be competed for annually by the parents of the greatest number of well cared for children. Senator Piot was chosen to act as judge in this delicate task. Your correspondent announced a few weeks ago that this year's winner was Isidore Amet, aged 43, whose wife, aged 39, had borne him 19 living children. Now it is announced that a second prize of $100 has been given to a couple named Gillin, living at Rivier. Madame Gillin has also 19 living children and in the past 15 months has given birth to seven children. The Gillins are bracketed in the place of honor now with the Amets.

Robinson Crusoe—A study in Economics.

Appropos of the study of Robinson Crusoe in the school are the following paragraphs from an article by Dr. Hill, published in Watson's Magazine: "When the average boy spends the delighted hours of imaginative youth in devouring the pages of Robinson Crusoe, he has, like most people of mature years, no idea that he is perusing a work of profound philosophy, written by one of the greatest political thinkers of the English-speaking race. "Taken with a knowledge of the facts of the career of Defoe, Robinson Crusoe can properly be considered a story intended to illustrate the heavy burden of trouble placed upon any single individual isolated from his fellows, and compelled to maintain his existence without their aid. The tale shows in an inimitable way how all civilized men are interdependent. Regarded from this point of view, the author of the most widely read work of fiction ever written becomes an object of particular interest to all thinkers upon politics."

Crowell on Bear Hunting.

All of a sudden, the bushes in front exploded and shot out a bear that looked big as a Carnegie library. He saw us and at once stood up on his hind flukes and exposed a half-acre of many bosom to the enemy. Little did he dream that he was confronting two of the dearest shots since the days of Daniel Boone. He appeared quite careless, in fact. Schwartz was still wrestling his gun while we were frantically trying to cock ours, not noticing that it had been cocked by some blam'd idiot before.

JIM'S SWEETHEART.

Mother put on her Sunday best, Her lilac wedding gown, And white straw bonnet neatly tied With strings of faded brown; We woke before the rooster crowed, And started in the dew To see the boat race, for our Jim Was captain of the crew.

He took it in his curly head

To want a college course; I parted with the pasture lot And sold the sorrel horse. We sent him every dollar saved, And made a seedy pair, In garments that had legs outlived Their days of useful wear.

The surging crowd closed up in front

We could not see our son, But soon a mighty cheer went up And told us Jim had won. The crowd took up the college yell And sent it to the skies, And college colors everywhere Shook out their brilliant dyes.

He stepped ashore, looked up and saw

His mother's wrinkled face, And hurried to her through the ranks Of broadcloth, silk, and lace; He never gave a single glance Towards the pretty girls, But kissed her on her withered lips And kissed her silvery curls.

His sunburnt face was glorified

With proud and happy smiles; He did not mind because her hat Was years behind the styles, And led her out before his friends, A figure quaint and prim In stiff old fashioned lilac silk—"My sweetheart, boys," said Jim.—Leslie's Weekly.

ABSCESS.

ABSCESSES with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation or debility. W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes, Aug. 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord's drug store (who is now in Denver Colo.). He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment; I got a 50c size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world." Sold by D. J. Fry.

"Say, Weary, wot's contemp' of wealth?"

"It's de finest kind o' contemp' you can feel. A man wot has it would give up a thousand dollars a day sooner 'n work for it."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
