THEY SUFFER IN JAIL JUST LIKE MEN SALEM BEGINS AN ERA OF PAVED STREETS

SMELLS LIKE A PAVEMENT

Lithic Goes Down On State Street

Estimates Submitted for the Completion of About One Thousand Feet

There was a large attendance of states street property owners at the city hall last night to hear the details of the first paving contract discussed. It was an enthusiastic crowd. The ice was completely broken. There was not an objector present and it was apparent that the Capital City had entered upon an era of permanent improvements.

Engineer Wm. B. Chase, who has made the plans and specifications for the committee on streets, was present and explained the proposed improvements. He has been assisted by Wm. Bushey.

Mr. Downing made a statement on behalf of the committee, saying the work was of such importance that it had been the desire of the committee to have the best kind of assistance.

Mr. Chase explained that an average of (Continued on page two.)

TRAINS SNOW BOUND

Relief Train With Provisions Headed by Snowplow to Their Relief

Denver, Oct. 24.—The Rock Island has sent a relief train bearing food to the 1100 passengers snowbound on three trains at Limon, Colby and Genoa. There is plenty of coal and considerable food aboard, and there is no danger. No freights are moving. Snow plows are expected to open traffic soon.

SHEPHERD FOUND GUILTY

Prineville, Or., Oct. 24.—The jury this morning returned a verdict of murder in the first degree against Fred Shepherd for killing Ben Zell. Shepherd is a farm hand, and was employed by Zell. He became infatuated with Mrs. Zell, and shot his employer without provocation.

COAST HARBOR WORK

Government Beginning to Realize Necessity for Increased Activity

Washington, Oct. 24.—Indications all point to a greater and growing interest on the part of the government in waterways improvement on the Pacific coast. The address of Representative Joseph Ransdell a few evenings ago before the chamber of commerce in Los Angeles, has been commented upon most favorably, and this verbal endorsement is to be given substantial form by the appearance of Secretary of State Root at the Trans-Mississippi Commercial congress in Kansas City next month.

At the Kansas City conference the secretary of state will speak on "The Possibilities of Establishing Direct Trade Relations Between the Mississippi Valley States and the South and Central American Countries." A general betterment of the nation's rivers and harbors, it is understood, will be the burden of the cabinet officer's address. It is manifestly impossible for Mr. Root to go so far afield as the Pacific coast, especially at this time. His compromise is Kansas City.

One feature of Congressman Ransdell's speech at Los Angeles that has been especially commended, is his criticism of conditions at San Pedro, where a large part of the water front at that harbor has been given over to corporations. His warning that the government looks with extreme disfavor on expending public funds for the advantage of private interests—individual or corporate—is expected to carry weight. When the expenditures for river and harbor improvement work are increased from a scant $19,000,000 to $50,000,000 annually (a condition the National Rivers and Harbors congress is striving to bring about through pressure on congress) this sum will be expended for the benefit of the greatest number, and corporations will be looked upon with suspicion.

The renewed vigor with which construction work on the Panama canal has been undertaken is an added reason seen why development of Pacific coast harbors should be rushed. With the opening of the canal, the volume of traffic flowing through that big channel to and from the coast cities will be enormous, in the opinion of commercial experts. If the harbors are not made ready to care for the largest ships, half of the value of the canal practically will be lost.

The belief is growing that improvements on the natural waterways of the United States and the coast harbors should be begun at once and keep pace with the progress of the work in Panama. Without ports adequate to receive the tide of commerce that will set in from the canal when the final shovelful of earth is tossed out of the big ditch, the wonderful engineering problem that baffled France is taxing the energies of the United States will be of little commercial advantage to this country.

The General W. H. Gibson Monument Unveiled.

Tiffin, O., Oct. 24.—The monument erected in honor of the late General Wm. H. Gibson, the warrior orator, at Tiffin, was unveiled today before a representative gathering of Ohio citizens. The monument commission, composed of Governor Harris, Secretary of State Layton, Auditor Gilbert, Dr. D. D. Rigger, E. N. Taylor and Frank Madbury, started the project. The monument was erected at a cost of $18,000, of which $10,000 was appropriated by the state and the balance by the G. A. R. and admiring friends of the deceased general.

THEY POSE AS MARTYRS

Locked Up the Bailiff Licked Policemen and Went to Jail

London, Oct. 24.—Ten women suffragists arraigned in court today were bound over to keep the peace for six months. The women were displeased, as they hoped to pose in jail as martyrs. They were literally thrown from the court into the crowds outside.

The women attacked the policemen left in charge of them, after their refusal to leave the building, took the key from him and locked him in the court room. The other officers had a hard fight to regain the key. The women began haranguing the crowd outside, and finally Miss Parkhurst was rearrested and the reserves forced the mob to disperse.

London, Oct. 24.—The women agitators were given two months imprisonment for refusal to give peace bonds. Women crowded the court room and cried "shame, shame." For protesting against the decree Miss Parkhurst was sentenced to two weeks. While trying to quiet the crowds, the policemen suffered severely scratched faces.

MUST ALL PAY TAXES

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 24.—The supreme court today sustained the city ordinances of Chicago, forcing street railways to furnish enough cars without overcrowding and maintaining a temperature of at least 50 degrees, keeping the cars clean and ventilated. The case was brought to the supreme court on an injunction granted by the circuit court.

A mortgage has been filed to the United States Mortgage and Trust Co., as trustee to secure an issue of $5,000,000 first mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds of $1000 each due in 1935. The new road opens up one of the most important districts in this part of the states.

Church Conflict in Spain.

Madrid, Oct. 24.—The conflict between church and state is constantly growing more tense. The government having declined to acknowledge receipt of the communication from the five bishops who recently met at Burgos and sent a letter to the government violently protesting against the "anti-Christian movement" will tonight seek an audience with the king. It is understood that they will tell his majesty they will call on the populace not to obey laws which violate the rights of the church.

Arrests Probable.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Wash., one of the treasury officials, expects arrests in connection with the St. Louis sub-treasury shortage at any moment. It is said the accountants have already found some one has subtracted over $60,000. The counting is still progressing.

MUST FURNISH CARS

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 24.—The supreme court today decided mortuary and other funds of fraternal insurance companies assessable, and declared the legislature could exempt no property not specifically exempted by plain language in the constitution. The court granted an injunction restraining the American Telephone and Telegraph Company voting stock acquired in the Kellogg Switcheboard Company, sustaining that such action would permit them to control the switchboard business, to the detriment of public policy.

Cayuse Beef.

North Yakima, Wash., Oct. 24.—The carcasses of three dead horses were found Tuesday in different places near this city in the woods, where they had been dressed and put in shape the same as beef that is prepared to go on the block of the meat dealer. The attention of the authorities has been called to the find, and an investigation made.

It is believed by some that the horses were killed for the purpose of disposing of the meat in this city. The finding of these horses is believed to account for animals that have been missing at various times, and which never showed up again to their owners.

Will Contest Will.

New York, Oct. 24.—Mrs. Herman Oelrichs today filed objection to the probating of her husband's will here on the grounds that Oelrichs was a resident of California.

OBJECTS TO NEW LAW.

St. Louis, Oct. 24.—Addressing the convention of underwriters this morning, E. E. Rhoades, of New Jersey, attacked the policy of the states in recent insurance legislation. He said the policy was reversed. Where formerly it enforced husbanding the resources, to make the companies stronger, it now forced the distribution of the surplus, weakening the companies. He said this tends to tempt companies to distribute more than they should. He attacked the limited expense, uniform policy and other features of new legislation. The agents are sightseeing this afternoon.

TO MAINTAIN PRIVATE ARMY.

Portland Grain Exporters Are Hunting Trouble.

Portland, Oct. 24.—The Portland striking grain handlers this noon rejected the final proposal made by the exporters. The prospects are that there will be no more peace conferences, and hostilities will be resumed. The employers are planning to arm the strike-breakers with Winchester.

Says "Nigger" Lied.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 24.—Mrs. Hartje was on the stand in the Hoos perjury trial this afternoon, and declared as absolutely false all the statements of the negro made in his deposition attacking her character, which deposition was introduced in her divorce case.
