for 10 o'clock Tuesday. That and It is believed, judging from the tenure of the comment by the legislators, that Mr. Jones' locks bill will meet with opposition by the delegations from the districts not immedlately contiguous to the Willamette river and who do not believe a tax should be levied upon their constituency to raise the $400,000, the estimated amount required. Principal among the opposers of the bill is Representative Barrett, of Washington county, who has voiced his objections, but Mr. Jones feels that there is dire need of the relief sought for and believes it will be passed.

I agilistic Sports.

"Darkey" Haley, the English featherweight, has been matched to meet Al Delmont, one of the best youngsters in New England. The fighters will go twelve rounds on January 28th before the Valley Falls Athletic club at 122 pounds.

Another featherweight champion from England is anxious for a match with Abe Attell, for the championship of the world. The pugilist is Spike Robson, who wants to take on Attell for half a dozen or more rounds or in a finish fight. Although Robson is only a featherweight he announces that he will meet Murphy, Corbett, Herman, Nelson or Britt in a six round contest and will allow them to go into the right at catchweights, or he will take any of them in a longer fight provided the financial inducements are sufficient. Robson made good in Philadelphia last summer by beating Murphy in one six round bout, though he was beaten the second time they met.

Mile (Twin) Sullivan has been commissioned by a Denver club to sccure a good 130 or 125 pounder in the least to meet Freddle Weeks in Denver.

Noom Pendergast, the Saginaw lightweight, who is now in Philadelphia has written to Johnny Mooney, asking the latter to use his influence to get him a bout in Rhode Island. Prendergast may be matched to box Tom Quill at Thornton, R. I.

Another chance will be given Jack (Twin) Sullivan, of New England, to regain the laurels which he lost recently when beaten by Jim Flynn, of Pueblo, Colo., after twenty rounds, before the Pacific Athietic club of Los Angeles, Sullivan will meet Flynn again in the same place for 20 rounds at catch weights on the

One feature also developed during the afternoon session of Thursday in the house which is a fair illustration of how easily it is to "railroad" bills stelalties, including illustrated through which contain provisions of a vicious or deceptive nature and the necessity for great caution and deliberation on the part of the lawmakers or breakers, Representative Jackson, of Douglas, during the rush at the brief session, when the committee on military affairs, reported. his measure, H. > This measure, while it ostensibly and innocently sought to give telephone, telegraph and electric power companies the right to string wires across railroad rights of way, "merely to avoid possible future contentions," in reality gave these interests unlimited power to cross through any private, public or corporate property.

It would be a good idea for the Tonopah folks to stage the Ryan-Kelly fight and then if Gans hankers for the title still he could fight the winner.

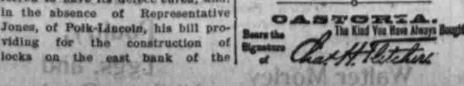

Jim Jeffries and Bill Squires, the Australian heavyweight champion, are as far from being matched as they were a week ago. Jeff at first demanded a $50,000 purse, and when he was informed by the Rhyolite promoters that $30,000 was the limit, said he would fight if his end of the purse was fixed at $25,000. This would leave $5000 for the Australian and the promoters would not stand for it.
