SMILES

These be the days when the wise politician turneth his eyes toward Coos and Curry counties, a region that seems to be the hatchery and nursery of political hopes.

There are only two ways to get railroads: Build them yourself, or get the other fellow to build them. In the present time, the other fellow is the detested millionaire and plutocrat, at whose hands the people would scorn to take a single mile of track in this neck of woods.

The county school superintendents of Yamhill and Polk are going ahead holding bigger school fairs than ever. Shows what live men can do without a state appropriation.

A little oil on the streets is a good thing, if it isn't put on just according to Hoyle.

Pioneer picnics. Fourth of July celebrations, Farmers' Institutes, and Development Conventions will keep the people busy on the right lines.

It is really too much for the mechanics, laborers and teamsters around Salem to expect work on state jobs when convicts can be given employment. Let the Ms., Ls. and Ts. educate their children and pay taxes. That will keep them busy until election day.

Senator Platt ought to go and quietly go through the motions of a voluntary interment. He has been dead for a long, long time, but, like other walking corpses, he does not know it.

A rose and flower show would be a fine thing. Let's have it when Mrs. Leslie Carter comes to Salem, and send that bright woman away talking about the real "Flower City" of Oregon.

SALEM STAGE NOTES

A Race for a Widow.

A clean comedy production of the brightest description, rich in humor, embellished with several song hits and a well-developed plot, at times strongly dramatic in dialogue and situation. It comes to the Grand opera house Wednesday, May 22.

The company is said to be excellent, which adds to the popularity of the production. Here is a recent press comment: A large audience saw "A Race for a Widow" at the Brooks last night. It is a clever three act farce, full of good clean humor. It moves at a lively clip, but is entirely free of the slap and bang business so common in farce comedy. Nina Bell Wilber as Rose, an American widow, gives a clever portrayal of an adventuress, the chief trouble maker for Holton any stage. The management believes in doing things well at all times and in this engagement every bit of the entire production will be seen; all the specialties introduced and nothing cut out. Our people will see exactly the same show as the people at Chicago St. Louis, Pittsburg, Cincinnati and all other large cities saw where this company has been. It is safe to predict that "Old Arkansas" will be greeted with a crowded house.

Old Jeremiah Snodgrass, one of the comedy characters in "Old Arkansas" will keep you laughing all the time he is before you. A more peculiar laughable character has never been conceived, his old time songs, sung in true Arkansas style, are some of the funniest bits of realism ever seen on any stage.

The New Company.

mueller. The company is an evenly balanced one and "A Race for a Widow" is well worth seeing.—Oklahoma State Capital.

The Wichita Eagle says it was a decidedly lively race at the theater last night when "A Race for a Widow" was presented. It was one of those good modern comedies, sparkling with real life and brim full of the kind of funny situations that never fail to please.

Old Jeremiah Snodgrass.

The theater-goers of our city are to be favored with a genuine treat on Tuesday, May 21, when Fred Raymond's big melo-dramatic comedy, "Old Arkansas," makes its appearance at the Grand opera house.

A number of new and interesting features have been added this season and the vaudeville portion of the play has received special attention. There are four big specialty acts in addition to the regular ones that belong to the play. Some new novelties in the way of scenic efforts have been put in and the mechanical part of the show has never been excelled

Stock Company will make its initial bow. Much interest has been shown by the public in general concerning the new organization, and anxious inquiries are received by the management daily.

The Klins-Grand has, in a measure, adopted a new policy. The curtain will rise promptly every evening at 8:15, and the performance will be finished in good season to enable patrons living on the outskirts of the city to take the last car and avoid a long walk. There have been many requests of this kind, therefore the plan will be adopted.

The play for next Monday night is entitled "The World Against Him," a comedy drama strong in dramatic interest and overflowing with bright humor. This play will be presented for three nights, and on Thursday evening a new one. The company will change plays twice each week during its engagement here, and those who would like a couple of hours' entertainment and wholesome fun may have the same for 15 or 25 cents by calling at the Klins-Grand theatre next Monday night.

Dollar wheat for the farmer and two dollars a day for common labor seems to be the American platform of the future.

Plant a flower before you die. Others will do the planting after you are gone. The way not to go is to plant flowers of love and kindness here.

"Jack" Mathews, the former Republican leader of Oregon, is sojourning for a time at Elk creek. Parties returning from there say Mathews declines to recognize his friends and acquaintances, and is apparently traveling incognito.—Astoria Budget.

Relief From Rheumatic Pains.

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Rolland Curry, a patrolman, of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale by Dr. Stone's drug store.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonial free.

Sold by all druggists. Price, 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.
