

A Woman's Gratitude

"For more than a year I had been a sufferer, completely broken down. I had not slept but two or three hours any night for weeks. I had such awful misery in my head, and oh, I was so irritable. I could not depend upon my judgment, and my memory was failing. I realized that I was losing my mind, and I thought the grave, or worse, the asylum, would be my doom. My doctor said my case was beyond the reach of medicine. I went to a druggist and told him my condition. He recommended Dr. Miles' Nerveine; he was pretty sure it would help me, so I bought a bottle. That night I took a table spoonful, and fell asleep in a few minutes, the first rest I had in weeks, and oh, I will never forget that sweet sleep while I live. I have continued taking it, and sleep like a baby, and gain rapidly."

WOMAN IN THE CASE.

Alleged Marlborough Became Too Attentive to Wife's Pretty Friend.

London, Oct. 30.—Although the principles concerned maintain absolute silence and decline to furnish any information, all indications tend to corroborate the stories that a climax has been reached in the domestic affairs of the ducal house of Marlborough. Both the London and provincial papers give circumstantial details, saying that the deed of separation between the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough has been signed.

The duke is at present rusticated in company with Winston Spencer Churchill and other relatives.

The mystery with which the principals are thus shrouding the affair has been further deepened by a statement of the duke's regular lawyers, who say they are entirely ignorant of the existence of a deed of separation and that if a separation has been accomplished it might have been carried through by other attorneys.

The people of Blenheim castle estate are freely discussing the affair and it appears to be the general understanding that the magnificent palace will be closed, as the duke will find difficulty in keeping it up. It is said he will take up his residence at Woodstock House, a small house on the estate. The duchess remains in close seclusion at Sunderland House, this city. Her father, W. K. Vanderbilt, was with her until three days ago, when he left London either for Paris or New York.

The report of the separation of the duke and duchess hardly comes as a surprise. Rumors of their disagreements have been circulating for several years. There are unconfirmed reports that as late as last week final efforts were made by Mr. Vanderbilt for a reconciliation for the sake of the children.

People intimately acquainted with the Marlborough household intimate that the friction became more acute owing to the slighting, unsympathetic attitude of the duke since the duchess' deafness became more pronounced. She made frequent visits to specialists on the continent for treatment and the duke habitually remained behind enjoying the gay life of the metropolis.

According to Reynold's newspaper, the duke, in the opinion of the duchess, paid greater attention than necessary to a young woman friend of his wife.

The duchess has the warmest sympathy of everyone in London conversant with the situation.

Since her arrival here as a bride eleven years ago she has made herself most popular. She has been an active supporter of charities, a hard worker for the benefit of the tenants from the Blenheim estate and a general favorite in society and a friend of both the king and queen.

It is stated that the duchess will have charge of her two sons, Lord Blandford and Lord Ivor Spencer Churchill, until they are old enough to go to school, after which they will divide their time with both parents.

The Best Doctor.
Rev. B. C. Horton, Sulphur Springs, Tex., writes, July 19, 1902: "I have used in my family Ballard's Snow Liniment and Horehound Syrup, and they have proved certainly satisfactory. The liniment is the best we have ever used for headache and pains. The cough syrup has been our doctor for the last 8 years."

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Remedies of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Root." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.
