

It's Neuralgia

those sharp, shooting, stinging pains drive you just crazy, take Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, get relief. They drive the pain by their soothing effect upon the nerves. When taken as directed they are harmless, leave no bad after-effects. That's the reason they are so popular with those who use them. Your druggist can tell you what others in your locality think of them.

Do positively think that Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are the best medicine put upon the market. I find them most useful and soothing, and they have no bad after-effects. I have had neuralgia so that my head would just ache and quiver, I cannot take opiates; but I can take these tablets, and they always relieve me. No one that suffers with neuralgia need fear to take them as they will not form a habit, for I was very opiate in them I could take them. Just one in the morning, I feel bad, and I can do my all day.

W. H. BURKETT, Macon, Ga. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by druggists, who will guarantee that each package will benefit. If it does not, they will return your money, or 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. The Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

THE SEWING ROOM..

HOW MRS. NEWLYWED FITTED UP HER SEWING ROOM WITHOUT ANY PLACE TO PUT IT--THE TRIUMPH OF A WOMAN'S WIT AND DESIRE FOR CONVENIENCE....

From time to time I have been giving the readers glimpses of Mrs. Newlywed's furnishings in her modest little home, with the idea that other women may be interested in her schemes and find occasional suggestions that will help them to make their homes attractive and comfortable after the latest methods but without extravagant outlay.

The Sewing Room.

Mrs. Newlywed had seen in her girlhood home how much more easily the household sewing was accomplished where there was a room set aside for that purpose.

The sewing room there had been so large that it had been utilized as a general work room as well. One sister having her corner arranged with the tools for wood carving, another having space for the "studio" as she dubbed her special painting place, while Mrs. Newlywed and her mother had room in the rest of the space for their no less artistic and attractive stitching.

The Little New Home.

Her own little house offered no such spacious accommodation, in fact at first sight there was no room available to set aside for the purpose. There was however a jut about 6 feet square at the end of the second floor with a long window door that opened out on a small balcony and this she determined to utilize for her sewing room.

The Machine selected.

The machine was the most expensive and important purchase to be made for this cozy and profitable corner and with her usual good sense, she selected a No. 7 of the same make that she had been used to running in her old home. It was a great improvement on the older machine, had all the latest and most up-to-date attachments, was especially light running yet would answer for any requirements she was liable to make upon it from the most substantial sewing to the tuckings, new puffs, etc., that would ornament her prettiest blouses and other garments. She felt that it was safer to

Just a Hint.

"The brown Derby hat is all the go now for men," remarked Mr. Staylate.

"Indeed?" replied Miss Patience Gonne. "If that's true it's too bad you haven't a brown Derby with you this evening."—Philadelphia Press.

Relief From Rheumatic Pains.

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Rolland Curry, a patrolman, of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale by Dr. Stone's drug store.

buy from an old established firm, than to risk purchasing a machine of a nondescript, cheaper sort.

A Screen the Next Fitting.

Next in importance was the screen which she meant should do yeoman's service for many things beside screening her little work room from casual observation.

A rather heavy old-fashioned clothes horse, with square frames was selected for this and cheap but substantial brass hinges replaced the cotton tapes that held the parts together.

The Covering.

Some of the pretty green Sanitas that had been left from the hall wall hanging was utilized for covering this, and was brought over the edges of the frame and neatly tacked inside.

Upholstery nails with large dull brass heads, were tacked at intervals outside, more for ornament than utility, though they also helped to keep the covering trim and taut.

Inside that screen was a wonder of ingenious devices for holding the many conveniences that are needed in a sewing room. Bags of green denim that resembled shoe bags and laundry bags with pockets of various sizes, all labelled, held patterns, cotton, linings, silk trimmings, etc.

Brass Screw-Hooks.

Brass hooks screwed into the stained wood of the frame held smaller button and tape bags and a hinged board attached to one fold that could be made into a cutting table, did duty for all the many things that are demanded of such a convenience.

The Balcony.

On warm days the screen was often shifted out onto the balcony, placed where it would shield from the sun, as well as from too inquisitive neighbors, and made to do duty in very many ways. Additions to its store of conveniences were from time to time suggested and added and Mrs. Newlywed's sewing room was a pronounced success.

ELEANOR FRANCES.

Beauties of Language.

Two members of the Princeton faculty, according to Harper's Weekly, during a recent hurried trip to New York, were on a Broadway car when it was stopped by a blockade. As they were near their destination they decided to get out and walk. The block was, however, soon lifted, and the car overtook them.

"When we left the car," said one of the "highbrows," who by the way, has a bit of Celt in him, "I thought we should go to better by getting off. But after all, we should have been better off if we had stayed on."

Good Words for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

People everywhere take pleasure in testifying to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Edward Phillips of Barclay, Md., writes: "I wish to tell you that I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My little girl, Catherine, who is two years old, has been taking this remedy whenever she has had a cold since she was two months old. About a month ago I contracted a dreadful cold myself, but I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was soon as well as ever." This remedy is for sale by Dr. Stone's drug store.

For Better or Worse.

A Baltimore woman who had "a perfect treasure of a cook," was horrified recently when Maggie came to her saying:

"Please, mum, I'm givin' ye a wake's notice."

"Why, Maggie!" exclaimed the lady of the house, "this is a surprise! Aren't you satisfied here? Do you hope to better yourself?"

"Well, no, mum," responded Maggie. "'Tis not exactly that. The fact is, mum, I'm goin' to get married."—Harper's Weekly.

Wonderful Eczema Cure.

"Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Henrietta, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. We then employed other doctors but no benefit resulted. By chance we read about Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all blood medicine and body building health tonics. Guaranteed at J. C. Perry's drug store. 50c.
