NORMAL SCHOOL PUSH

ing the low stage of the river, is not conducive to good health. Numerous cases of typhoid fever were reported at Pendleton last summer and fall, and the disease almost reached the proportions of an epidemic.

"Weston's water supply, from mountain springs, is pure and wholesome, and typhoid fever or other contagious and infectious diseases are and have been for many years so rare as to be almost unknown. The students of the Normal School ARE EXCEPTIONALLY FREE FROM DISEASE, and we are unable to recall a single death among the students from any cause whatever during the school's entire history.

"Pendleton has 20 or more saloons, which are open Sunday afternoons and evenings, and are frequently difficult to properly control.

"Weston has only two saloons, the doors of which are tightly locked, front and back, Sunday; in which absolutely no gambling occurs, and wherein no minors are ever permitted to enter on any pretext. Failure to obey the city's rigid ordinance governing saloons means a heavy fine and forfeiture of license.

"What is known as the 'social evil' is ever present at Pendleton, almost in the heart of the city, and is regulated by a system of fines which practically amounts to official license of this sort of traffic.

"AT WESTON THE 'SOCIAL EVIL' IS UNKNOWN, AND WILL NEVER BE PERMITTED UNDER ANY GUISE.

"We recognize the fact that Pendleton is a progressive and prosperous commercial center, and do not wish to detract from or question its pre-eminence in this respect. But we submit that in a smaller town like Weston there are few or no attractions to woo the student from his books, and that the student body is much more easily controlled and kept under the eye of the faculty. That this fact is well recognized by the teachers and students is proven by the practically unanimous sentiment among the faculty and student body against re-location of the school at Pendleton or elsewhere. We have taken pains to ascertain this sentiment and find that the teachers and students are entirely satisfied with the school's location, pleased with its constant growth and gratified over its successful work, and that they regard WESTON AS ADMIRABLY SITUATED FOR SCHOOL PURPOSES.

"We recommend a perusal of the brochure issued on the subject of Normal Schools by Dr. Sheldon, of the University of Oregon, which indicates a majority opinion among leading educators that small normal schools in well settled localities are preferable to a large central school, in that they are nearer the people, are more easily reached by the students, and that the personal element is stronger in the relation of teacher and student, to the latter's decided advantage."

Rising From the Grave.

A prominent manufacturer, Wm. A. Fertwell, of Lusama, N. C., relates a most remarkable experience. He says: "After taking less than 3 bottles of Electric Bitters, I feel like one rising from the grave. My trouble is Bright's disease, in the Diabetes stage. I fully believe Electric Bitters will cure me permanently, for it has already stopped the liver and bladder complications which have troubled me for years." Guaranteed at J. C. Perry's, druggist. Price only 50 cents.

Senate Friday Morning.

Senator Hedges introduced S. J. R. No. 6, to amend the constitution regarding election laws. Referred.

Senator M. A. Miller introduced S. C. R. No. 17, to print 5000 copies of the report of the horticultural board. Same senator introduced S. C. R. No. 18, providing that all normal school appropriation bills be introduced separately.

The Multnomah delegation recommended that S. B. 11, regarding clerks in Multnomah county do pass. Adopted.

Same committee made favorable report on S. B. 199, relative to a deputy constable in Multnomah. Adopted.

The special committee made favorable report on S. B. 39, regarding the county school superintendent of Lane county. Adopted.

The following bills were introduced for the first time:

S. B. 168, Cole, to amend the code regarding expert testimony on hand writing.

S. B. 169, to amend the code regarding the terms of circuit court in Umatilla and Morrow.

S. B. 170, Schofield, providing for improvement of streams and sloughs.

S. B. 171, Wright, providing for burning sawdust on streams near oyster beds.

S. B. 172, Malarkey, to amend the code relating to the residence of directors in corporations.

S. B. 173, Schofield, to amend the code regarding assessment rolls.

A considerable number of senate bills were read the second time and referred to appropriate committees.

The senate then took up the third reading of bills. Senator Kay introduced S. B. 136, relative to the distribution of public documents. The bill was attacked as being one to provide for extra printing, and was re-referred to the committee.

Senator Booth introduced S. B. 174, to amend the code providing use of water from streams and lakes.

The following house bills were introduced and read for the first time: No. 245. This bill was then read for the second time and referred.

Committee on education asked that Monmouth Normal School bill be referred to ways and means committee. This was done.

The judiciary committee recommended that H. B. 51 do not pass. Adopted.

The same committee recommended that S. B. 31 do pass. Adopted.

Committee on horticulture recommended that S. B. 6 do not pass. Adopted.

The same committee recommended that H. B. 73 do pass. Adopted.

The committee on resolutions recommended that Senator Whealdon's S. J. R. 5 pass. This, when amended, included the Oregon delegation in congress among those whom the state will thank for the national appropriation for the improvement of the Columbia river. The resolution was adopted.

Committee on revision of laws made a favorable report on S. B. 144. Adopted.

The senate adjourned until Monday at 2 o'clock.

I have used it in my family and can cheerfully affirm it is the most effective and best remedy for coughs and colds I have ever used." Sold by D. J. Fry.

Dora Thorne a Winner.

Eckhardt's Ideals presented in the Klinger Grand last night, Bertha Clay's "Dora Thorne," and did it in a manner that would have been a credit to many a higher-priced company.

Fred Cantway, as "Ronald Earle," and Miss Hilda Graham, as "Dora Thorne," were pleasing characters, and played their roles with strength and dignity. The stage decorations and the costumes worn were very attractive. Georgia Nichols, as "Valentin Charteris," won the admiration of all by her clever acting and beautiful costumes.

Vera Brown should have special mention for her specialties, and the manner in which she impersonated "Hettie Green."

The other characters, too numerous to mention, were good, and the large audience present appreciated the clever performance of "Dora Thorne," which will be the bill for the rest of the week. Those who wish a good evening's entertainment will be amply repaid if they visit the Klinger Grand.

A Reasonable Plea For the Stomach

If Your Stomach is Lacking in Digestive Power, Why Not Help the Stomach Do Its Work—Especially When It Costs Nothing to Try?

Not with drugs, but with a reinforcement of digestive agents, as are naturally at work in the stomach? Scientific analysis shows that digestion requires peptic, strogenous ferments, and the action of hydrochloric acid. When your food fails to digest, it is positive that some of these agents are lacking in your digestive apparatus.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but these natural elements necessary to digestion and placed at work in the weak stomach and small intestines supply what these organs need. They stimulate the gastric glands and gradually bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been subjected to critical chemical tests at home and abroad and found to contain nothing but natural digestives.

Chemical Laboratory, Telegraph address, "Diffindo," London, Telephone No. 11029 Central, 30 Colium St., Frenchurch, St. E. C.

London, 9th Aug., 1906. I have analyzed most carefully a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I bought myself at a chemist's shop for the purpose of manufacturing by the F. A. Stuart & Temple Chambers, London, E. C.) and have to report that I can find any trace of vegetable or mineral poisons. Knowing the ingredients of the tablets, I am of opinion that they are admirably adaptable for the purpose for which they are intended.

(Signed) John R. Brooke, F. R. C. S. F. C. S.

There is no secret in the preparation of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Their composition is common known among physicians, as is shown by the recommendations of 40,000 censed physicians in the United States and Canada. They are the most popular of all remedies for indigestion, dyspepsia, water brash, insomnia, loss of appetite, melancholia, constipation, dysentery, and kindred diseases originating from improper dissolution and assimilation of foods, because they are so thoroughly reliable and harmless to man or child.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are once a safe and powerful remedy, one grain of these tablets digests 1000 grains of steak, eggs and other food which your stomach can't digest.
