STAL PALACE ON CUP TIE DAY

crowd is always illusory, and one knew the actual number passed the turnstiles at the Palace one might have made guesses without coming any near the actual figures. Certainly the ground seemed to be as densely populated as it possibly could be. There were no gaps in the ranks. It gave one an impression of a solidly packed multitude, with singularly pinkish tint which shone in the bulk present. And there was a scarlet patch, which meant that three or four soldiers were gathered together, and taller than their neighbors, and more of their coats, or a patch of blue. The colors of both were blue, and their most enthusiastic supporters thought it necessary to clothe themselves from ankle in this hue. And there something particularly striking in the stovepipe hat when the sun shone on it.

Every eminence within a quarter mile of the playing area had its complement of spectators, thought themselves particularly fortunate if they had an unobstructed view of one of the goals. Knowledge of the fortunes of the game had to be gained from the and fall of the cheers, though was necessarily rather an un- guide, for the loudest cheers often evoked when the expectation was not made. There were quite a number of owners at the Palace, but they were conscious that it was not their own and so they humbly kept in background and allowed visitors to the north and the midlands to the stage. And they held it to effect; they pervaded every other of London.

At this season of the year the first unnatural looseness of a child's bowels should have immediate attention. The best thing that can be given is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy followed by castor oil as directed with each bottle of the remedy. For sale by Dr. Stone's drug store.

Preparing for the Game.
 Stern Employer—Come here, boy. How many grandmothers have you got?
 Surprised Office Boy—Two, sir, just like other folks.
 S. E.—All right. Now remember. I have you on record, and two are your limit for the season.—Baltimore American.

A Fortunate Texas.
 Mr. E. W. Goodloe, of 107 St. Louis St., Dallas, Tex. says: "In the year I have become acquainted with Dr. King's New Life Pills, and I have never before tried so actually disposes of malaria and ague." They don't grind nor are they 25c at J. C. Perry's drug store.

Hot and Cold.
 Doctor, my wife runs to extremes. How's that?
 She has a hot temper and cold feet.—Illustrated Bits.

Every Man His Own Doctor.
 The average man cannot afford to employ a physician for every ailment or injury that may occur in his family, nor can he afford to neglect them, as so slight an injury as the scratch of a pin has been known to cause the loss of a limb. Hence every man must from necessity be his own doctor for this class of ailments. Success often depends upon prompt treatment, which can only be had when suitable medicines are kept at hand. Chamberlain's Remedies have been in the market for many years and enjoys a good reputation.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm (an antiseptic liniment) for cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, swellings, lame back and rheumatism pains.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for constipation, biliousness and stomach troubles.

Chamberlain's Salve for diseases of the skin.

One bottle of each of these five preparations costs but $1.25. For sale by Dr. Stone's drug store.

Forestalled.
 Mrs. Crawford—Why was your husband more angry than usual when he came home so late?
 Mrs. Crabshaw—You see, dear, I woke up before he had time to set the clock back.—Harper's Weekly.

Do Not Neglect the Children.
 At this season of the year the first unnatural looseness of a child's bowels should have immediate attention.

For stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Many remarkable cures have been effected by them. Price 25 cents. Samples free. For sale by Dr. Stone's drug store.

The Mean Thing.

Praise from a husband's lips is always pleasant to the wife; but the praise may be a discriminating to suit her.
 "I thought it was nice of you to tell that carpenter, who seemed to think women know nothing, that I could 'hammer nails like lightning,'" said Mrs. Morse to her husband.
 "But I'm afraid, dear, you are not an unprejudiced judge. I really don't think I'm such a very good hammerer."

"Oh, he knew what I meant," said Mr. Morse, cheerfully. "You know lightning never strikes twice in the same place, they say."—Youth's Companion.

Remarkable Rescue.

That truth is stranger than fiction, has once more been demonstrated in the little town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes: "I was in bed, entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me, and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. Then instant relief came. The coughing soon ceased; the bleeding diminished rapidly, and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds, 50c and $1.00 at J. C. Perry's drug store. Trial bottle free.

A Maligned Wife.

He—Do you know there is to be a grand ball for charity, and I am thinking of taking you. Have you ever danced for charity?
 She—Certainly. Do you remember that even before we were engaged I never refused you invitations?—Transatlantic Tales.

Life.

The poet's exclamation: "O Life! I felt thee bounding in my veins," is a joyous one. Persons that can rarely or never make it, in honesty to themselves, are among the most unfortunate. They do not live, but exist; for to live implies more than to be. To live is to be well and strong—to arise feeling equal to the ordinary duties of the day, and to retire not overcome by them—to feel life bounding in the veins. A medicine that has made thousands of people, men and women, well and strong, has accomplished a great work, bestowing the richest blessings, and that medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. The weak, run-down, or debilitated, from any cause, should not fail to take it. It builds up the whole system, exchanges existence into life, and makes life more abounding. We are glad to say these words in its favor to the readers of our columns.

Uncombinable.

Little Solly (his brow puckered by intellectual strain) as he scans on the blackboard a sketch of a milk-maid and cattle)—One, two, three—three cows—
 Teacher—And what else?
 Little Solly (in triumphant haste)—And one lady!
 Teacher—How many altogether?
 Little Solly—One, two, three—(stops and draws his right foot up and down his left leg). One, two, three—three (pauses in a desperate effort to count a little further, then gasps)—Oo-oo-oooh, teacher, I don't know how to add up cows and ladies! Harper's Weekly.

The Magic No. 3.

Number three is a wonderful mascot for Geo. H. Parris of Cedar Grove, Me., according to a letter which reads: "After suffering much with liver and kidney trouble, and becoming greatly discouraged by the failure to find relief, I tried Electric Bitters, and as a result I am a well man today. The first bottle relieved and three bottles completed the cure." Guaranteed best on earth for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by J. C. Perry druggist. 50c.

They Scratch.

I see some Philadelphia men are trying to decide whether a hen sits or sets.
 That's easy enough to settle.
 How so?
 Let them take a look at my garden.—Exchange.

Colic and Diarrhoea.

Pains in the stomach, colic and diarrhoea are quickly relieved by the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by Dr. Stone's drug store.
