LEGISLATURE IN PENDLETON

The informal meeting of the members of the Oregon legislature to be held at Pendleton on October 30, is unique in the history of eastern Oregon. It will be a historical event. It introduces a custom which the Capital Journal hopes to see continued perpetually.

It meets the ideas of Hon. Frank Davey of this city who would bring the legislature close to the people.

There should be several sessions of a mock legislature BEFORE THE REAL THING TAKES PLACE.

Let us have some public gatherings right here in Marion county and instruct the delegation what it shall do!

A meeting at Macleay to discuss the Tuttle road law WOULD BE A GOOD THING.

We cannot get the law making power too close to the people.

A dozen measures were put to a Referendum vote at the last election.

We predict that the Referendum will be taken ON ONE-HALF THE IMPORTANT BILLS passed by the coming session of the general assembly. The Pendleton session will be a hot number in Oregon political history.

The Strength of Hearst.

The New York World commenting editorially on Hearst sizes him up as an able and astute politician, and evidently thinks he will win. It says:

In his speech in Marathon Mr. Hearst said: "If we don't win this time we'll try again and again if need be, until we do win." In his Binghamton statement he said:

"I have spent over $100,000 in the attempt to have the people's votes in New York City counted. I have not yet given up the fight and

SAVING VS. SPENDING

The spending habit leads to momentary pleasures, lasting regrets and after to an old age of poverty.

The saving habit means thrift and prosperity for the present, and a competence for old age.

Open a savings account now and begin to save for the future.

Deposits of one dollar or more draw three per cent interest.

Savings Department
Capital National Bank

I am in this campaign to continue the struggle of last year."

These utterances are fair warning that a defeat by a small plurality will not be accepted by Mr. Hearst as final. Unless crushed by an overwhelming adverse vote he will still be the most prominent figure in the national Democracy. He will endeavor to take Mr. Bryan's place and out-Bryan him in the utterance of the gospel of discontent. He will aspire to the Presidency upon a platform of cumulative grievances.

Those who are confident that Mr. Hearst will be overwhelmed in the vote may underestimate the power of his personality and the strength of his position. His election is more than possible.

A man who could take two nominations for congress from Murphy, then denounce him as a jailbird and later make use of him again; who could organize a new municipal party almost in a night and nearly be elected mayor; who could without a record of public service get 200 delegates in the national convention of the Democratic party to support him for a Presidential nomination, and who has now captured the organization in the state of New York with a second new party composed of both Democrats and Republicans, who hail it with enthusiasm though it has not a single national issue that his captive Democracy has not disavowed—the man who can do all this is a very able politician.

Mr. Hearst profits in public estimation by acts of political astuteness on his own side and by folly and apathy in the opposition. He has prevented the renomination of some bad legislators and he may aid in preventing the re-election of a few more. For this he is justly commended. He knows, as a politician, when to stand firm and when to surrender. He surrendered to Murphy in the matter of the deal judiciary ticket. But despite the reckless disregard of public interests which for political reasons would seek to put boss-made judges upon the bench for 14 years, let no one forget that the Deal ticket, balanced to give each interest a slice of the "judicial patronage," is popular with ward workers.

Mr. Hearst is strong in the blunders of his opponents. He profits indirectly and his associates directly by the exceeding weakness of the Republican state ticket below Mr. Hughes' name. Enthusiasm is doing campaign work for him which no money could buy. The Republicans are making practically no campaign, except the admirable speeches of Mr. Hughes himself. Many machine politicians are lukewarm because they can look to Mr. Hughes for no favor if he is elected.

It is no time for overconfidence or for idleness on the part of independents who desire Mr. Hughes' election. The issue is not political. It is the issue of sincerity in politics. That issue is not advanced by setting Republican placemen upon the stump to emit time-worn twaddle about the tariff which neither they nor their hearers believe. It is advanced by Mr. Hughes' own earnest efforts. He should be seconded by other strong men upon the platform who shall speak as independents to independents, as Carl Schurz would speak if he were still with us, upon the public duty of resistance against demagogic appeals to passion and prejudice.

When will the real campaign—the campaign of the independents—begin?

WORLD'S HOP CROP

The week under review, ending October 13th, opened with a dull and uninteresting market, but with a continued strong tendency in state hops, which later on was enhanced by purchases for English export at prices ranging from 21 to 22c in the country, with an occasional fine lot up to 23c. The movement so far has not been large, probably 500 or 600 bales. From the Pacific coast advices continue of generally quiet markets in all three coast hop growing states, though a few sales are reported in Oregon at prices ranging from 12 1/2 to 15c, according to quality. In other sections very little business is reported. The official estimate of the English crop was made public on Thursday last, October 11, and gives the quantity at 246,000 cwt., the shortest crop grown in England since 1882. What bearing this will have on future prices it is difficult to tell.

Revenue returns for the sale of beer during the month of August 1906, amounted to $473,719 barrels against 5,579,695 barrels during August, 1905, which shows an increase of 894,024 barrels.

The English Market.

During the past week our markets have been in a very dull state. Very few hops have been sold, and these at low values. Merchants do not attempt to do business, consequently values are not quotable. There is no alteration today.

Canterbury—There was a plentiful supply of hops on offer in the Canterbury district, but there is practically no inquiry. In the few cases where bids have been made they are considerably below growers' ideas. The limit reached this week has been 26 6s. per cwt.

W. H. and H. LeMay report: The market still remains in a quiet state, the large buyers not operating yet. The quality of the last picking is splendid. The English crop this year is all fit for putting into cold store.

Amount of English Crop.

The English hop crop, as was expected, proves to be almost a record breaker—in point of smallness. The official figures of the British government, made public October 11th, show that for 24 years there has not been such an unsatisfactory output.

The following London cable has been received: "Government's estimate of English crop is 245,688 cwt. or 36,642 cwt. less than 1904. This is the lowest estimate of the English crop in 50 years, except in 1879 and 1882."

Another cable says: "Official estimate of English crop is 246,000 cwt. Market is firm."

Admiral Endicott to Retire.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Rear Admiral M. T. Endicott has announced his intention of devoting his entire services in future to the Isthmian Canal commission of which he is a member and intends to retire from the navy on reaching the statutory age, 62 years, on November 25th next. Rear Admiral Endicott was chief of the bureau of yards and docks of the navy department.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as a savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with overwork. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the deflection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, dependent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," yawning or distresses in stomach, perhaps nausea, "griping" risings in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or surely than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-dor-holic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret medicine of known composition.

"My mother has suddenly been made young at 70. Twenty years of intense suffering from dyspepsia had entirely disabled her, until 6 months ago, when she began taking Electric Bitters, which have completely cured her and restored the strength and activity she had in the prime of life," writes Mrs. W. Tammany. Tammany is the oldest political association in New York. It began in the administration of George Washington and is about as old as the constitution. It has numbered among its members many of the best and purest of American citizens and many of the worst and most corrupt. Aaron Burr was a member of Tammany, and Wm. M. Tweed brought it down to the lowest depth of degradation. And yet Tammany still lives and dominates the dominant party of the greatest of American cities. Its vitality is marvelous; and to all in the United States, the organization is inseparably connected in the public mind with pollution of all kinds of government corruption and misuses of office. Does the public outside of New York does Tammany some injustice in estimation. But it may well doubted whether Tammany has lost to the national democracy more votes than it had to give. Since municipal patronage of New York city has assumed such enormous proportions, since the city budget has become as great as that of a kingdom, it has been the aim and object of Tammany to control the public office and the impression is that to do it it is always willing to sacrifice the best interests of the Democratic party in state and nation.

ARE YOU LIGHT WISE?

A store or place of business which is not lighted by Electricity has "let down the bars" to the inroads of competitors.

No matter how complete and fine your stock is, the improper lighting and worse ventilation of your store will turn away many probable purchasers—a great many more than you imagine admit!

The Fall trade in the majority of cases is that part of the year's business which is greatest in amount and profit. There is ample time between now and the first of November to wire for Electric Light or to erect an Electric Sign.

An electrically lighted interior and exterior are just as necessary for successful store trade as the right line of goods and clever salespeople. Our reduced rates for current on meter basis put the use of Electricity within the reach of every storekeeper. Learn the truth about costs; our representative with facts and figures is at your service.
