Some of the patterns will surprise you assuredly by their ingenuity.

COMMISSION WENT TO CONFERENCE

The Two Committees Hold Diametrically Opposite Views

The last final rally of the shippers and their friends on the manner of creating a railroad commission was made a special order in the state senate at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. After several separate and distinct fights in the two branches of the legislature over the matter, and after both houses had finally appointed conference committees, the time for the special order in the senate was fixed.

As is announced elsewhere Speaker Davey appointed Rodgers, Jackson and Campbell, and President Haines named Miller of Linn and Marlon, Bowerman and Hedges. It is known that the house committee will stand solidly for the Chapin bill, as amended, and as it passed the house. The senate committee prefer the Bingham measure that was agreed on in conference, and as it passed the senate.

Miller, of Linn and Marlon, at 11 o'clock moved to take up H. B. No. 2 from the table and place it on its final passage. Just then a message came from the house announcing that the speaker had appointed a conference committee.

Bingham made a strong speech to postpone the action for a few hours and see what the speaker proposed to do. He said he understood the president and the speaker had made a positive agreement this morning that a conference committee should be appointed and that no action would be taken on either bill until the joint committee reported. Senator Bingham said Speaker Davey had broken that agreement, as he had done all others in the matter, and urged the indefinite postponement of the senate bill. He desired the responsibility to be placed where it belonged, and he wanted to give the speaker a chance. He said the speaker had relented and had finally agreed to the appointment of a committee and now the senate should by all means give the committee a show. Beach and Bailey made their usual talk for the Chapin bill. Bingham again asked that the senate wait until the afternoon, and said he stood willing to vote for any kind of good railroad legislation, and he cared not what the color might be so long as it was red.

Smith, of Umatilla, then moved that the bill be laid on the table until 2:30 o'clock, when it be made the special order. Senator Hedges made a strong speech in favor of this, and asked the senators not to be bulldozed into hasty action by the speaker of the house or any epithets that he or the members might use. He said members of the house had used such terms as "Democratic henchmen" and he desired to say that he was no "henchman" for any party, man or concern. He intimated very strongly that the "henchmen" were on the other side of the capitol building. The motion to lay on the table until 2:30 was carried by a vote of 15 to 13.

A savings bank has failed in Britain, Conn., with losses of half a million to depositors. They have stringent banking law in that country. Clemenceau, at the head of the French ministry of state, is reported to have resigned, owing to a adverse report in the chamber of deputies.

Chapin Bill Enacted.

The conference committee of the two houses met this afternoon and deadlocked. The senate conferees asked that the governor be allowed to appoint for two years, and then the people to elect. The house conferees refused to concede anything, and the senate committee so reported, when the bill went back to the senate it was passed as it left the house, with the railroad commission to be appointed by a board composed of the governor, secretary of state and treasurer. It received 28 ayes and one no, Wheelon voting in the negative. It now goes to the governor for his signature or veto. He may file it without his approval.

When the message reached the house that the Chapin bill had passed the senate, Speaker Davey said: "Gentlemen, I congratulate you all on this happy termination and conformation to the will of the people." There was general applause, and the house went on with its routine work.

Governor Acts on Three Bills.

The governor filed senate bill No. 105, to fix boundary line of Umatilla county, with his approval. Senate bill No. 61, that 85 per cent of all school funds shall be expended for salaries, was filed without his approval. Senate bill No. 100, to create the office of deputy constable in Portland, filed without approval.

Senator's Daughter Becomes a Divorcee.

Washington, Feb. 13.—A court today granted a divorce to Charles G. Bassett from Fanny Rice Bassett, on grounds of infidelity. The woman is a daughter of Senator Rice, of Arkansas.

Miss Laura Wisa, the trained nurse, left for a visit at her home in Garanger, Washington.

"Are we going to concede to the will of the Democrats?" asked Rodgers.

"Are we not doing so by conceding it on the table?" asked Rodgers again.

"No," replied Rodgers. "The action of the senate is a slap in the face, and they ask us to concede on the other cheek. It is not a question for adjustment by conference, it is simply a question of parliamentary procedure. If the senate wishes to enact railroad legislation they will support the Chapin bill. The senate does not care to pass the Chapin bill."

Mr. Northrup then asked for reading of the message from the senate, which was done, and the question of indefinite postponement of the bill came to a vote, with result as above stated.
