PAVE THE STREETS.

The best advertisement this city could have would be to get rid of its muddy streets.

A few well-paved streets would be a better advertisement than any amount of hot air advertising literature.

Old wagon and hacks, empty boxes and barrels in front of places of business, are out of place.

The streets cumbered up with telegraph, telephone and electric light and power poles looks very bad.

The city of Salem should be better lighted—at least 100 more electric arc lights should be erected.

Encourage electric lines, light up the city, pave the streets, clear the sidewalks and you are doing the best kind of advertising.

IT WAS ALL BY CHANCE.

There can be no doubt about it. The land leases in Umatilla county to Jim Raley and John Crow were all accidental.

No element of fraud or conspiracy entered into it. They had no interest in acquiring the land at all.

It was accidental that two bills were engineered through congress peculiarly adapted to transfer those lands to them.

It was all accidental that he lined up the men at the La Grande land office from Saturday night till Monday morning.

It was only a co-incident that he furnished the money to nearly all the men to make their filings.

It was only an incident that he fenced the whole thing with a three wire fence.

Every entryman swore that he had never made any contract whereby the title would inure to the benefit of another.

It was all by chance that all the leases were made out in such a way as to get around this provision of the law.

Senator Fulton was driven all over the land in a buggy and was an innocent means of concluding step in acquiring the lands.

KIND WORDS FOR SALEM.

Salem as the center of electric lines in the Willamette valley, and as the inland metropolis that is leading off with street paving, and other municipal enterprises, is receiving many kinds words. One eastern Oregon exchange has this:

The decision of Salem to begin paving its streets is a commendable one and will be appreciated by the people of the entire state. Being Oregon's capital and a beautiful city besides, every citizen of the commonwealth has a personal interest in its advancement.

THERE IS NOT A PRETTIER SITE FOR A CITY in the United States than nature has vouchsafed to Salem. Bordered on the west by a beautiful river navigable at all seasons of the year, surrounded on every side for twenty miles with rich agricultural lands, favored with three trains each way daily at very convenient hours for travelers, with good schools, churches and all modern conveniences for personal comfort and pleasure, and a promise of trolley line connection with its surrounding country in the immediate future, its good people are favored by as rosy prospects as any city to be found in Oregon.

It has much property owned by the people of the state and as such property owners, sharing the general pride in the state's capital, there will be general rejoicing that ITS CITIZENS HAVE FINALLY, THOUGH MUCH BELATED, decided to clothe its streets with as much beauty as nature has its surrounding country.

So we say, hurrah for Salem! Its retiring officers have done much to bring about the intended improvements and its new ones, to-be are men well known for their progressive and practical ideas.

HE WHO SOWS

sparingly will also reap sparingly. He who sows abundantly will also reap abundantly. So says that beautiful parable, and in another part of the good book it speaks of the seeds! Some fell in barren soil, some in rocky soil, some in fertile soil, and how the seed that fell in barren and rocky soil withered away, died and brought forth no fruit, while the seed that fell in fertile soil multiplied and brought forth much fruit. Isn't it natural that an advertising man should associate the thought in this parable with the advertiser? Isn't the successful advertiser the chap who looks sharp to the fertile field? What field would you consider the most fertile for the Salem merchant? Salem and its environs—that's the one.

MR. CLIFFE WILL REMAIN.

Congregation of First Baptist Church Asks Pastor to Reconsider His Resignation.

The congregation of the First Baptist church at a meeting last night declined to accept the resignation of the pastor, Rev. F. W. Cliffe, and asked him to reconsider his determination, and remain at the head of the work in this church. It is believed that Mr. Cliffe will listen to the wishes of his people, and will remain in Salem. If so the church in particular and the Salem public in general is to be congratulated.

California's Prosperity.

Los Angeles, Nov. 16.—A great wave of prosperity is sweeping over California, and, though more than 30,000 people have arrived here on the fall colonists rate the demand for further laborers is insistent, especially in the skilled branch, and building trades. There is a great scarcity of labor in this city and district and all the cities of the interior and coast valleys feel the shortage of supply though wages are high, climate splendid and living conditions cheap.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.

PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

Game Plentiful in Missouri.

Columbus, Nov. 16.—Since the opening of the game season in this state very large numbers of duck, geese, snipe, plover and woodcock have been bagged. Huntsmen report a more than usual number of wild fowl this season. Deer are very plentiful as are also prairie chickens and pheasants the open season on which commenced yesterday. There are large numbers of camping parties between Spanish lake and Coldwater creek and capital sport is reported.

Verdict for Dr. Pierce

AGAINST THE

Ladies' Home Journal.

Sending truth after a lie. It is an old maxim that "a lie will travel seven leagues while truth is getting its head on," and no doubt hundreds of thousands of good people read the unvarnished and malicious attack upon Dr. R. V. Pierce and his "Favorite Prescription" published in the May (1904) number of the Ladies' Home Journal, with its great black display headings, who never saw the horrible, groveling retraction, with its ineffectual heading, published two months later. It was boldly charged in the scandalous and libelous article that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of woman's weaknesses and ailments, contained alcohol and other harmful ingredients. Dr. Pierce promptly brought suit against the publishers of the Ladies' Home Journal, for $500,000.00 damages.

Dr. Pierce alleged that Mr. Bok, the editor, maliciously published the article containing such false and defamatory matter with the intent of injuring his business; furthermore, that no alcohol, or other poisonous, or habit-forming, drugs are, or ever were, contained in his "Favorite Prescription"; that said medicine is made from native medicinal roots and contains no harmful ingredients whatsoever; and that Mr. Bok's malicious statements were wholly and absolutely false.

In the retraction printed in said Journal, they were forced to acknowledge that they had obtained analyses of "Favorite Prescription" from eminent chemists, which analyses showed that it contained no alcohol, and no harmful ingredients, and that it was a purely medicinal preparation. These facts were also proven in the trial in the action in the Supreme Court. But the business of Dr. Pierce was greatly injured by the publication of the libelous article with its great display headings, while hundreds of thousands who read the wickedly defamatory article never saw the humbly groveling retraction, and in said time and trouble were misled to believe that the medicine was a poison. Thus his reputation came to grief and his case slanders were refuted.

Social Tragedy

Women Who Brave Death for Social Honors.

In the midst of one of the most brilliant social functions of the season, a noted society woman started suddenly from her chair with a scream of agony and fell insensible to the floor.

A few hours later the distinguished physician told her anxious husband that she was suffering from an acute case of nervous prostration brought on by female trouble, and hinted at an operation. Fortunately a friend advised her to try

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The result was that she escaped the surgeon's knife and to-day is a well woman.

The derangement of the delicate female organism sets every nerve in the body quivering with pain. Headaches, backaches, torturing bearing down pains and dragging sensations make women nervous and hysterical.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was troubled for eight years with irregularities which broke down my system and brought on extreme nervousness and hysteria. I could neither enjoy my meals nor sleep nights, became easily irritated and nervous and very despondent. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved to be the only medicine which helped me. After taking the third bottle, my general health began to improve. At the end of the fifth month I was well and could attend to my household and social duties and enjoy life.

MRS. CHESTER CURRY, 42 Saratoga Street, East Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Curry, whose portrait appears on the right, is the leader of the Ladies' Symphony Orchestra. The following letter is from Miss Goode, President of the Bryn Mawr Lawn Tennis Club of Chicago:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I tried many different remedies to try to build up my system, which had become run down from loss of proper rest and unreasonable hours, but nothing seemed to help me. Mother is a great advocate of Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles, having used it herself some years ago with great success. So I began to take it, and in less than a month I was able to be out of bed and out of doors, and in three months I was entirely well. Really I have never felt so strong and well as I have since.
