THE BOGUS PRINCE TUESDAY

SPLENDID MUSICAL COMEDY

Singers That Can Sing and Dancers That Can Dance

On next Tuesday evening George Pixley's great musical comedy, "The Bogus Prince," will be presented at the Grand Opera House by a company of the cleverest actors that have visited this city for many a season. There will be singers that can sing, dancers that can dance, and comedians that can make good in any part of the country. This show is made up of forty talented and high class performers and comes to us with a good reputation. "The Bogus Prince" has melodious music and a plot that involves numerous pleasant situations and funny situations. Willie Robinson, the star of the theatrical world and known the country over as the high class comedian, is a genuine gem in his impersonation of "The Bogus Prince." Harry Frazier as "Harry Simpleton," in love with Mary Astorbilt's daughter, is a unique comedian, every move bringing forth a burst of laughter, and Francis Carter as "William Skinner," the so-called sharp, is an actor of rare ability and a singer that always makes a hit. The chorus, a bunch of beautiful girls, challenge comparison and will find them clever dazlers in a wardrobe that can't be beat. Remember that next Tuesday evening is the date for the appearance of this big production and the seat sale will be open Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

the seating capacity of the auditorium. The morning cottage prayer meetings, held simultaneously in ten different localities have been attended by an average total attendance of 100 persons. The afternoon Bible readings at the church have perhaps been the most helpful and enthusiastic of all. Mr. Haudenschield is a master on the Scriptures. His statements of Bible truth are clear as a bell, and very convincing. The characteristics of the evening evangelistic service are vigor, spirit, enthusiasm in singing and preaching that ought to awaken the conscience of every hearer. Though not a large number of converts have been made, yet it is confidently expected that the remaining few days of the meeting will show large results.

FOURTH OF JULY IN SALEM

MONEY TO THROW AT THE BIRDS
Everybody Is Enthusiastic and a Grand Day Is Assured

The committees having charge of the Fourth of July celebration met at the board of trade rooms last evening to further perfect arrangements for that event. The finance committee was especially commended by Chairman Huckestein for the good work done by it. The report of this committee shows that more than $1300 is available. The reports shows that the business men generally are taking much interest in the matter, and that the greatest celebration ever held in Salem will be the result. All the other committees reported progress, showing the work assigned to each was well in hand, and that every branch of the celebration is being attended to, even to the minutest detail.

The only thing left to be agreed upon and arranged for, is the manner of electing a goddess of liberty, but as Oregon girls are all goddesses any old plan will be sure to meet with success. Excursions will be arranged for with low rates, and the eagle will surely scream.

SOCIAL GOSSIP

High School Banquet.

The banquet given Friday night by the juniors to the seniors '07 class, graduating this June proved a great success. It was given in the new Congregational church on Liberty street and there were over a hundred students present besides the high school faculty, making three long tables full, each nearly the length of the room besides the faculty table.

The two rooms were very artistically decorated in pennants and sprays of sweet brier. Besides each plate was a white rosebud and a commencement card commemorative of the affair, containing the menu and toasts. About twenty-five sophomore and freshman girls served the viands which were indeed plentiful. Seats were taken about seven o'clock, Floyd Utter acting as toastmaster. While delicious fruit salad was being served William Perkins was called upon for the address of welcome from the '08 class and Miss Alta Altman for the seniors responded. The first speech was cut short by a seeming forgetfulness in some of the lines and the response was ended by a bit of appropriately original poetry. Some of the best concocted chicken pie ever put together was served next, together with creamed potatoes, new peas, olives, pickles and jelly. This was followed by '07 ice cream and cake, then coffee and '08 candles.

After the last courses were served Chas. Harrison, '07, was called upon for a few words upon class regrets. He made a very appropriate impromptu address showing the seniors regrets in leaving the other classes and getting in a few puns on the faculty. Ethel Thomas next told what the '07 class had done in the athletic line. Prof. Berry Eastham, next called upon, soared a little in his talk upon the subject of "High Ideals." This talk appealed to the students. Miss Alice Richards, who has but recently resigned the literary department in the high school, made a witty little talk upon general school subjects which brought cheers from all present. Principal Marlette spoke also upon the subject of "Ideals," but delved into it a little more deeply than Prof. Eastham. He complimented the senior class and expressed his regrets at their going out of the school.

Supt. Powers made the closing address and although not at first making the closing part quite clear he did it in a sort of P. S. speech and the tables were left about 9:30. A little social mingling was then enjoyed and a few selections were given by the high school quartet. Miss Lucile Savage helped entertain with a solo accompanied by Miss Althea Moores. The company broke up about 10 o'clock, everyone declaring it was the best thing in the school year. The banquet last night was the second annual one given by the junior class to the graduating class from the Salem high school.

Bishop-Davidson Wedding.
The marriage of Miss Mary Elizabeth Davidson, and Mr. Mason William Bishop was solemnized Wednesday evening, at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Davidson in South Salem.

It was a very pretty event attended only by the relatives and a few friends of the young people. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, roses being in evidence throughout.

The wedding march was played by Miss Hazel Bishop, sister of the groom, as the bridal party entered the parlors, and took their place beneath a large horse shoe formed of roses, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. William Bishop of Portland, grandfather of the groom. The bride looked pretty in a gown of white silk, mull, and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Rebah Haskel of Medford niece of the bride was ring bearer. After the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served.

The young people are both well known in this city where they have a host of friends. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Davidson, and is a highly accomplished young lady. The groom is a son of J. A. Bishop and is a young man of sterling qualities.

They left Thursday morning for Seattle and other Sound cities. They will be at home to their friends at 104 Wilson street, South Salem, after June 1st.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Haskel of Medford; Rex Bishop, of Portland; Mrs. F. M. Gerow, Portland, and Rev. and Mrs. William Bishop of Portland.

Elks Party—

The Elks gave another one of their successful card and dancing parties at their pretty club house Thursday evening. It was needless to say there was a large number of guests and that all enjoyed themselves as the Elks are known to be royal entertainers and these little affairs, given about every two weeks, are always looked forward to with much pleasure for the members and their ladies. A few musical numbers preceded the dancing. Prof. Heritage and Mrs. Will Carleton Smith gave some vocal numbers in their usual manner, and Prof. LeRoy Gosner gave a violin solo—always a treat. Prof. Von Jesson was the accompanist.

The Elks orchestra of about ten pieces furnished the music for the gay dancers. Those who did not care to dance sought amusement at cards, and in all it was a most enjoyable affair. Refreshments were served.

"A Scrap of Paper."

The comedy-drama entitled "A Scrap of Paper" which is to be presented by the pupils of the College of oratory the 3rd of June, at the Grand Opera House will undoubtedly be the most successful of these most enjoyable entertainments. The students have been rehearsing for the past month under the able direction of Sara Brown Savage, Dean of the College of oratory. The leading parts will be taken by the most advanced pupils, and special musical numbers will be given by local talent.

REMARKABLE HOME MADE MIXTURE

No Sufferer Here Should Leave It Untried

That the readers of this paper appreciate advice when given in good faith is plainly demonstrated by the fact that one well-known local pharmacy filled the "vegetable prescription" many times within the past two weeks. Most of these folks naturally bought the ingredients only and mixed them at home. The announcement of this simple, harmless mixture has certainly accomplished much in reducing the great many cases of kidney complaint and rheumatism here, relieving pain and misery, especially among the older population, who are always suffering more or less with bladder and urinary troubles, backache and particularly rheumatism.

Another well-known druggist asks us to continue the announcement of the prescription. It is doing so much real good here, he continues, that it would be a crime not to do so. It cannot be repeated too often, and further states many cases of remarkable cures wrought.

The following is the prescription, of vegetable ingredients, making a harmless, inexpensive compound, which any person can prepare by shaking well in a bottle: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Any first class drug store will sell this small amount of each ingredient, and the dose for adults is one teaspoonful to be taken after each meal and again at bedtime. There is enough here to last for one week, if taken according to direction. Good results will be apparent from the first.
