HEAD CRUSHED ON RIVER BOAT

Y. M. C. A. Asks and Salem Makes Quick Reponse

CAPTAN CRUSHES HIS HEAD

TRIBLE ACCIDENT SUNDAY MORN

Breaks On Steamer Pomona and Three Men Injured

Sunday morning at four o'clock an accident occurred on the steamer Pomona, while plying the river between this city and Buena Vista, which may cost the life of John Frohmader, of South Salem, aged twenty. The other deck hand was knocked overboard and another swept into the water by the snapping of a cable, and the sinking of a capstan, which the men were working at. They were pulling a line to a lot of sawlogs when the rope gave way, and the steamer was done in the quickness of an instant. Young Frohmader received a crushing blow on the head, his body was thrown into the air, and he took a terrible blow and fell upon the boat's anchor, that lay on the deck of the vessel, gashing his face, knocking out his left eye, and probably disfigure him for life.

He was picked up insensible, and brought to Salem on the Skinner launch. He was still unconscious when he reached the Sanitarium, where his wounds were dressed. His father, Mr. Adam Frohmader, of South Salem, attended him, and at a late hour Sunday he showed signs of improvement. He was attended by Dr. Lane.

NEARLY ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS

AS RESULT OF MORNING'S WORK

The Whirlwind Campaign Results in a Surprise to the Workers

When the fifty workers for the Y. M. C. A. fund sat down at noon to a substantial lunch they had chalked up the following as the result of the morning's work:

Report by Teams.
Team No. 1.....	$231.50
Team No. 2.....	79.00
Team No. 3.....	135.00
Team No. 4.....	138.50
Team No. 5.....	164.50

Total at noon$748.50
Enough more promised subscriptions and doubles were in sight, but not signed up, to make it more than $1000. Mayor Rodgers, at the close of the noonday lunch, took the floor, and in a ringing talk threw enthusiasm into the whole assembly of Salem's boosters for the Y. M. C. A. cause. The work mapped out for three days is to raise the member-

Negroes Against Taft.

Louisville, June 3.—At a meeting of the local Afro-American council Friday night it was decided to indorse the efforts of the Washington City negroes in opposition to the nomination of Secretary Taft for the presidency, and to issue a call for the National Afro-American Council for June 26-28 at Baltimore. The call was issued by Rev. L. G. Jordan, corresponding secretary of the council, and is addressed to negroes and all their organizations in this country, which are asked to send delegates to "discuss with prudence, wisdom, patience and intelligence, the best method to overcome the dangers menacing what civil and political rights the negroes have left." Speeches were made criticising President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft and indorsing the sentiment of the Washington meeting.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK S. P. TRAIN

San Jose, Cal., June 3.—Unknown parties attempted to wreck a south-bound Southern Pacific train this morning between Santa Clara and Lawrence. They piled ties across the track, but these were discovered by the engineer, who stopped the train. This is the third attempt in the same vicinity this year.

TO COMPLETE HAYWOOD JURY TODAY

BUT TWO MORE JURORS REQUIRED

Jury Is Composed Almost Entirely of Farmers

Boise, June 3.—When court convened at 11 o'clock this morning to resume the Haywood murder trial, Judge Wood announced from the bench that the jury must be completed before the final adjournment for today would be permitted. As but two are required to qualify out of the 39 veniremen remaining this should be a comparatively easy task. Haywood came into the court a few minutes before its assembling, and looked unusually fit. He was highly indignant over the circulation of the report that he had broken down. He said he felt first rate, and his nerves were never better. Both sides profess to be satisfied with the ten jurors selected. They are chiefly farmers, but seem unusually intelligent. Six seats are yet to be filled, and the defense will use its last peremptory on J. A. Robinson, who is apparently a good juror, but Steu-

RECORD CROP OF JUNE BRIDES.

Chicago Girls Married at Rate of One a Minute.

Chicago, June 3.—Sunday was an extremely busy day for preachers, cab drivers and florists. The first crop of June Weddings was enormous. Saturday the license clerks were swamped, 110 licenses being issued in the first two hours. The average for the day was a license every minute. New records would have been established but for the fact that it was only a half-day at the city hall, and the license bureau closed promptly, inasmuch as there was a ball game in town, and lots doing otherwise. All of Sunday cabs and automobiles hustled up and down and around the streets, all bearing pretty girls in diaphanous gowns, great quantities of roses, new suitcases and all the impedimenta of the newly-wedded. The outgoing trains also carried their quota, while ministers and judges found their salaries considerably augmented at the close of the day.

ship to 500, wipe out the $2800 debt and secure $1000 guaranty of support annually. This will put the Salem institution on easy street, where its work can be expanded to meet the needs of a growing city.

Encouraging and enthusiastic addresses were made by a dozen speakers, and all reported a hearty unanimity of sentiment, showing that all ranks and classes sustain the work of the Y. M. C. A.

The speakers at the banquet created such a tidal wave of enthusiasm that when some one suggested that they tackle the old debt, $1000 was subscribed in a few minutes. It is conditional upon the whole $2800 being subscribed, and there will be a heroic effort made to secure the balance.

A "Cotton Leak" Trial.

Washington, June 3.—Edwin S. Holmes, Jr., formerly assistant statistician in the agricultural department, was placed on trial today for conspiracy in the "cotton leak" scandal. He was indicted in 1905, with Frederick Peckham and Moses Haas, but Holmes faced the court alone. The government so far has been unable to extradite Peckham and Haas. It is alleged that Holmes gave advance information of the cotton crop to Haas and Peckham, New York brokers, and it is charged that the conspirators made $200,000 before the leak was discovered.

Washington, June 3.—Holmes pleaded not guilty. The panel was quickly exhausted, and a new one ordered.

enberg boarded with him for over two years. Alfred Eoff, a local banker, so soon as his name was called admitted having an opinion as to the guilt of Haywood. Richardson challenged him for implied bias, but Judge Wood ruled against him. The defense then forced the challenge for actual bias, and Wood again ruled against the defense. This was a decided body blow to the defense.

Boise, June 3.—The Haywood jury was completed at noon by the selection of O. V. Sebern, a rancher.

Sebern's selection followed the peremptory challenge by the defense of Alfred Eoff, a local banker, who admitted prejudice against the Western Federation. This exhausted the defense's peremptories and compelled it to retain J. A. Robertson, a carpenter, whom it intended challenging. The taking of evidence will begin Tuesday morning at 9:30. The jury was sworn as a body, and the court recessed until 3 o'clock this afternoon. After the jury was completed the prosecution offered an affidavit containing a list of nine new witnesses they wanted entered on the records. Richardson strenuously objected and charged bad faith. He declared the names were sprung on the eve of the beginning of taking evidence with the intent to deceive the defense. He quoted a recent decision of the supreme court to sustain his decision. Wood ruled against the defense. At 3 o'clock the court reassembled and the indictment was read, bailiffs selected and adjournment was taken until 9:30 Tuesday.
