WE HAVE GOT TO STAND IT.

The Oregonian will not say that part of the water supply of the people of Portland is taken from the Willamette river.

It will not say that it is not. IT DOES NOT HAVE TO and no one can make it say anything about it. After saying the Willamette river was little better than an open sewer, it would be hard to admit that Portland people are using it to drink.

After publishing that the State Board of Health has found typhoid germs in the water of the Columbia and of the Willamette, and warning the valley towns against it, IT WOULD BE HARD TO ADMIT Portland uses it.

So we have to put up with what ever it sees fit to print about our water supply and get no satisfaction from any dangerous admissions it might make if it told the truth about Portland's water supply.

It don't have to print the truth about the Portland water supply but A HIGH SENSE OF DUTY compels it to intimate about so often that the water supply of the other valley towns is contaminated.

We wish we could teach the Portland newspapers to be fair and courteous to the rest of the state. But it can't be done. We will have to give it up and take what they give us.

LABOR FIGHTER TURNS.

Secretary Hamm, of the Chicago Typothetae, has resigned his position to become manager of one of the largest printing establishments in Chicago.

The Typothetae is the organization of employing printers which is fighting the typographical union.

THERE IS A TIDE

In the affairs of men, which taken at the flood leads on to fortune. The tide is at the flood for you right now, if you will begin saving regularly a part of your wages and continue doing so, depositing your savings each week or month in our Savings Department, where they will earn interest.

It will surely lead on to fortune.

Savings Department Capital National Bank

In his former position Mr. Hamm's duties were to endeavor to disrupt the union; in his new place he will be obliged to TREAT UNION MEN WITH COURTESY and work in harmony with the union.

Formerly, Mr. Hamm was telling the people that non-union labor was superior to union; he will now retract his earlier utterances and proclaim that all skilled craftsmen are members of the union. Within an hour HIS OPINION on the closed shop as a harmful institution WAS CHANGED to the belief that the open shop represents all that is reprehensible in the industrial world.

The Capital Journal does not attempt to judge as to which of his opinions Mr. Hamm should adhere but cites the case as an example of what wonders a change of viewpoint will work in some instances.

THE STOPPING FRATERNITY.

"The Stoppers" are an ancient and honorable fraternity in this community, and all towns have more or less of them.

Salem has had MORE THAN ITS SHARE of the citizens whose chief industry consists in laying awake nights to head off improvements.

In ten years more improvements have been stopped than have been allowed to go forward.

The Masonic temple that was all planned and provided for was "stopped."

The improvement of South High street that WAS ALL ARRANGED FOR has been "stopped."

The improvement of North Commercial street, that was all petitioned for has been "stopped."

The improvement of Court was all arranged for several times but up to date the soft-walking but effective "stoppers" are ahead.

The opening of North Commercial street HAS BEEN SUCCESSFULLY "STOPPED."

When all the people get wise to the methods of the "stoppers" and give them a dose of their own anaesthetic and soporifics?

HOODLE LEGISLATURE METHODS

In the October number of McClure's, C. P. Connolly tells about Senator Whiteside's famous fight for the integrity of Montana, and how he led in the exposure of Clark's bribery of the legislature.

Senator Whiteside is one of the most striking figures that has appeared in a narrative abounding in dramatic characters.

Mr. Connolly describes him as "peculiarly a man of action, reserved and intense, who DID NOT KNOW THE MEANING OF CAUTION, much less of fear."

His career throughout the "bribery session" was remarkable. Having decided, at the beginning of the senatorial fight, when Clark's men began to approach him with bribes, to break up the whole band of hoodlums, he went about his purpose with a singleness of aim that no threats or promises could turn. Nothing daunted him.

When five of Clark's lieutenants, hearing that something was in the wind, escorted him one night to the back room of a deserted office building, accused him of bad faith, and informed him that if he were about to play the traitor he would never leave the room alive, Whiteside acted his part so coolly and convincingly that the Clark men apologized AND LENT HIM ONE OF THEIR GUNS to take home with him.

The story of the famous $30,000 which was entrusted to Whiteside for the purpose of buying the votes of three senators, is one which holds the reader's breathless and unflagging interest.

From the time the money went into his hands until the moment when the clerk of the legislature held up the government notes before the assembled body, and "the spectator could have heard a thistle-down roll up the aisle of the house," one exciting incident follows another in a manner that recalls the novels of Dumas.

Whiteside's memorable speech after the reading of the testimony marks the climax of the most interesting chapter of this serial which has yet appeared.

X-RAYS

What Rockefeller really needs is another hand. It makes the old bald-headed sinner sick to think he can't pat the public on the back without getting at least one of his hands out of the same public's pockets.

If the Cubans really insist on fighting Uncle Sam the horse editor suggests that instead of Funston, Dr. Blalock be put in charge. He has managed several rabbit drives on his own island, and knows how to "take 'em clean as he goes."

The East Oregonian with its "fonetik" fad in its issue of Friday, in speaking of a suit against the Northern Pacific says: "Points are 'razed,' in the case which if won, will invalidate the entire holdings, etc." Now what does our good contemporary mean by "razed?" Brought up or torn down? The East Oregonian has a pretty bad spell, but it is justifiable in spelling "furnisht" any old way, as that is where he lives.

A giddy young thing, evidently wrestling with the first dream of love and dawn of a mustache that would make a caterpillar green with envy thus turns loose the flood of his onomasticon in the Baker City Herald: "As the early morning sun rose tinted the eastern sky and the hills of Baker City awakened to greet the king of day, in the Catholic cathedral as the big clock struck seven, two young people were united in the bonds of holy matrimony by the Rev. Father Cantwell."

Mrs. A. F. Ramsey took the prize at the Crook county fair, for having the greatest number of children. She only had six with her at the fair, and the prize was 2500 shingles. Evidently big families are no great "shakes" in the bunch grass country. Still there enough to "shingle her heirs."

Jake Goetz, of Spokane, familiarly known as "Dutch Jake," will have a fine monument built over a dead jackass that he used in packing when he discovered the Bunker Hill mine in Idaho. The only remarkable thing about a jackass having a fine monument, is, that this one has, or had, four legs.

What the Cubans really need is a czar and a little "Russianizing." This is indeed a happy thought for the Cubans have on hand such a splendid collection of political "bums." (This word is correct but it is in fonetik dress).

Yom Kippur, the Jewish day of atonement, was observed generally by all Jews, Friday. This may do for that race but the average gentle should have a day of atonement at least once a week, and then he would be somewhat shy.

Winston Churchill when he ran for governor forgot to heed the sign at the railroad crossing and came out of the collision pretty badly "shook up."

Dyspepsia

Is an indication that the stomach and other digestive organs are weak, tired or debilitated. It causes no end of aches and pains and is most common where people bolt their meals and hurry and worry as they do in this country.

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures dyspepsia—it has "a magictouch" in this disease. For testimonials of remarkable cures see our Book on Dyspepsia, No. 5. C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

A Reasonable Plea For the Stomach

If Your Stomach Is Lacking in Digestive Power, Why Not Help the Stomach Do Its Work—Especially When It Costs You Nothing to Try?

Not with drugs, but with a reinforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach. Scientific analysis shows that digestion requires pepsin, nitrogenous ferments, and the secretion of hydrochloric acid. When your food fails to digest, it is proof positive that some of these agents are lacking in your digestive apparatus. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but these natural elements necessary to digestion, and when placed at work in the weak stomach and small intestines, supply what these organs need. They stimulate the gastric glands and gradually bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been subjected to critical chemical tests at home and abroad, and are found to contain nothing but natural digestives.

London, Aug. 1905.

I have analyzed most carefully a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I bought myself at a city chemist's shop for the purpose), manufactured by the F. A. Stuart Co., Temple Chambers, London, C. E., and have to report that I cannot find any trace of vegetable or mineral poisons. Knowing the ingredients of the tablets, I am of opinion that they are admirably adapted for the purpose for which they are intended. (Signed)

JOHN R. BROOKE, F. I. C., F. C. S.

There is no secret in the preparation of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Their composition is commonly known among physicians, as is shown by the recommendation of 40,000 licensed physicians in the United States and Canada. They are the most popular of all remedies for indigestion, dyspepsia, water brash, insomnia, loss of appetite, melancholia, dysentery and kindred disease originating from improper dissolution and assimilation of foods because they are thoroughly reliable and harmless to man or child.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are at once a safe and a powerful remedy, one grain of these tablets being strong enough (by test) to digest 3000 grains of steak, eggs and other foods. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest your food for you when your stomach can't.

Ask your druggist for a fifty-cent package or send direct to us for a free trial sample package and you will be surprised at the result. F. A. Stuart Co., 64 Stuart bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Bishop Scadding has been consecrated and will soon be scudding for his Oregon diocese. Here's hoping the new Episcopal prelate will have good skidding.

Portland is getting all the benefit of the Harriman development work in Oregon, and has a million dollar a year payroll from the Harriman offices there. Yet Portland is putting up a bitter fight on Harriman. Perhaps natural.

Today the new schoolma'am's make-up will be inspected by hundreds of thousands of American youths. The way she wears her clothes, how she does up her hair, how well she can control her temper, and how she walks across the floor, will all be noted. In the case of a man teacher the kids will also make a note on whether he wears pointed-toed shoes.

Oregon could be filled up with people a great deal faster if the railroads were not hauling two persons to Alberta for each one they bring here. Oh, well, they will all be back after while.

Any old kind of a minstrel troupe can get a crowded house at Salem. We are like other places.

The latest scheme to sell lands in Alberta, B. C., is irrigation. They forget to announce that ice can be put up at almost any time of the year.

Almost anyone can practice law, but not many can make a living at it.

Speaker Cannon has no presidential bee, allowing T. T. Geer, of the Pendleton Tribune, to be the judge. He is about as good a judge of the bee business as there is in Oregon.

That Rainier banker has been let go. It would be highly improper to convict a banker of anything in Oregon.

The way to stop the stopper of public improvements is to stop trading with him, stop employing him, in short stop him.

Rev. Charles Scadding was consecrated bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church of Oregon at Chicago Saturday. He starts for the scene of his labors Tuesday.

Twenty-five men are employed in the coal mine at Medford. Machinery is on the ground, and buildings are being erected. Medford thinks she has the Simon pure article.

Chittim bark is rapidly advancing in price, six cents now being paid for old bark. There was but little bark peeled this season, and prices are likely to go much higher.

George Gross, so says the Eugene Guard, killed two deer at one shot, recently near that place. One of them weighed, dressed, 200 pounds. Gene Simpson, of Corvallis, will tonight ship 200 Chinese pheasants to Kansas. The price paid for them is not known, but it is known they sold above $2.50 a bird.

The government fish hatchery on the Clackamas is preparing to handle the fall run of chinooks, and fishing will commence this week. The hatchery can take care of ten million eggs.

Word from Seio says that soon the construction of an electric line will be commenced from that place to Salem, and extending from Seio up Thomas creek and Crabtree, where the timber will be tapped in the Cascade mountains.

A man-eating shark was caught in the bay near Newport Saturday morning. It was 10 feet long, weighed 600 pounds and had a mouth big enough to take in a coal oil can, without trouble.

A band of outlaws with headquarters on Long creek in Grant county, and whose principal occupation has been stealing horses, has been broken up and its members arrested. They will be tried at the next regular term of the Grant county circuit court.

Leo Hickman, a 13-year-old delivery boy, was knocked down and seriously hurt by an automobile in Portland Saturday. The auto was driven by E. Becker, Jr., and is said to have been running 20 miles an hour.

The funeral of Hon. D. S. K. Bulck was held at Roseburg Saturday afternoon, and was conducted with Masonic rites by Hon. W. I. Vawter, grand chief patriarch of the grand encampment, assisted by Hon. W. A. Carter, grand master, and E. E. Sharon, grand scribe. All the lodges in the city took part, and business houses were closed. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect

How To Find Out. Fill a bottle or common glass with water and let it stand twenty-four hours. A sediment will settle to the bottom. This is a sign of kidney trouble. If you have any of the following symptoms, you are probably suffering from kidney trouble. Frequent urination, pain in the back, etc.

There is comfort in the knowledge often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, neuralgia, and every part of the urinary system. It corrects inability to hold water, and scalding pain in passing it, or effects following use of liquor, wine, beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go during the day, and to get up several times during the night. The mild, but extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the largest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle and book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.
