Mr. Walker Whiteside.
On May 3 Walker Whiteside and an excellent company will be seen at the Grand opera house in the new play, "The Magic Melody" which has been especially prepared for Mr.

Whiteside's use. The play is said to be a remarkable offering in many ways, for it combines tense dramatic qualities with a wonderful sympathetic quality that is usually missing in strings of this character. Mr. Whiteside is well known as an actor of more than usual attainments, and the new managers, Liebler & Co. have supplied him with one of the best supporting companies that could be obtained in New York at this season of the year. The story of the play deals with the efforts of a king of finance to marry his ward to a titled Englishman while she has given her heart unreservedly to a young musician played by Mr. Whiteside. Various other incidents and characters are interwoven in such a manner as to make the whole a comprehensive and interesting story.

New York Theater Notes.
Buffalo Bill's Wild West, with the indubitable Colonel Cody still at its head, returned to New York and opened in Madison Square Garden on Monday. The Indian, the cowboy, the cavalry soldier, the cossack, the Japanese, the Mexican and the Arab, are all the "real thing." The Indians, cowboys and the cavalrymen are dressed and armed as their forefathers were when the great far west was a debatable land, every road of which received its sanguinary baptism. No reliance is placed upon the glamour of footlight or the cunning use of electricity, but a simple and faithful representation is given of the conditions that tried the souls of men and women before railroads opened up the wide territory lying between the Mississippi river and the Rocky mountains. One of the several episodes connected with the story of the west is a reproduction of what is known in military annals as Carr's victory of Summit Springs, which was won on July 11, 1865. General E. A. Carr, one of the distinguished veterans of the war of the rebellion, was in command, with "Buffalo Bill" Cody as his chief of scouts. The occasion was noted from the fact that Buffalo Bill killed the Indian chief, "Tall Bull." Another feature is a view of ranch life in the happier later days, showing the early pioneers and settlers in a holiday revel, introducing trained Texas mustangs and bandit hunters of the Union Pacific in a lively contest to punish the perpetrators of a trait hold-up. Colonel Cody is seen in this in an exhibition of shooting on horseback, as is "Johnny" Baker and the western zouaves. The show is to remain in the Garden three weeks.

Messrs. Wagenhals & Kemper, revived on Thursday evening at the Actor theater, Leo Ditrchstein's popular farce "Before and After," which ran for one hundred and forty nights here a year or so ago. The piece is light, brittle and enjoyable and though adapted from the German, it has the spice that makes it attractive to local audiences. The story is entirely whimsical. It concerns a physician who tries to interest a professional chum in a new powder called "Sunny Jim," which has the property of putting one in good humor and bringing relief from all care. He is unsuccessful, so puts one of the powders in a glass of water, which the incredulous one drinks. The trouble begins instantly, for the unbeliever kisses one of his patients, the wife of a French colonel. Humorous complications follow ending in the aggrieved Frenchman sipping a liquid containing the wonderful powder, which at once puts him in the necessary good humor to listen to explanations all around. In the revived farce Leo Ditrchstein, Charles Dickson, Henry Donnelly, R. C. Herz, Miss Julia Taylor, Miss Kenyon Bishop and Miss Georgia Lawrence assume the leading roles.

Robert Mantell follows "The Grand Mogul," at the New Amsterdam theater, on Monday in Shakespearean repertoire.
George M. Coban's musical comedy, "Little Johnny Jones," is too familiar to need detailed description, but its interest is not so much exhausted that it will not make an excellent spring attraction for the Academy of Music, to which it returned on Monday night for a fortnight's revival, containing as it does, attractive music, bright incidents and novel situations. Among the people who will appear in its role are many who were identified with it when it won its first New York success. In the company are Sam Ryan, Tom Lewis, Frank Montgomery, Miss Hazel Lowery, Miss Lottie Medley and Miss Ida Mantell.

Your Physician will tell you there is no better or safer mixture known to cleanse the blood and build it up, which everyone should do at this time of the year. Readers of this paper can make no mistake by following this simple though valuable advice.

A dramatization of Upton Sinclair's widely read novel, "The Jungle," made by the author and Miss Margaret Mayo, the interesting stock company event at Keith & Proctor's Fifth avenue theater this week. Though the story has been somewhat changed for stage use, it still is recognizable. Cecil Owen appeared as the hero Jurgis and Miss Henrietta Brown as Olga.

Watertown Land Office Discontinued.
Watertown, S. D., May 1.—The Watertown land office in this city closed yesterday. It had been practically known for some time that the office would be closed. Practically all the vacant land within a radius of a hundred miles or so has been taken up, and, for the most part, titles thereto perfected through the proving up process, so that it was getting to be a tame business that the office had conducted. There is much land yet to be acquired in the Aberdeen district, a large proportion of the entries not having been closed up, so far as proof is concerned, and the greater part of the business still remaining within the Watertown district was along the northeastern portion of the state in Roberts county on the Milwaukee system, which is easier reached from Aberdeen than from Watertown. The business at Watertown has dwindled down so that the land officers found slim salaries, and in February they tendered their resignations, to take effect in the month of April. This seems to have been considered the opportune time to close the Watertown office, in the opinion of the commissioners of the general land office. The archives of the office will be removed to Aberdeen soon.

Smith, of Rutgers college, and Carroll Brent Clifton, have been engaged for these lectures.

Legislature May Sit Until May 16.
Albany, N. Y., May 1.—While the assembly adopted a resolution fixing the time of the adjournment May 9, yet the probabilities are that the legislature will not separate until the 16th. The reapportionment assumes great importance, and the members are disposed to spend much time over it, so that it may even take until the 25th to come to a conclusion.

It is regarded as certain that Governor Hughes is not so much concerned about the manner in which the districts were mapped out, to retain control of the Republican organization as he is that there shall be passed by the legislature a bill that will be constitutional. It is the opinion of all observers of affairs in the legislature that there will be a thorough reapportionment.

Government Tests Submarine Lake.
New London, May 1.—The submarine lake has been brought here from Newport for a test at the hands of the government officers. The machine was hauled out of the water, and given a general and complete cleaning. The submarine has been given several spins over the naval measured mile course, and has made what is considered good speed, although the exact speed has not been made known.

Bonuses Exceed $50,000.
Denver, May 1.—After the annual meeting of the American Smelting & Refining company today a large amount of bonus money will be distributed. In 1905 the company paid $50,000 in bonuses in this state. Last year the bonus fund for Colorado amounted to $50,000. This year it will be more, because the business of the company during the fiscal year has been tremendous. It is estimated that the net earnings will be close to $15,000,000.

How Much Do You Spend Every Year For Cigars?

You buy a lot of cigars in a year's time, don't you? How many of them are good and how many are bad? If it's too much trouble to figure that out, at least you can estimate how much you'd save and how much more enjoyment you'd get if you could be sure beforehand that every cigar you buy would be a good one.

We have solved your problem by stamping the "Triangle A" on the boxes of the best cigars made. We know that by making this "Triangle A" mean "good cigars" to you (and we have to prove it with the cigars alone) we get your continued patronage.

Isn't it plain enough that we MUST produce cigars that prove our claims?

The American Cigar Company cannot jeopardize its interests by misrepresenting qualities and leading the public to expect better quality than is actually in the cigars themselves. The "Triangle A" really means better cigars for you—and you'll find the proof worth seeking.

For convincing proof of the better quality for which the "Triangle A" stands try

The New CREMO
Every box is extra-wrapped with glassine paper, sealed at each end with the "Triangle A" merit mark, assuring cleanliness and proper condition.
