A new postoffice has been established at Windy Creek, Douglas county, which is called the Fernvale postoffice, with Miss Hilma Nelson as postmistress.

Owen I. Roberts and Miss Myrtle Coahow, two popular Brownsville people, were married in Albany Saturday.

Roy Belts, of Pilot Rock, died Saturday. He was a member of the Odd Fellows and Woodmen lodges, and a prominent young man.

The formal opening of the Oregon Hotel at North Bend took place Wednesday evening, and was an unqualified success.

The Umatilla River is getting stagnant in many places, and people complain of the bad odors issuing from the same. Physicians say typhoid, which is prevalent at Pendleton and other Eastern Oregon towns, is caused from the bad water.

A skull has been found on the shore of Mann lake, near Burns, Or., which is connected to a reminiscence of the Bannock war of 1878, and is supposed to be that of one of an Indian band, who fought the soldiers at that spot for three days and nights.

The reclamation department will operate a miniature railway system at the site of the Cold Springs reservoir in Umatilla county, to be used in removing the embankment, and placing a dam for the big reservoir.

A. O. Brady, an employee of the S. P. Company carpenter force, at Marcola, Lane county, split open his knee cap Thursday, while cutting down some scaffolding on the trestle there.

Cures Winter Cough.

J. E. Gover, 101 N. Main St., Ottawa, Kan., writes: "Every fall it has been my wife's trouble to catch a severe cold, and therefore to cough all winter long. Last fall I got her a bottle of Horebound Syrup. She used it and has been able to sleep soundly all night long. Whenever the cough troubles her, two or three doses stops the cough, and she is able to be up and well." 25c, 50c and $1.00.

TWO CANDIDATES VIEWS

Opinions of J. L. Stockton of the First Ward and Gideon Stolz of the Third Ward on Street Paving

Several days ago The Capital Journal printed short expressions from various candidates for alderman, on street paving and other matters of public improvement. Two candidates for council, J. L. Stockton, from the second ward, and Gideon Stolz, from the third ward, have given their views in a more extended way, and they are appended:

J. L. Stockton.

I believe that every man who allows his name to be used as a candidate for a public position in this city should speak frankly and state his position on public affairs, so that the people will know what to expect in case he should be elected. In my interview, as published last Saturday morning, by statements were necessarily restricted. I therefore request that you publish this letter so there can be no misunderstanding as to my position on civic affairs. Should the electors of the second ward deem it for the best interest of the city to elect me to serve as councilman I shall labor to have the business portions of Commercial, State and Court streets paved with asphalt, bitulithic, vitrified brick or some other pavement of equal value. I shall consider it my special duty to regard the matter of contracting for street improvements, etc., to see that the property owners get what they pay for and no graft will be permitted anywhere along the line.

I shall work actively in encouraging new industries to locate in our city, and shall favor any honest effort to retain the enterprises we have. In my opinion, the time has now arrived when it is necessary for us to take a strong position for civic improvements. Other towns within this state are going forward and permanently improving their streets, (notably Pendleton, which I understand, has raised $60,000 within the past few weeks for street improvements) which are attracting capital and people beyond their expectations. If we fail to do likewise, we are very apt to fall in the rear of several towns in the Willamette valley and state.

In conclusion I will say that I have endeavored to make my position clear on the most vital question now before our people for settlement, namely, street improvements. At least that is what I have attempted to do in this letter. I would like very much to know how my opponent in ward No. 2 stands on this vital question, and I believe it is due myself, as well as all the voters of our ward, that he should speak frankly upon this question.

Mr. Gilbert is reported by the press as saying that he favored good streets (which I was pleased to hear) but I desire to know whether or not he would, in case of election, advocate the paving of the business portions of Commercial, State and Court streets with asphalt, bitulithic or vitrified brick, or some other pavement that is considered first-class, or whether he intends to convey the impression that the streets are good in their present condition. Also if he favors the hauling of gravel and dirt upon the streets in summer time to be ground up in mud and hauled away in the winter.

I am not seeking the office; in fact it would be a great sacrifice on my part to accept the same. I, therefore, hope that when Mr. Gilbert defines his position on the important question of public improvements, it will be such that the voters will see that he is qualified to serve them.

BLAMED THE MOON.

Man Went Crazy When Satellite Was Full and Ended Life.

London, Oct. 30.—"Every time the moon changed, so did he," said Mrs. Stratton, the widow of a French polishier, of Jodrell road, Victoria Park, to the east London coroner. In explanation of her husband's sudden insanity and suicide.

In further proof of her belief in the moon's influence on the mind Mrs. Stratton added that the dead man's brother was similarly affected. Ordinarily both men were quite well behaved and happy, but when the full moon approached she believed some lunar influence accounted for their strange actions.

This interesting theory is a revival of the old Roman belief that "lunatics" are, as the derivation of the name implies, "moonstruck persons."

The ancient asserted that the mind was affected by the moon, and that lunatics grew more and more fren-

Gideon Stolz.

I am so well known and my position on the matters you inquire about have been so often stated that there is little use for me to say anything at this time. I favor putting down permanent pavement and permanent bridges, as it becomes necessary to replace old ones, and otherwise improving and beautifying our city, but it makes no difference what my views are either in or out of the council, or any other man's views, for one man or several cannot accomplish anything unless he has public sentiment with him. What we need here is for the progressive element of the city to assert itself, and with this element united and demanding these and other things needed for the advancement of Salem's interests, we will get them. Without the active backing and endorsement of the people we cannot accomplish any good, no matter what my views may be. When the people or a considerable portion of them unite and say we want this or that they get it, and not until they do.

What we want here more than all else is the creation of a progressive go-ahead, active spirit, and if the people do not have it they will have to get it before any improvement or reforms can be accomplished, or if any considerable number have it they must get together, make their position known and assist themselves, in the meantime bringing as many others to their way of thinking as may be possible. There is no use for me to sacrifice myself and give up my time attending council meetings, committees, etc., putting forth effort for improvement and advancement of the city unless the people are with us.

I was in the council once before several years ago, and the proper public interest did not back up our efforts, and there is no use, nor do I care to go again unless something can be accomplished, and it cannot be done unless the people want it. They must unite, get out of the lethargic state, shake off the apathy that has enveloped them so long, get the spirit of progress, enthusiasm over our city, naturally the most beautiful in the state, supplement the work of nature and of its founder, who laid it off along such pleasing lines, and made it a mart of commerce, a bee hive of industry and an emporium for all Western Oregon. Good, solid, lasting street paving is one of our greatest needs, and is the first thing to be done after placing all streets on a proper grade, and will help more than any other one thing to start us in the march of progress.

I should like to see the new council organized in such a way that every councilman will be recognized and will have an opportunity to make himself known and felt in his work, and that the heads of committees will be given such confidence by the business men and property owners of our city that there will be no reasons for a doubt as to the purpose of giving honest service to the people, and that the people's interest will stand first. With this confidence established all excuses will be removed and further delays in the improvement and progress of our city will not be possible.

Saved His Life.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump on my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two 50 cent bottles cured me sound and well.

It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity.
