

Personal

Rev. Winans went to Portland, this morning.

Rev. G. O. Olinger was in the city yesterday.

J. L. Taylor, of Gervais, was visiting in the city yesterday.

George Griswold went to Portland today.

Mrs. S. A. Koser is visiting friends in Portland.

Prof. William Graham returned to Portland yesterday.

Chief of Police Cornelius returned this morning from a short visit to Portland.

Chief Justice Bean, of the supreme court, has returned from a trip to Pendleton.

County Commissioner Goulet returned yesterday to his home in Woodburn.

Mrs. Webster Holmes went to Portland last evening to visit friends.

State Printer J. R. Whitney was among the Portland bound passengers yesterday afternoon.

J. Gamble left this morning for Cottage Grove, where he will install a fire alarm system.

Mrs. Grant Corby, after a visit with Woodburn friends, returned home last evening.

W. L. Michaels, of the Portland Electric Company, left this morning for a week's visit in Portland.

Judge Halley, of the supreme court, returned home from Pendleton this morning.

Head Janitor Newstead, of the state house, went to Portland this morning on business.

Mrs. John P. McManus left this morning for Pendleton, after visiting relatives and friends in Salem.

Mrs. Joseph Vincent went to Portland this morning to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. DeBois.

Miss Del Miller, who has been the guest of her cousin, Miss Bertha Klingler, has returned to her home in Stayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Power, of Halsey, are spending their honeymoon in this city. They are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Gilson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Connor, of the Hotel Willamette, have returned from a several months' tour of the East.

I. D. Larkin and daughter, Miss Echo, who have been visiting Salem relatives and friends, returned this morning to their home in Marquam.

Miss Sue Hickman, of Portland, recently of San Jose, Cal., returned to Portland yesterday, after a short visit with Miss Lena McIntire.

Roy Benson, after a short visit with his parents, has returned to his work in Eugene. He is employed in the new woolen mill at that city.

J. W. Perringer, of Pendleton, is visiting in the city. He brought his little daughter, Miss Grace, who is deaf, to the deaf mute school. This is his first trip to the Willamette valley, and he is very much pleased with the country.

Santiam Booming.
A report from Jefferson this afternoon says the Santiam is again rising rapidly, and is already at the recent high-water mark.

Several Boys Wanted.
The Journal can use several good carrier boys with pony or bicycle.
11-13-06

Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society.
Frank Meredith, Resident Agent.
Office with Wm. Brown & Co., No. 129 Commercial Street.

Money to Loan
THOMAS K. FORD,
Over Ladd & Bush's Bank, Salem, Or.

NEW TODAY

Stray Goats.—There are 28 head of stray goats at my place, one mile southwest of Pratum, since Thursday November 8th. Inquire of Fred DeVries, Salem, Route No. 6.
11-13-06

Wanted.—Men with teams to haul lumber. Inquire at 594 Commercial street or at Fisher & Krepper's sawmill, 3 1/2 miles southeast of Brooks.
11-13-06

Wanted.—Three or four bales packing straw delivered at the penitentiary stables. Address, stating price, R. B. Fleming, box 254, Salem, Or.
11-13-06

For Rent.—Nicely furnished room. Inquire at 695 Court street, opposite postoffice.
11-13-06

Lost.—A black and white pointer bitch; last seen on Slough road. Reward for return. A. A. McCormick, state house.
11-13-06

CURRENT TOPICS TODAY

Prepared for the Public Schools and the Family Circle.

Manual training will be introduced in the Portland public schools at once.

Shortage in the coal supply is alarming the people of Seattle.

Three students have been expelled from Columbia College, Portland, for participating in a charivari of a bridal couple.

D. M. Delmas, a San Francisco lawyer, has been employed to defend Harry K. Thaw, of New York City, indicted for the murder of Stanford White.

A fleet of British and French warships will be sent to Morocco to restore order in that country, and protect life and property of foreigners.

It is now planned to have three flying columns of British cavalry crush the Boer rebels in Cape Colony, South Africa.

The King and Queen of Norway are the guests of the King and Queen of England. The baby crown prince of Norway is with the party.

MURRAYS VISITED SALEM.

Asked Deputy District Attorney to Compel a Marriage.

O. F. Murray, Jr., Miss Mary Murray and their mother visited Salem Saturday, and endeavored to have legal compulsion brought to bear on Lincoln Whitney, of Hubbard, to compel him to marry Miss Murray. Murray shot and killed young Whitney in Portland yesterday morning, as was printed in the Capital Journal yesterday.

The Portland papers yesterday and the Salem morning paper had a good deal to say about the visit of the Murrays to Salem, and their being turned down by the district attorney. The facts are three Murrays came to Salem Saturday, and, in the absence of John McNary, called on C. L. McNary, and told of Whitney's alleged offense. Mr. McNary told them to have a warrant issued, charging Whitney with a statutory crime, and he would prosecute him to the full letter of the law. "But, we do not want that," said young Murray; we want Whitney to marry the girl."

Mr. McNary explained that the district attorney could not compound a felony, and that he was not running a marriage bureau.

Thereupon the Murrays left, and it is presumed went to Hubbard.

LOCAL GRAIN MARKET.

Wakes Up in Response to Demand From Eastern Oregon.

So serious is the grain shortage in Eastern Oregon this season that the stockmen of that section are obliged to look to other sections of the Northwest, which were more bounteously favored with crops, for their winter's supply of feed, including the Willamette valley. D. A. White & Son have just shipped one carload of oats, about 13,000 bushels, to that section, and, were it not for the car shortage, could ship many more, as the demand is great, and growing, and fancy prices are offered.

For this carload the shippers received $28 per ton, and the Eastern Oregon market is strong at this figure, with an upward tendency. The call for grain in other sections of the Northwest is having the tendency to relieve the glut in the local market, and to afford an outlet for the surplus, with the result that the local market is growing steadily firmer, at $20 per ton for oats, and strong at that quotation.

PRESIDENT WIGGINS RESIGNS.

Professor W. I. Staley Elected President of the Salem Y. M. C. A.

F. A. Wiggins resigned the position of president of the Salem branch of the Y. M. C. A. at the regular meeting of that institution held in the association rooms last evening. Prof. W. I. Staley was elected to fill the vacancy. The reason Mr. Wiggins severed his connection with the work is that he will move to Washington before the next regular meeting, and the change was made in order that no interruption might ensue. R. J. Hendricks was elected vice-president and Paul Wallace, secretary.

PROBATE COURT NEWS.

The Following Business Was Transacted Yesterday in Probate Court.

In the matter of Clifford Roth, a minor, and Laura L. Roth, guardian, appointed December 12, 1903, an order for citation issued.

In the matter of the Roppel guardianship, Monday, December 17th, at 1 p. m., was set for the hearing of objections to the sale of the real property.

In the matter of the estate of Felix Gregoire, deceased, December 17, at 11 a. m., was set for final hearing.

In the matter of the Ruth E. Brown estate an order approving final account was made.

The Texas Wonder.
Cures all kidney, bladder and rheumatic trouble; sold by all druggists, or two months' treatment by mail for $1. Dr. E. W. Hall, 3226 Olive street, St. Louis, Mo. Send for testimonials. Sold by Stone's drug stores.
46-177.

THE END OF THE TRAGEDY

Inquest Held and D'Anna's Body Sent to Relatives in the East

The inquest held yesterday afternoon by Coroner Clough over the remains of Victor E. D'Anna, who committed suicide Saturday, as the final bloody act in the dual tragedy of that day, threw but little light on the mystery that still hangs over the drink crazed Italian's sanguinary deeds.

There is still a mystery no one doubts but it is one that will perhaps never be solved. Not that it is so deep or unfathomable, but because no good can come of further agitating the dark events.

The only thing of importance that was accomplished by the inquest was to forever set at naught and brand as positively false, the efforts that had been made in certain quarters to throw the blame for this bloody tragedy on City Recorder Moores.

Night Officer Longcor was quoted as saying that he had informed the recorder that D'Anna was very violent and that he had made threats against the life of Longcor and Gholson and that Moores had replied: "Turn him loose, anyway."

On the witness stand, Mr. Longcor told a different story. His testimony coincided exactly with that of Mr. Moores and was simply to the effect that D'Anna was drunk and had got into another man's bed.

The jury was composed of Thomas Burrows, foreman; J. W. Hodson, L. C. Hockett, Henry Lewis, John Kirk, A. W. Veach.

The inquest began at 1:45 o'clock and the witnesses were examined by Attorney Keys from the district attorney's office.

Night Officer Longcor was the first witness. He testified that he was notified that he was wanted at the feed stable and when he got there Gholson was up and dressed and told him a man was in his bed and would not get out. He made him get up and took him to the station house. When he got there D'Anna tried to get some one over the telephone that he did not know but supposed to be another surveyor. He then asked for Mayor Waters but he was out of the city. Then he called up Recorder Moores. After telling the recorder who he was, he turned the telephone over to Mr. Longcor who told Moores that D'Anna was drunk and had got into another man's bed. The recorder told him to release the man which he did. Longcor said that D'Anna was very abusive and made dire threats. Longcor said he was still anxious about the result and rather expected trouble.

Longcor said that Gholson told him he did not know D'Anna and had never seen him before.

Sheriff Culver told of searching D'Anna's rooms and finding the two notes that were printed in The Capital Journal Saturday and a box of cartridges.

Mr. Culver also told of accompanying the coroner to the asylum farm and finding the body of D'Anna.

Patrick Fennell, proprietor of the Salem hotel said that D'Anna came into his place about 4 o'clock and first asked for Mr. Jorgenson, the blacksmith. Then he telephoned to Recorder Moores and gave the impression that he was trying to square himself about coming to police court. Then he left and returned in a few moments and asked where the stable man slept. On being told he walked out. Fennell did not know then who D'Anna was. He thought the man was drinking some but was not drunk. He made no threats and Mr. Fennell believes that he had the two men, Mr. Jorgenson and Mr. Gholson mixed up.

Mrs. Hattie McGinnis was the next witness. She swore that D'Anna was not at her place at 122 Ferry street Friday night. She said her place was closed up at 2 o'clock.

Madge Nash, an inmate of Mrs. McGinnis' place testified that she did not know D'Anna.

Georgia Smith, proprietress of a place on Ferry street, said that D'Anna came to her place Saturday morning about 4 o'clock and asked: "Georgia, can I come in?"

"Certainly, you can, kid; let's have a bottle of beer," was her reply.

She swore that D'Anna said he wanted no more to drink but wanted to sleep on the lounge until morning. She refused this request and asked him to go home. She says he went out after a half an hour. Georgia testified that D'Anna "was pretty full but behaved like a perfect gentleman."

Harry Ralph, bartender at Frank Collins' saloon said D'Anna was in his place at 1 1/2 as 2 a. m., and was drinking some but was not drunk.

City Recorder Moores testified just as his statement has been given in The Journal.

Walter S. Low told of Gholson running in to his stable gasping for breath after he was shot, and his testimony was just the same as the statement he made that was printed in this paper.

Allan Forward, an attorney, said he saw D'Anna Friday night, and that he was peaceable and was apparently not drunk.

M. VanFleet testified to seeing D'Anna lying on Mrs. Hattie McGinnis' steps Saturday morning at 4 o'clock, and later saw his hat and coat in the same place.

The jury then returned the following verdict:

In the matter of the inquest upon the body of Victor D'Anna, deceased, we, the undersigned, the jury summoned to appear before A. M. Clough, the coroner for the county of Marion, State of Oregon, at 445 State street, Salem, Oregon, on the 12th day of November, 1906, to inquire into the cause of the death of Victor D'Anna, having been duly sworn according to law, and having made such inquisition, after inspecting the body, and hearing the testimony adduced, find that the deceased was named Victor D'Anna, was a native of Kentucky, was about 25 years old; that he came to his death on the 10th day of November, 1906, by a pistol shot from the hand of Victor D'Anna, after murdering Benjamin Gholson.

Dated this 12th day of November, 1906.

THOS. BUROWS, Foreman
A. W. VETCH,
JOHN KIRK,
J. W. HODSON,
H. S. LEWIS,
L. C. HOCKETT.

D'Anna's body was shipped to the home of his sister, Mrs. Alice Whitener, Hickory, N. C., for burial.

So far, no one knows what has become of D'Anna's gold watch.

Mr. Jones' Statement.

T. M. Jones, proprietor of the feed stable where Gholson was shot, and the employer of that unfortunate young man, says that Gholson was a steady, peaceable young man, and well behaved in all his relations in life. Mr. Jones says that Gholson never drank to excess, and that he knew positively that Gholson always kept regular hours.

Mr. W. A. Jones, a cousin and former partner in the business, formerly slept with Gholson, and he knew that the young man had steady habits.

Mr. Jones told a reporter this morning that, in regard to the gold watch belonging to D'Anna, that Officer Longcor told him that he picked the timepiece up on the table in the room while D'Anna was being dressed, and that either the officer or D'Anna put it in the latter's pocket. Mr. Jones regrets very much that anything should have been insinuated by any person during the unfortunate affair that would cast any suspicion on the high moral character of Ben Gholson, as he knew his habits and demeanor to be the best.

Mr. Jones says that he believes that D'Anna came into the stable by the High street entrance, and that he entered the side door, which had been inadvertently left open. That would have given him access to the bed room, as the partition door was always open.

THE TEXAS WONDER.

Cures all kidney, bladder and rheumatic trouble; sold by all druggists, or two months' treatment by mail for $1. Dr. E. W. Hall, 3226 Olive street, St. Louis, Mo. Send for testimonials. Sold by Stone's drug stores.
46-177.

Thanksgiving Linens Underpriced

Luxury Without Extravagance.

Rich, fine table linen, superb designs, unparalleled for artistic elegance in the history of damask weaving. Thrifty housekeepers will do well to take advantage of this great money-saving sale.

There has been a marked general advance in linens of late, but foreseeing this we bought early, thus saving you both in quality and price. You will not find such qualities as we are offering. Any style or price you select here will be a saving during our

Pre-Thanksgiving Sale

Great Preparation Going On In the Big Store

Making a list of your wants. Come early and stay late. You'll be surprised at the many bargains being offered.

TOMORROW ONLY

Our 306th weekly special sale for Wednesday only, beginning at 8:30 in the morning we offer

FLANNELETTE PETTICOATS

The second lot of these great garment values. They come in stripes in colors Pink, Blue and Gray, some with scalloped bottoms, others tucked—all are well made and nicely finished.

Wednesday only at 39c
No telephone orders will be received.

Children's School Coats

An opportunity to provide the young miss with a warm coat for the winter months. The styles are all that could be desired and the materials represent some of the best that has been brought out. All colors are among them including plaids and mixtures. Here's a list of savings:

- $5.00 values— Special Sale $3.75
- $6.00 values— Special Sale 4.50
- $7.50 values— Special Sale 5.63
- $8.00 values— Special Sale 6.00
- $9.50 values— Special Sale 7.13
- $11.00 values— Special Sale 8.25
- $12.00 values— Special Sale 9.00

Go's Meyers & Sons
SALEM'S GREATEST STORE
THE "WHITE CORNER" (TRANS. MARK)
RECORDED

CITY NEWS

A Collection of Important Paragraphs for Your Consideration

Ills of the Flesh.

Most of the ills flesh is heir to are remedied by Osteopathy. Likely your case would be easily reached. It would at least do no harm to have a talk with Dr. B. H. White, in the Broyman building. Tues-Fri

Made Clerical Changes.

Miss Helen Miller has taken the position of stenographer to the State Library Commission, held by Miss Frisbey, who, in turn, has accepted a similar position in the office of Superintendent Ackerman.

Paid State Taxes.

The county treasurer of Clackamas county yesterday paid $19,486.75 into the state treasury, being the balance of the state taxes that county owed.

REPLATING

You may have some piece of jewelry you do not wish to discard on account of some associations, if so let us fix it up and replate it so it will look like new and you can get many years of wear out of it. We do bright and Roman gold plating at reasonable prices.

We also replate old silver knives, forks and spoons.

Barr's Jewelry Store
Cor. State and Liberty Sts.
Salem, Oregon

Appointed More Delegates.

Governor Chamberlain has appointed as additional delegates to the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, which meets at Washington December 6 and 7, W. J. Mariner, of Blalock; Dr. C. R. Ray, of Tolo; L. J. Stimpson, of North Bend; E. Hofer Salem; S. M. Mears and A. H. Deviers, of Portland.

No Longer a Mystery.

Everybody in Salem has found out ere this that the best and cheapest place to deal, as well as the best place to get good, fresh provisions of all kinds, is at H. H. Ragan's popular Court street grocery.

Oasis in the Desert.

Such has Gilson's cigar store and tobacco stand, at the old Jack Ryan barber shop, been christened by all lovers of a first-class smoke or a delicious chew. Be your own judge.

Oysters.

There is no place in the city where a fresher supply of Eastern and Olympia bivalves can be had in season, and in greater plenty, as well as fresh meats and other good things to eat than at Farrington's market.

Fine Farm Horses.

Tom Cornelius returned from Portland where he received from up the country seven fine well-broke and gentle young horses, suitable for farm work. Will be sold at reasonable prices. 11-13-06

Merely a Disagreement.

Prominent members of the Baptist church say that the report that the church is split over the advisability of accepting the pastor's resignation, is unfounded. There is, however, a difference of opinion on the matter. But all the members unite in expressing their high opinion of the pastor, who has been doing a fine work. The question of his going or staying seems to be merely a matter of expediency.

CASTORIA.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Beware the Signature
Cast H. Hitcher