TALES OF MRS. EDDY.

Bankers of Her Home Town Testify to Her Competency.

(N. H.) Dispatch to the New York Herald, March 5.

One of the leading bankers of Concord, N. H., during all the other years that have burst about the name of the aged leader of the Christian Science church, have remained silent, today came out with emphatic testimony to the effect that Mrs. Eddy's personal knowledge is not only competent to manage her affairs, but is one of the most remarkable business women they have ever known.

One of them declared that she is an expert on bonds and that during all her business career she has never made a single mistake.

Corroborating the declarations of the bankers, her cousin, Henry M. Eddy, ex-representative and now one of the leading republicans of the state, declared positively that Mrs. Eddy is mentally alert and physical.

able to roam about her house as freely as a woman of 50.

She declared that she reads the daily newspapers, knows all about the sensation created by the suit brought by her son, and added that she is less indignant over the affair than are her friends.

"I have seen Mrs. Eddy several times during the last few months," said Mr. Fernald, president of the Concord State Bank, "and I am prepared to say that she is entirely able to manage her affairs. Of course, she is 86 years old, and consequently is not as strong as a woman of 50. But that she is in no way impaired mentally, and she is in calm possession of her faculties as is shown by this letter."

Mr. Fernald exhibited a four-page letter in the handwriting of the head of the Christian Scientist Church, and bearing her signature.

It was a strong hand with no signs of unsteadiness. On the contrary, the style was almost masculine in the firmness with which each character was formed. The letter was written by Mrs. Eddy on March 13 and dealt with a financial matter which she had conducted entirely herself.

"Ever since she came to Concord she has done business at this bank. Not a single transaction of a financial nature has been put through under her signature that she did not approve of, and I might say further that not a single investment with her money has been made that she did not suggest."

"Mrs. Eddy used her own personal checks for the transaction of matters of any magnitude. We have checks bearing her name dated up to within a few days ago."

Further statements intended to refute the allegations of mental incompetency were furnished by Fred N. Ladd, president of the Loan & Trust Savings Bank of Concord, and one of the leading financiers of the state. He has audited the accounts of Mrs. Eddy's affairs for several years.

Mr. Ladd explained that he is not a Scientist, but that he felt it his duty to speak out in favor of Mrs. Eddy. Like Mr. Fernald, he has never before made known that he was one of Mrs. Eddy's bankers. Concord was surprised to learn that the two men were familiar with her affairs.

"Not only is Mrs. Eddy perfectly competent to manage her own affairs, said Mr. Ladd, 'but she is a wonderful woman because of her remarkable grasp of intricate financial affairs and her discretion in making investments. She has never made an unfortunate investment. Nearly 20 years ago she asked me about bonds and I told her as much as I could about them and gave her the names of some gilt-edged securities."

She has acted on the advice all these years and has never lost. What the amount of her fortune is I am not privileged to state, but do say that it has been exaggerated."

"Frye, her secretary, has kept an almost painfully accurate account of every cent that has passed through his hands. Why, so careful was he to account for every penny that we found one time he was entering items of a penny and two cents for postage stamps."

"All Mrs. Eddy's receipts from copyrights come through Mr. Armstrong, of Boston, and accompanying these receipts were statements showing just what had been sold and what received. The statements have been marvels of clearness and information. The money has always been sent direct to Mrs. Eddy, and she has deposited in banks here until she desired to invest it in bonds. I might say here that she never, so far as I know, and I think I would have known, bought a single share of stock. She has always stuck to bonds."

"I have not seen Mrs. Eddy myself in several months, but I have had letters from her within the last two weeks in her own handwriting. Her signature today is just as bold and steady as it was a score of years ago."

"All these charges will be found to be baseless when they are properly investigated. I have audited her accounts for several years and am in a position to know what I am speaking about. Instead of finding that the people of Boston and Concord have been sapping her income it will be found that every penny has been accounted for and that no one but Mrs. Eddy has reaped a cent."

How to Remain Young.

To continue young in health and strength, do as Mrs. N. F. Rowan, McDonough, Ga. did. She says: "Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured me of chronic liver and stomach trouble, complicated with such an unhealthy condition of the blood that my skin turned red as flannel. I am now practically 20 years younger than before I took Electric Bitters. I can now do all my work with ease and assist in my husband's store." Guaranteed at J. C. Perry, druggist. Price 50c.

1,000,000 APPLE TREES.

In One Order Given the Washington Nursery of Toppenish, Wash.

(Toppenish News.)

The Washington Nursery company of Toppenish, has just closed a contract with the Arcadia Irrigation association of Spokane agreeing to furnish them with one million apple trees for their large fruit tracts. This is the biggest deal of the kind ever consummated in the history of any nursery and reflects great credit on the Washington Nursery Co., both as to their ability to grow the highest possible grade of stock, and their business enterprise in securing an order of this magnitude. Toppenish may well be proud of such an institution and with orders of this size coming its way, the company will certainly develop into an immense organization at a rapid rate. In fact, its growth during the less than four years it has been established is little less than marvelous and the credit is altogether due to the well known experience and ability of the president, Mr. A. W. McDonald, who brought with him to Toppenish a thorough knowledge of the nursery business, coupled with keen business foresight in selecting a location for his growing fields on the Yakima Indian reservation, far removed from old, infected orchards, where the trees could be protected from contamination.

How well he has succeeded is proven by the fact that the Washington Nursery company, of Toppenish, is now the second largest company west of the Rockies and their reputation is such that the Arcadia Irrigation association in promoting their large enterprise wisely chose the stock from Toppenish in preference to all others, an announced in their large ad in the northwest papers, extracts from which read as follows:

"The Arcadia closed the contract today with a large nursery company for 1,000,000 apple trees. This is the largest single order for apple trees ever given."

"These trees were ordered from the Washington Nursery company of Toppenish."

"We sent our experts all over this state and part of Oregon and Idaho and he reported that the Toppenish nursery surpassed them all in purity from all insect pests and quality of trees."

The first large installment of this order goes out with the spring delivery.

There are many people who can see nothing good in a doughnut except the hole. For them there is nothing in this world but calamity. Their greatest trouble is to have to eat three times a day. The stomach is in rebellion, and this is immediately shown in a man's face. A man to be successful must have sunshine inside. The world already has too many dyspepsia faces that breathe disaster and gloom.

Stomach trouble is the most common cause of discontent, sour face, recklessness, disgust and lack of ambition. A bad stomach—there is the secret of many a failure. Anyone can have a good stomach, a strong stomach, a stomach that can take care of anything and everything that is put into it, no matter whether it is a very little stomach or not.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this very thing. One ingredient of these little tablets digests 3000 grains of food, and no matter how bad your dyspepsia or indigestion they will digest everything in your stomach, thoroughly and completely and better and more quickly than a good strong healthy stomach can do it. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will quickly cure loss of appetite, brash, irritation, burning sensations, nausea, heartburn, eructations, loss of vim and energy, bad memory, and dyspepsia and indigestion in their very worst forms.

No other little tablets in the world can do so much. You should carry Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets around with you wherever you may go and take them after meals. Then only will you realize what it is to enjoy a meal, and what perfect digestion means. Your whole body and your mind will feel the effects; your vim will increase, you will be more satisfied with what the world does, you will think happier and be happier and your face will be one of supreme contentment. That will bring you success and then more success. Your face will bring you dollars. Try it. It will cost you just 50c for a package of these wonderful Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, at any drug store on earth.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 82 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Ask Exemption from Texas.

China Export Trade Practically Dead

New York, March 20.—No important transactions have taken place in the export division of the cotton goods market during the month. Additional orders have been received from Jamaica for general lines of dry goods, while fair orders are also reported from South America. Inquiries continue to come forward from the various Red Sea ports, but in the majority of cases the prices which the buyers are willing to pay are considerably below open market values.

Nothing has been heard from China, and the situation, so far as the export merchant is concerned, is as unsatisfactory as ever. An idea of the manner in which business has fallen off for China account can be had from the official export figures for the month of January, just supplied by the government. For the first month of 1907 the exports to all countries of manufactured cotton goods, colored and uncolored, bleached and unbleached, amounted to 29,250,528 yards valued at $1,711,397, as against 66,418,856 yards, valued at $3,924,939 for the corresponding period in 1906. Out of this total China took 1,613,462 yards valued at $112,456, as against 45,178,409 yards valued at $2,532,515 in 1906.

This is a remarkable shrinkage, and fully substantiates the statements made by export merchants doing business with China to the effect that the China trade has been practically dead for sometime. Had it not been for the unusually heavy demand for home consumption, there is no doubt whatever that prices in the cotton goods division of the market would be very much below their present level. As it is expert counts are very firmly held, in spite of this lack of demand for shipments abroad and buyers have been unable to break prices or obtain concessions from sellers.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

University of Saskatchewan.

Regina, Ala., March 20.—The university act introduced by the provincial government for the purpose of establishing and incorporating the university for the province of Saskatchewan provides for the erection of the necessary machinery for the proper carrying on of the proposed sort of learning. By the act the university is constituted a body politic and corporate. By the act no religious tests will be required of either professors or students. The maintenance of the university is to be provided out of the general revenues or the the province by sums appropriated by the legislature.
