

Eating Carelessly

frequently causes stomach troubles, but careful eating will never right them. When your stomach is out of condition, it needs help that no food can supply. It must be thoroughly cleansed, settled and strengthened. Food never does this.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

are the greatest stomach medicine human skill ever compounded. Don't attempt to cure your stomach by dieting. You will half starve and get little benefit. Give Beecham's Pills a chance and you will gain know the pleasures of a sound digestion. Appetite will return and the stomach again work without any discomfort. The skin will clear, the face plump out, while people will remark "How well you're looking." These are facts, not fancies. Prove it yourself.

KAY HOLDS DOWN SENATE

assistance is required" to keep the work and the force is increased from time to time until it attains almost double the original number.

The records of the last session show that there was a total of 93 clerks employed to do the senate work, exclusive of the desks, of which 37 were employed on joint committees, and the cost of clerical assistance for the session aggregated $16,265, a portion of which, for joint committees, is chargeable to the house. Under the resolution agreed upon by the committee a total of 50 clerks are provided for an average of $4 per day, which will bring the estimated cost for the session to $6500, and a possible allowance of five additional clerks is made which will bring the estimated total to about $7500. Senator Kay, of Marion, who introduced the resolution, says he is determined to keep the clerical force down to the lowest limit, and will fight every unreasonable proposition for an increase to the finish. The resolution in full follows:

The Kay Resolution.

"Whereas, At the last session of the legislative assembly there were 56 stenographers and clerks employed in the senate, in addition to the desk clerks, and

"Whereas, There were 34 clerks employed on joint committees, and

"Whereas, If only competent and expert clerks and stenographers were employed who performed a reasonable service, the senate could get along with a much less number, and at the same time have better clerical service, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That each member of the senate be and he is hereby authorized to employ one competent and expert clerk or stenographer, in addition to those provided by law, and that all clerks and stenographers provided by section 2372 of Beilinger & Cotton's code, as amended in 1903, be dispensed with, with the exception of one chief clerk for the judiciary committee, one for the committee on assessment and taxation, one for the committee on revision of laws, one for the committee on ways and means, one for the chief clerk and the clerks provided for on the committees for enrolled and engrossed bills; provided, however, that wherever practicable, the clerk or stenographer so employed by any senator shall act as clerk of any committee where such senator is chairman, and in cases where the work of the committee shall require additional help, the chairman shall first call upon the members of such committee and have their clerks render such aid, but in case of the clerks of all the members of such committees being otherwise employed, and it is found that more clerical assistance is required, such clerks may be provided for by resolution.

The compensation of such clerks shall be: For each expert stenographer, $5 per day; for each typewriter, $4 per day, and for ordinary clerks, $3 per day, such clerks to receive no additional compensation for any other duties performed."

Create Many "Joins."

Judging by the tenure of the resolutions introduced in the house yesterday afternoon the position of chairman on the committee on resolutions was a very much coveted one, but Representative Campbell, of Clackamas, "railroaded" his resolution to the desk so quickly that all the others, four in number, were completely shut out of the race, and Mr. Campbell landed the chairmanship before the resolutions of his competitors came to light. The other members of this committee, which is all-powerful, is Adams, of Multnomah; Kubli, of Jackson; Simmons, of Marion, and Newell, of Washington.

There was also a big rush of resolutions providing for the investigation of the accounts and records of the several state departments, boards and commissions and for divers junketing trips, the most prominent among the latter of which being for two joint commissions to investigate the conditions on the Columbia river, with a view of remedying by legislation or memorial to congress, and a joint committee with power to employ the necessary clerical assistance, to investigate the Oregon soldiers' home at Roseburg and the State University at Eugene. All of these resolutions were referred to the committee on resolutions.

Representative Knowles, of Wasco, asks for the appointment of a joint committee of six, three from the house and three from the senate, to visit and investigate the conditions on the Columbia river; Farrell, of Multnomah, asks for practically the same thing, the only difference being that he asks for a committee of five to meet and confer with a like committee from the Washington legislature for the same purpose; Jackson, of Douglas, thinks a committee of three should visit and inspect the soldiers' home at Roseburg, and Rothchild, of Union, would have a committee of five perform a like errand to the State University. All of these resolutions provide for the "necessary clerical assistance."

Teal Commission Bill.

To Representative Chapin of Multnomah county was entrusted the duty and honor of presenting to the legislature the first bill looking to the regulation of transportation facilities in this state, which is the bill that was drafted by a special committee of the Portland Chamber of Commerce. It provides for the creation of a railroad commission, with power to establish passenger and freight schedules, and adopt such rules and regulations for the government of all railroad and railway facilities in the state to best conserve the interests of the public. This bill, as will be the case with all attempted railroad legislation of a like character, is expected to meet with strong opposition from the railroads, and especially any attempt to empower the commission to establish reciprocal demurrage rules or requirements. The bill passed up to the second reading.

To Clear Land Titles.

Representative Pike, of Gilliam, Sherman and Wheeler counties, presented a joint memorial in the house yesterday afternoon memorializing congress to provide for the relief of the settlers in what is known as the Oregon Company Military wagon road grant, in Sherman county, in accordance with the recent opinion of the supreme court of the United States, declaring the strip of land in dispute within the Oregon territory, and also in harmony with a bill presented to congress by United States Senator Gearin. By reason of this decision all the settlers involved, the majority of whom had obtained patent to their holdings, were deprived of their title to the land, and the memorial seeks to secure reimbursement for them.

Verdict for Dr. Pierce

AGAINST THE

Ladies' Home Journal.

Sending truth after a lie. It is an old maxim that "a lie will travel seven leagues while truth is getting its boots on," and no doubt hundreds of thousands of good people read the unwarranted and malicious attack upon Dr. R. V. Pierce and his "Favorite Prescription" published in the May (1904) number of the Ladies' Home Journal, with its great black display headings, who never saw the humble, groveling retraction, with its inconspicuous heading, published two months later. It was boldly charged in the slanderous and libelous article that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of woman's weaknesses and ailments, contained alcohol and other harmful ingredients. Dr. Pierce promptly brought suit against the publishers of the Ladies' Home Journal, for $300,000 damages.

Dr. Pierce alleged that Mr. Bok, the editor, maliciously published the article containing such false and defamatory matter with the intent of injuring his business, and that he, Bok, or other persons, or persons, contained in his "Favorite Prescription"; that said medicine is made from native medicinal roots and contains no harmful ingredients whatsoever, and that Mr. Bok's malicious statement were wholly and absolutely false. In the retraction printed by said journal they were forced to acknowledge that they had obtained analyses of "Favorite Prescription" from eminent chemists, all of whom certified that it did not contain alcohol or any of the alleged harmful drugs. These facts were also proven in the trial of the action in the Supreme Court. But the business of Dr. Pierce was greatly injured by the publication of the libelous article with its great display headings, while hundreds of thousands who read the wickedly defamatory article never saw the humble groveling retraction, set in small type and made as inconspicuous as possible. The matter was, however, brought before a jury in the Supreme Court of New York State which promptly rendered a verdict in the doctor's favor. This his traducers came to grief and their base stand was refuted.
