START YOUR BOY TO SCHOOL

In a Complete New Suit
He's a right to look as well as any other boy; he should feel he is the equal of any boy in his class. It is not necessary to be extravagant in order to get the best clothes.

We know from actual experience that there is no other clothing for boys which in any way approaches that which we are offering. We were fortunate to secure from the makers the privilege of handling their line for this vicinity; of all the other lines we have at different times had in our store there has never been one to compare with what we now offer. Clothes for service; clothes the boy can't spall in a day.

CARING FOR THE NEEDY

Victims of the Storm Near Mobile Find Shelter in the City

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 2.—It is reported that 100 soldiers lost their lives at Fort McRae, near Pensacola, in the recent storm. Officers, with their wives and families, were engulfed, and the post swept away.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 2.—All sufferers from the south coast will be brought here and housed until homes can be rebuilt. Additional deaths during the storm are reported hourly. The schooners Nevertell and Ethel Stafford foundered and five persons were drowned. The weather is still stormy and the sea unsafe.

Scale Mount McKinley.
Seward, Alaska, Oct. 2.—The Cook party climbed Mount McKinley September 15th. At the top the temperature was 15 degrees below zero. The day was cloudy and the party's two barometers refused to work, so they were unable to tell the exact height, but they estimated it at 22,800 feet. The party climbed one of the two pinnacles, which divide the summit of the mountain.

The news was brought to Seward in a letter from the agent of the Alaska Commercial Company at Sunrise and came to Sunrise by the inlet steamer Tyonik from Tyonok. On account of the favorable weather, Cook decided to make another attempt, having once given up for this year. It took the party four days to make the trip up and back from the base. The party is expected to be in Seward within the next couple of days. The party is now at Seldovia.

A POINT ABOUT CUT GLASS

To be beautiful cut glass should be absolutely white as well as perfectly cut and polished. However, nearly all cut glass looks white when seen by itself, but a great deal of it looks dark when seen alongside a real white piece.

We sell the white kind and ask you to compare it with any bought elsewhere.

White, brilliant, perfectly cut, and a lasting polish are points in favor of our cut glass.
