ODD FELLOWS' BIRTHDAY.

Is Being Celebrated All Over the World April 26th.

The 88th anniversary of the institution of Odd Fellowship will be observed all over the world Friday evening, April 26th. Eighty-eight years ago an Odd Fellows' lodge was organized in Baltimore, Md., with five charter members, in what was known as the Seven Stars building. This building burned in the big fire about three years ago.

The original lodge grew slowly and the order did not increase rapidly in membership for many years, but it was founded on the rock of true fellowship, and its ultimate success was certain. It is stated that the habit in that first lodge of inquiring after absent members was the origin of visits to the sick and the subsequent development of caring and benefits for sick members.

From that little acorn of five charter members has grown in only 88 years the greatest secret order in the United States, with 22,000 lodges and over 1,700,000 members in the United States sovereign jurisdiction. The magnitude of the order can be appreciated when it is stated that the second order in size has over 600,000 fewer members than the Odd Fellows, the latter being larger than the next two fraternal orders. The number of initiations annually into the Odd Fellows, over 200,000, is larger than the total membership of any but four or five other orders.

Rheumatic Pains.
I have been a very great sufferer from the dreadful disease, rheumatism, for a number of years. I have tried many medicines but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I found relief before I had used all of one bottle, but kept on applying it and soon felt like a different woman. Through my advice many of my friends have tried it and can tell you how wonderfully it has worked.—Mrs. Sarah A. Cole, 140 S. New St., Dover, Del. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. It makes rest and sleep possible. For sale at Dr. Stone's drug store.

In the game with O. A. C. Clemo will go up behind the bat and McDowell will fill the pitcher's box.

Doing Business Again.

"When my friends thought I was about to take leave of this world, on account of indigestion, nervousness and general debility," writes A. A. Christolm, Treadwell, N. Y., "and when it looked as if there was no hope left, I was persuaded to try Electric Bitters, and I rejoice to say that they are curing me. I am now doing business again as of old, and am still gaining daily." Best tonic medicine on earth. Guaranteed by J. C. Perry, druggist. 50c.

Fourth of July Celebration.

Eugene and Salem have a hard time getting up enthusiasm for Fourth of July celebrations.

The fact is, people have lost interest in the commercialized celebrations.

They are very expensive, and are systematically grafted by a class that is growing too numerous.

A simpler celebration, with literary, musical and oratorical features is preferable and more dignified.

A celebration that costs thousands of dollars and ends in noise, uproar and accidents is not the demand of an intelligent community.

TALKING FOREST RESERVES

Senator Fulton Opposed to the Extensions of the System

La Grande Observer: Senator Charles W. Fulton arrived in La Grande and went on to Union, where he will address the graduation class of the Union high school on "Duties of An American Citizen." When his duties have been performed in Union he will return to his home, but he has an extended trip through Eastern Oregon planned, and in about a month he will visit La Grande and the other cities of the eastern portion of the state in a leisurely way, in that manner having more time to meet his constituents.

Talks Forest Reserve.

The senator conversed freely with several of his friends this morning on the subject which is uppermost in the minds of many Oregonians, and that is, forest reserves. Senator Fulton favors the reserving of timber land under certain conditions, but is opposed to the recent additions, on the grounds that too much land was put in the reserved class. He said: "I believe in forest reserves. I believe in reserving timber land at the head of streams, of timber land with a topography that makes the land useless for agricultural purposes, for the day will come when timber will be at a premium in Eastern states, but when, notwithstanding that it is dotted with splendid timber land, is so located and of such topography that when the timber is removed it would make fine farming land, then I am opposed to it. Don't understand me to say that I deery forest reserves. I do not; but I do contend that too much land was added at the last reserve."

Replying to questions relative to the retracting of certain pieces of land which are conspicuously agricultural land and not timber land, the senator said: "The theory is pretty, but has no practicability. Imagine a tract of land within a large section of reserve which is suitable for farming purposes. This little island, as it were, is set out and made subject to homestead entry. Do you suppose that the intelligent farmer will isolate himself in the middle of a forest, with no hopes of ever having neighbors, of having educational facilities for his children? It is hardly possible?"

"We are not going to sacrifice land suitable for agricultural purposes when once the timber is removed, for the sake of New England. It is true that New England believes the far West was settled for the express benefit of the Eastern states, but we certainly are not. There is now reserved a large quantity of timber land, sufficient to more than supply the West, but I strongly contend that timber land in Oregon, which could be converted into farming land by removing the timber, should be at the disposal of those who wish to do so. There is plenty of timber on mountainous sections to supply the timber demand. Then, too, there are sections reserved which would afford excellent ranges. These should not have been reserved."

Just Because

Your cough is only in the throat and does not trouble you now, don't think that it needs no attention. When it has not had much of a start is the time to check it. The slightest cough easily leads to Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Consumption. A bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will cure that cough. The price puts it within reach of all. Sold by D. J. Fry.

Prices Rising in Europe.

Consul General Richard Guenther reports from Frankfurt as follows on further efforts in Europe to advance prices on manufactured goods:

Another new German combine has been established among the manufacturers and exporters of tools and steel and metallic wares in the industrial regions of Rhenish Prussia and Westphalia. The object of this combine is to secure better prices and more favorable terms of sale for their productions, especially as regards business dealings with Russia. The five manufacturers of Austria-Hungary have combined upon a price schedule and credit terms whereby their productions are enhanced 10 per cent in price. Hitherto there has been a sharp competition and consequent divergence in prices of their goods among the five works of Austria and Hungary.

The syndicate of Belgian shoe manufacturers has decided upon a 10 per cent advance for all their productions in shoe ware. The high price of leather is assigned as the cause of this action.

DELICATE CHILDREN

Advice to Salem Mothers Who Have Delicate Children.

If we could only make all fathers and mothers in Salem regard what we say there would be fewer sickly, delicate children on our streets.

Rapidly growing children need a great deal of vitality. They grow fast, play hard, and work too hard at school, and many such children are tired, thin, pale and worn when they ought to be robust and rosy.

Every run-down, growing child in Salem should take Vinol, our delicious cod liver preparation without oil. It requires almost no digestion at all, and cannot upset delicate, weakened stomachs as do old-fashioned cod liver oil emulsions. Vinol also contains peptonate of iron.

It strengthens the digestive organs, makes new vitality, sound flesh and pure, rich, red blood. Vinol fills out hollow cheeks and makes thin little arms and legs plump and round.

Said a member of the G. W. Putnam Drug Company: "We cannot recommend Vinol too highly for puny, weak and ailing children, to build up the run-down, over-worked, tired and debilitated, or to give renewed vitality to the aged, and we cheerfully refund the money in every case where it fails." G. W. Putnam Drug Company.

Note.—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Fall River, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.
