IMPROVE COUNTY COURTHOUSE.

Estimates Will Be Made and Bids Asked for by County Court.

Mr. Boothy, who erected the Marion county court house, has been commissioned by the county court to make a complete investigation of the needed repairs to the building and report to the court what the probable expense will be. It is then likely that the court will ask for bids for the work.

It was not the intention of the commissioners at this time to overhaul the building and make all the needed improvements, but as there have been several fall deliveries, it was thought advisable to have repairs and changes made on that part of the structure. Just at that time the county clerk asked for more records and office fixtures, and it was decided to investigate the condition of the whole building on the whole theory that it will probably be cheaper to have all the work done at once, and that it will be done in a more satisfactory manner than by piecemeal.

Mr. Boothy says that the fourth story of the building, which is unfinished, was left in that way in order that when additional room was needed, partitions could be placed in and a half dozen good offices constructed. To make this available an elevator will have to be put in, but other than this the cost will be insignificant. Additional room is also needed by the county recorder.

ARCHBISHOP CHRISTIE.

Will Take Part in the Dedication of St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

Preparations are being made for the grand dedication of St. Joseph's Catholic church of this city, October 28th. The sermon for the occasion will be delivered by Archbishop Christie, of Portland, the brilliant prelate and orator. It is expected that various rectors from this diocese will be in attendance at this service, which will be most impressive and solemn in character. The interior of the church has recently undergone renovating and beautifying. The work has been executed artistically and St. Joseph's is now one of the most beautiful houses of worship in the denomination.

NOT EVEN A FIN.

Alderman Downing Had Poor Luck Fishing, and Had to Throw Down His Friends.

Alderman Downing has returned from a fishing trip to Newport. It is believed that he had the usual fisherman's luck, as he failed to make his promises good. When he left for the shores of the sounding sea, he called his colleagues of the council together and told them what a great fisherman he was, and that he intended to send each of them, the mayor, Recorder Moores and the street commissioner a hundred weight of fish each. He never so much as sent a fin.

Ingenious Fire Alarm.

The State Agent Company, of Portland, handling the Brown Fire Alarm goods, has established a branch here in Salem, and a contract with the city is pending for some of the articles for the use of the city fire department. The fire alarm sold by the firm is a very useful and ingenious one. The alarm is so arranged that an increase of temperature in a room will ring a bell in the house, will alarm the fire department, the telephone and telegraph offices, or, in a hotel, will ring a bell in the office, and indicate the room where the fire started. There is also an automatic sprinkler that will put out a fire and shut off the water when it is extinguished.

Motion Was Overruled.

Judge Burnett this morning overruled the motion made in the circuit court a few days ago by Attorney Carson to set aside the former order of the court dismissing the jury, and continuing the damage suit of Anderson against Aupperle. The other motion, asking that Dr. Hawk, of Jefferson, be held in contempt of court for giving false information as to the condition of Valentine Thurman, was given no official cognizance by the court. Subsequent events at Jefferson have justified the physician.

The Stork Came.

Dr. W. C. Hawk, of Jefferson, is in the city today and reports that his patient, the main witness in the Anderson-Aupperle damage suit to be doing nicely after the advent of the stork, which interesting event transpired yesterday.

Searchers Are at It—

A number of complaints have been made against the reckless riding indulged by some of the students who are attending the East school. It seems the boys vie with one another in getting down town, and this to the peril of pedestrians. This "scorching" is not limited to students, but other bicyclists are flagrantly violating the ordinance governing bicycle riding on the sidewalks. It is believed that several arrests will follow if this scorching is kept up.
