

MISS ADELAIDE NICHOLS

PERIODS OF PAIN

While no woman is entirely free from periodic suffering, it does not seem to be the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely. Irregularities and pain are positive evidence that something is wrong which should be set right or it will lead to serious derangement of the feminine organism.

Thousands of women, have found relief from all periodic suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from native roots and herbs, as it is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science.

It cures the condition which causes so much discomfort and robs that period of its terrors. Women who are troubled with painful or irregular functions should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health and strength by taking Miss Adelaide Nichols of 324 West 22nd Street, New York City, writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—If women who suffer would only rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound their troubles would be quickly alleviated. I feel greatly indebted for the relief and health which has been brought to me by your inestimable remedy.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.

MAYOR RODGERS VETOES

Ordinance to Raise License Fees of Insurance Companies

The Honorable Common Council of the City of Salem:

Your ordinance increasing the license fee for fire insurance agents and establishing a fee for life, accident, marine, surety and plate glass insurance agents doing business in Salem I return herewith my veto because:

First, it attempts to include too many classes of insurance under the same flat fee of $50 per annum. In view of the small amount of business written by surety and plate glass insurance agents in Salem an annual license fee of $50 would, in my judgment, force the withdrawal of agencies here and require that all business to be written elsewhere, thus depriving of their commissions our citizens now engaged in this line of business; likewise depriving the city of any license fee whatever from this source. This may be said of accident insurance. It seems proper that the city should derive some revenue from insurance agencies of this character, which now pay no license fee, but a charge should be calculated to keep the business, however small it may be, with our own people.

"Second, each fire insurance agent now doing business in Salem is required to pay annually $18 for each and every company he represents. To increase this amount to $50 would result in taxing indirectly every resident of Salem who pays for fire insurance. The history of every excessive license requirement that has come to my notice has been one of retaliation on the part of the insurance underwriters in an increase of insurance rates to meet the tax.

"I realize that the greater part of all insurance premiums go to corporations outside of the city, but, at the same time, we must have the protection they afford, and should not add to the cost of that protection in order that our treasury might be the gainer thereby.

"GEORGE RODGERS, Mayor."

Britain's Oldest Inhabitant.

Edinburgh, Feb. 28.—John Grievie a native of Boroehilly, Glenquoich, in Glengarry, is celebrating his 107th birthday today. He is a shepherd, hale and hearty, and greatly enjoys his "Wee drap" punch and his pipe of tobacco. He lives very simply, mostly on oatmeal and milk, and seldom eats meat. He still wears the kilt which he purchased 44 years ago and could never be persuaded to don the orthodox trousers. He married in 1822 and three of his fourteen children survive. Sir Andrew Thompson, the famous physician, who is a personal friend of the old man, states that he is physically perfect and may, with care, attain the age of 125 years.

SPEAKER DAVEY REPLIES

Says He Had No Interest in the Monmouth-Drain Normal Bill

Speaker Davey was naturally wrought up at the severity of the veto message handed in by Governor Chamberlain Thursday, and it was the political sensation of the session. Before printing Speaker Davey's explanation of his action in reply to the governor, The Journal wishes to say what it has said before, that there is no evidence whatever that there was any corrupt motive actuating the speaker or any member of the house in doing what he did. Mr. Davey used no concealment whatever in the steps he took at any time, Friday evening or Saturday morning, and seemed to think he was doing what was right under the circumstances. It was an error of judgment, if any, to take the final vote the way it was done. The reporter seemed to think he was reporting a matter that was perfectly straight and correct. Of course, Governor Chamberlain has a perfect right to quote that report from the paper Mr. Davey is connected with, and the report is not disowned or denied by Mr. Davey.

The whole legislature laid itself open to censure by the careless disregard of parliamentary usage manifested at times. But the sins of the whole legislature should not be visited on the head of Mr. Davey. Still, as the people grow more intelligent they are going to demand higher standards of the men who are placed in positions to represent them and speak for them. The legislature just adjourned broke the record for passing bills without reading them, and many roll calls were taken where it was almost impossible to discover that a single individual voted one way or the other. Let those who will flatter the legislature. Some one should tell them the truth plainly about their practices, that border on the illegal and vicious. But, to return to Mr. Davey's reply to the governor, which, we trust, will close this incident:

Speaker Davey Replies.

"The governor of this state sees fit to attack me in a most unwarranted and unheard of manner in his veto of the normal school bill, basing his attack upon a newspaper reporter's account of a circumstance, and the governor's studied and intentional misconception of that account, in the face of his personal knowledge as to the actual facts which occurred. He asserts that I, as speaker of the house, called for votes for the bill, after the manner

"I WAS AN INVALID."

"Doctors Said That I Would Die, Cooper's New Discovery Cured Me."

YOU WHO SUFFER READ THIS LETTER

The Cooper Medicine Company:

Gentlemen—I write to tell you the wonderful results that I have obtained from the use of the Cooper medicines. For five years I was an invalid suffering from a severe affection of the bowels. I was operated upon by skilled physicians five times in three years without any success and was given up to die. My weight dropped from 164 pounds to 100. I had heard so much of Cooper's New Discovery and Quick Relief but must admit I had but little faith in them. I decided however to give them a trial. The result was that in two weeks I was able to be out walking around. I continued the treatment until I was entirely well and now weigh 169 pounds. I cannot thank Mr. Cooper enough for his wonderful medicines.

of an auction, and copies the recital of the newspaper reporter in support of his statement.

"The real truth is, as can be substantiated by the clerks of the house, and by members, that my remarks as to the number of votes were in response to questions from various parts of the house, as I stood 'with gavel raised,' ready to announce the vote, and were not on account of any care on my part as to the fate of the bill, in which I felt no personal interest whatever.

"As to the correctness of my action in reversing at the earliest possible moment the erroneous declaration that the bill had passed, and as to the procedure immediately following, in the verification of the roll call, and allowing a member to change his vote before a final and correct declaration, I have the sanction of the attorney-general of this state and the dictates of common sense, both of which I consider superior to the reasoning of the governor in his present state of mind, wherein anger, chagrin and disappointment are the ruling powers."

Sale of Santos Dumont's Airship

New York, March 1.—The sale will take place in the custom house this afternoon of the airship which Santos Dumont exhibited at the St. Louis exhibition in 1904. As is customary with exhibits of this kind, a bond was deposited with the custom authorities whereby the machine was granted free entry for a period of six months, at the expiration of which time it was assumed the ship would be returned to France. Such, however, was not the case, and for some reasons unknown to the custom officials the ship was stored in a warehouse in St. Louis at the close of the exhibition. It remained there until last week, when it was forwarded to this city, consigned to the seizure room at the appraisers warehouse as abandoned merchandise. It is expected that the machine will be purchased by some of the members of the Aero club.

Mexican Coffee Crop.

Vera Cruz, Mex., March 1.—The work of gathering the coffee crop in this country is now in full operation and most of it will be gathered before the end of the coming week. According to reports the crop will be a good average one, but it will be another month yet before accurate figures can be given in regard to the number of bags harvested. The price of Mexican coffee will be influenced to a considerable extent by prices that Brazilian coffee will bring in the New York market.

Rich Play Saturday Night.

One of the most important amusement events on the season's calendar is announced for Saturday night when George M. Cohan's biggest success "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway" will be presented at the Grand opera house. This attraction comes under the managerial banner of Klaw & Elinger, which lends to it the prestige of this great theatrical firm. It signifies a cast of prominence and a production that will leave nothing to be desired. The company is one of the largest and most expensive organizations on tour this season. Its cast of principals is headed by Corinne, whose popularity is unbounded. There is the usual attractive and lively Cohanesque ensemble and several of the greatest song hits this popular young man has ever composed, notably famous of which are: "So Long Mary," "A Popular Millionaire," "Only 45 Minutes from Broadway" and "Mary Is a Grand Old Name." In writing this play Mr. Cohan has departed from his usual field and given the stage a play abounding in sentiment, pathos, dramatic situations and fetching climaxes. Combined with the usual musical background it has resulted in an entertainment that will undoubtedly prove a lasting monument to the genius of this young writer, whose witty lines and Cohanisms have already invaded three continents and evoked laughter and comment wherever the English language is spoken.

"A Girl From Tennessee."

Tonight the Margarita Fischer Company, under the personal direction of Harry Blanchard, will present a four-act comedy drama entitled "A Girl From Tennessee," at the Klinger Grand theatre. This play has been selected by Miss Fischer as in it she will be able to present one of her strongest and favorite roles. The scene is laid in Nevada. Two partners, Caleb Swan and Asia Bice, upon the death of their old friend, William Kent, take it upon themselves to care for his property, which consists of a valuable gold mine. This they do in the interest of their old friend's daughter, who is way back in Tennessee. The girl was named by her father after the state in which she lives. The father and daughter love each other dearly, but after the death of the father the friends, who do not wish to cause the girl any sorrow, keep writing letters to her as if from her father. But she becomes impatient to see him, and unexpectedly appears in the mining camp at San Hill, she having traveled alone all the way from Tennessee. She learns the truth and then finds love and friends in the new place. This sweet story will be told by Miss Fischer and her company, with Miss Fischer in the leading role.

It has been the policy of the Margarita Fischer Company to only put on plays which are thoroughly moral in character and without a taint of vulgarity or license. The plays thus far presented by the company have had a moral to tell, as well as to please and entertain.

Don't Complain.

If your chest pains and you are unable to sleep because of a cough. Buy a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and you won't have any cough. Get a bottle now and that cough will not last long. ## Lard is no respecter of stomachs

No one on this green earth can eat lard-soaked food day after day and not feel its ill effects eventually. You may have one of those iron-clad stomachs which will prove unsusceptible for a time, but the hog-fat and its accompanying indigestibility will do its work sooner or later. It is an absolute fact that lard—simply hog-fat—is indigestible, and that it is not fit for the human stomach.

Cottolene, on the other hand, is made from pure, refined cotton seed oil—a product of nature which is thoroughly palatable, digestible and healthful. No other shortening contains the digestible, nourishing and healthful qualities of Cottolene. Even pie, that nightmare of dyspeptics, becomes easily digestible when made with Cottolene. How many people can eat lard-laden pie?

Ask your regular grocer for a pail of Cottolene and start tomorrow on the way to "lardless cookery." It will insure both for yourself and your family better food, better digestion and better health.

Cottolene shortens your food and lengthens your life.

Try it according to directions for a few weeks and you'll never go back to lard.

COTTOLENE was granted a GRAND PRIZE (highest possible award) over all other cooking fats at the recent Louisiana Purchase Exposition, and food cooked with COTTOLENE another GRAND PRIZE.

"Home Help" a book of 300 choice recipes, edited by Mrs. Rorer, is yours for a 2 cent stamp, if you address The N. K. Fairbank Company, Chicago.

A NEW FEATURE—The patent air-tight top on this pail is for the purpose of keeping COTTOLENE clean, fresh and wholesome; it also prevents it from absorbing all disagreeable odors of the grocery, such as fish, oil, etc.
