

DICK WINS IN OHIO

Foraker Combination Finds a Soft Seat in the Shape of Taft.

Dayton, O., Sept. 12.—There is much excitement today, the second day of the Republican convention. Dick's antagonists are not satisfied with his selection again as state chairman, and a motion was introduced at the convention request him to resign. Amid the uproar Foraker stepped to the platform and defended his colleague.

Dayton, Sept. 12.—Dick was supported by a vote of 573 to 285. His opponents refused to make it unanimous. The platform was adopted containing the "Dogfall" plank on the revision of the tariff.

WE MAY HAVE TO INTERFERE

Uncle Sam Is Lending Warships to Cuba to Prevent Trouble.

Washington, Sept. 12.—There is much activity in the state, navy and war departments on account of the Cuban situation. Major E. F. Ladd, a trusted officer of the secretary of war's office, started for Havana on a "month's leave of absence to attend to private interests." It is thought the government means to have an army officer present in case of trouble.

Washington, Sept. 12.—The cruiser Denver, it is announced today, has been ordered to Havana, and should arrive there late today or tomorrow. The gunboat Marietta, now at Santo Domingo, has been ordered to Ceinuegos. These orders have been issued by the President from Oyster Bay. The Des Moines will await orders at Key West.

Havana, Sept. 12.—The city is in an uproar since the people heard the United States had ordered three ships here. It is rumored that the whole fleet is coming. The insurgents are recruiting in this city. Reports are constantly coming of rebel successes. Many believe Palma is unable to cope with the situation.

Havana, Sept. 12.—The situation is worse than since the outbreak began. Many want intervention, and others strenuously oppose it. American ships are certain to complicate matters. The feeling is general that there will be no peace until America restores it.

Schooner Is Safe.

Seattle, Sept. 12.—The schooner Norman Sunde, which it was feared was lost, arrived this morning. She was lashed alongside the schooner Louisa off Cape Scott, and they pounded each other in the heavy sea. Part of the Sunde's rill is gone and her headgear is damaged. The damage to both vessels is slight.

Suit Against Rogers.

Boston, Sept. 12.—The supreme court denied the motion to vacate the order referring to the auditor the suit for $50,000,000 brought by Cadwallader M. Raymond, against H. H. Rogers and others. The suit is for alleged breach of contract in non-payment of royalties on a secret process for making petroleum non-explosive.

Has Nothing to Brag Of.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Littlefield's claim that Gompers aided rather than defeated him is believed here to be literally true. Early in the campaign a determined effort was made in Littlefield's district to get his scalp, led by the Lewiston Journal, the organ of the late Bingley. The issue was wholly local, but Littlefield was in great danger until Gompers "butted in" at psychological moment. The people objected and Littlefield's opponents were beaten.

Hotel Collapses.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 12.—News reached here today of the collapse of the Hotel Gomez Farias, in Chihuahua, burying 42 people and killing four. The building was old, and rain caused the disaster. J. H. Moulters, an American, is among the injured.

Killed More Russians.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 12.—Four prisoners in the Mardin jail were killed and 14 wounded by guards during an attempt to escape.

This Lie Is Permissible.

Findlay, O., Sept. 12.—Rockefeller plead not guilty late yesterday. All the Standard defendants pleaded the same, and demanded separate trials by jury.

Chicago Markets.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Wheat, 69 1/2 c; corn 46 1/2 @ 46 3/4, oats 31 1/2 @ 32 1/4.

Sprains.

S. A. Read, of Cisco, Tex., writes, March 11, 1901: My wrist was sprained so badly by a fall that it was useless; and after using several remedies that failed to give relief, used Ballard's Snow Liniment, and was cured. I earnestly recommend it to any one suffering from sprains Sold by D. J. Fry.

DIAZ WILL RULE

Grim Old Dictator Will Make Short Work of the Revolutionists

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 12.—With the view of minimizing the danger of an outbreak September 16, when the revolutionist demonstration is expected, Governor Creel, of the State of Chihuahua, has ordered the mayors of the cities to close all saloons September 15, and not permit them to open until the 17. President Diaz has sent similar instructions to every other governor of Mexico.

Talking by Mail.

That magnetism can be localized is the discovery which forms the basis of the remarkable invention known as the telegraphone.

This machine performs five different functions. First, it receives dictation; second, it reproduces the dictation; third, it reproduces at a distant point, the machine being under control at that point; fourth, it records conversations between two persons over the commercial telephone lines without in any way interfering with the operation of those lines, and, fifth, it records automatically, in the absence of the subscriber from the office, messages coming over the line during such absence. The machine being under the absolute automatic control from the ordinary performing function of the telephone line, the ringing of the bell starts the machine, the machine sends a signal over the line to the party talking, notifying him that the machine is running, taking down his message and then automatically stopping.

Many business transactions are carried on daily over the telephone, and the day is at hand when telegraphone records will be made of each and every transaction and filed away for reference. The telegraphone is destined to take the place largely, of the present stenographer, and no business or professional man will think of writing his business letters, lectures or sermons.

Mr. Poulson, the inventor, has in a later machine replaced the cylinder for the recording wires by steel disks about 4 1/2 inches in diameter and about 1-20 of an inch in thickness. The portability of these disks, the susceptibility of receiving records on both sides, the instantaneous erasure of records at will and the absolute secrecy of the subject matter of the record, leads one to believe it will in the future be a means of inter-communication superior to letter writing.

The machine that performs all the wonders I have described is extremely simple in construction. Imagine a piece of fine steel wire stretched between two points, the coil of an electro-magnet connected with the secondary of an induction coil, the primary of which is in circuit with a microphone and battery. This is the telegraphone in its primitive form.

On speaking into the microphone, induced currents of electricity produce continuous variations in the field strength of the electro-magnet, and if we slide the electro-magnet along a steel wire the magnetic fluctuations of the electro-magnet affect the steel wire in the form of variable magnet intensities. There have been impressed on the steel wire undulations of magnetization, a kind of writing that is permanent and which faithfully records the articulations of the voice.—Address by Dr. Z. B. Babbitt before American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Rules for Modified Spelling

The rules for the modified spelling suggested by the President are summarized by the New York Sun as follows:

1. When offered a choice between ae and e, choose e. Examples: Aesthetic, esthetic, medieval.
2. If the choice lies between e and o, choose e in words like abridgment, lodgment, acknowledgment, always omit the e.
3. Use t in the place of ed for the past or past participle of verbs ending in s, sh or p. Examples: Dript, dript, prest, distrest, husht, washt.
4. Stick to e in preference to ee when you have a choice. Examples: Defense, offense, pretense.
5. Don't double the t in coquet, epaulet, etiquette, omet.
6. When you can replace gh with f, do it. Example: Draft.
7. Better still, get rid of gh altogether. For plough write plow. For through write thru.
8. Write the Greek suffix ise or ize with the z preference. Examples: Catechize, criticize.
9. Where any authority allows it, omit the e in words spelled with ite. Example: Preterit.
10. Use a single l in words like distil, instil, fulfil.
11. Omit one l from words now written like fullness. Example: Dulness.
12. In words sometimes spelled with one and sometimes with a double m, choose the short form. Example: Gram, program.
13. In words spelled with oe or o choose o. Example: Esophagus.
14. Always omit the u from words sometimes spelled with our. Examples: Labor, rumor.
15. Where you can get any authority use f in place of ph. Examples: Sulfur, fantasm.
16. In words spelled with a double use a single r; as bur, pur.
17. Spell theatre, centre, etc., in the English way—center, theater, niter, miter.
18. If a word is spelled with s or z in root, use the z; as, apprize, surprize.
19. From words spelled with so or s omit the c. Examples: Simitar, sthe.
20. Omit the silent terminal ue when allowed. Examples: Catalog, decalog, demagog, pedagog.

Jolly Lot of Visitors.

In spite of the copious showers, all trains arriving in the city are crowded with people who are flocking to the fair grounds and filling all the available rooms in the hotels and rooming houses. This morning hundreds of visitors visited the various state institutions, the capitol and other public buildings. The rain has not dampened the enthusiasm of the visitors, and no long faces are seen among the throng.

Balloon Ascension.

The balloon ascension yesterday was one of the most attractive features of the day. A large crowd witnessed the ascent, which was a success in every way. There was not even the shadow of a breeze and the big sphere shot straight for the zenith. The parachute worked like a Yankee on a raft, and came down as gracefully as a butterfly, or some white-winged spirit of the upper elsewhere, drifting down to take a look at their kindred beauties gathered at the fair grounds. This will be a feature of the fair every day, weather permitting.
