and the Harriman interests the next. The plan would have expired in 1914. The financial management of the Chicago & Alton road by the Harriman interests, as told by E. H. Harriman before the interstate commerce commission some months ago, aroused much adverse criticism and discussion as to whether or not action should be taken to restrain Mr. Harriman in the management to protect the interests of the smaller stockholders. The interstate commerce commission has as yet made no report on this matter, but a severe criticism of the Harriman management has been made by the commission's counsel and by Attorney-General Stead, of Illinois, in a report to the governor of that state.

In his report Mr. Stead said that the debt of the Alton system has been increased to a total of $80,646,218 since it came into Mr. Harriman's hands. Of this amount only $22,500,000, according to Mr. Harriman's own testimony, said the attorney-general was incurred for improvements, betterments or extensions of the road.

"Over $57,000,000 of this indebtedness," said the attorney-general, "or more than 70 per cent of the entire indebtedness created by this syndicate upon the properties of these several companies, was not created in furtherance of any legitimate purpose for which a railroad company is or can be organized under the statutes of the state of Illinois."

HAYWOOD WAS WITH ORCHARD SO SAYS POLICEMAN

Borah Sets Trap for Defense and Loses Chance to Go into the Matters of the Colorado Troubles and Reasons for Declaring Martial Law.

Orchard's Record to Date.

Orchard's testimony to date shows that:

He lit the fuse in the Sullivan and Bunker Hill mill at Coeur d'Alene, two men being killed by the explosion.

He exploded the bomb in the Vindicator mine, killing Superintendent McCormick and Shift Boss Mel Beck.

Shot Deputy Sheriff Lyte Gregory three times with a shotgun killing him.

Blew up Independence depot, killing 14 non-union men.

Attempted to poison Bradley in San Francisco, and afterwards exploded a bomb at his door, crippling him. Bradley had been superintendent of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mines.

Proposed kidnaping his friend's, August Paulsen's children and holding them for ransoms, and this while being supported by Paulsen and living in his home.

Among his minor crimes were:

Stabbed his brother-in-law with pitchfork.

Eloped with another man's wife from Canada, a Mrs. Simpson.

Married Mrs. Toney in Colorado, committing bigamy.

Burned a saloon, getting part of the insurance money for doing so.

Betrayed his pals to detectives, being angry because he was not given the job of wrecking a train.

Stole money from his partner, and the powder with which he committed his crimes.

Deserted Mrs. Toney, taking her money and leaving her penniless so she had to take in washing to support her family.

Stole a sheep.

Lied indiscriminately to everyone, and on all occasions.

Boise, June 15.—The early portion of the Haywood session was devoted to argument of the admissibility of the contents of a telegram sent by Adams to Haywood, asking for money, when he was arrested in Ogden. The court finally admitted the testimony. Witness Pender was recalled, and said the telegram read: "Haywood, Denver. Am in trouble. Send me $75." Jos. C. Houston, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, produced the bank books, showing Haywood's financial transactions. Houston identified Haywood's signature on the New York bank drafts, and James Kerwan, acting secretary and treasurer, and others. One for $166.35, was drawn January 15, 1906, after Steunenberg was killed, and cashed in Spokane by Jack Simpkins' wife. Witness admitted the drafts were issued in the regular order of business, and there was no secrecy about them.

Major Naylor, assistant secretary of the Mine Owners' Association, told of investigating the explosion in the Vindicator mine. He produced a partly demolished revolver, which was found near Beck's body, which is supposed to be the one with which the mine was exploded.

He did not know anything about sending out four soldiers to shoot up the Vindicator shaft house, because the owners declined to pay their assessment to the Mine Owners' Association. Witness had not heard General Bell and Major McClellan say, "to hell with the constitution. We will give union men post-mortem and not habeas corpus." Witness admitted deporting men and searching their houses because they were unionists. Richardson grilled Naylor several times, causing him to admit he did what the Mine Owners' Association wanted. It was shown that Naylor's chief assistants were "gun men," and that one of them is now in the penitentiary serving a life sentence for murder. Naylor called General Beck "a newspaper soldier." Said he got to the Independence depot shortly after the explosion, and recovered the bodies of 14 victims. W. H. Schulenberg identified the Peabody bomb, which he found in the river at Wallace.

CLARENCE S. DARROW. Leading lawyer retained for the defense of Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone, miners accused of the murder of ex-Governor Steunenberg.

Miss Peabody, daughter of the governor, the last witness of the morning told of seeing a man acting suspiciously about their house in Denver, and identified Orchard as the man. Peabody was then called to tell of the attempt on his life by Orchard. He saw him in Canyon City in 1906, at the time Orchard said he was prevented killing Peabody because the latter was re-

MAYOR REFUSED BAIL SHERIFF LECTURED

Judge Dunne Thinks the City is Able to Get Along Without the Mayor's Services, and Remands Him to the Custody of the Sheriff.

San Francisco, June 15.—The application of Schmitz for bail was denied this morning by Judge Dunne, after listening to the reading of affidavits filed by Campbell, attorney for the mayor, and Langdon, for the state. Campbell contended in his address, following the reading of the affidavits, that the mere verdict of the jury was in no sense final judgment.

EUGENE E. SCHMITZ.

ment, that the mayor's bond for $240,000 was still good and in effect until the final step was taken and judgment entered. He declared the district attorney's affidavits practically asked Dunne to depose the mayor and leave the city without an executive.

Langdon denied that any administrative matters were pending requiring the personal attention of the mayor. He quoted a clause in the charter providing for the appointment of an acting mayor, when the mayor was unable to attend to his duties. All that was necessary, he declared, was for the supervisors to meet and select an acting mayor. Dunne said the fact that the prisoner is the mayor had no particular effect on his mind. He would treat him the same as any other prisoner, and denied the application. He (Continued on page four.)

fore him and lectured him about the liberality given the mayor since his conviction. The sheriff said he would give Schmitz no liberty not in accordance with law. The court granted the request of Schmitz's counsel for permission to hold a conversation with their client at 1 o'clock this afternoon, after which the prisoner will be taken to the county jail.

CHICAGO MAY HAVE STRIKE Teamsters in the Big Stockyards to Go Out at Midnight.

Chicago, June 15.—It seems certain the big stockyards teamsters' strike will be declared at midnight. Teamsters have been ordered to take their property into the barn's home. The men meet at 8 o'clock tonight. It has been decided that if no word is heard from the packers by midnight a strike will be declared, involving 1000 men. At its beginning it is likely to paralyze the yards. The packers are standing pat.

ATTACK OF BRAIN STORM

Astoria, June 15.—Cleve Jennings, a young man whose home was at North Bend, Coos county, was shot and so badly injured Friday morning by John Bowlsby, also of North Bend, that he died in the hospital about 2:30 this afternoon. The shooting occurred on the steamer Alliance shortly after 6 o'clock in the morning. It was the outcome of one man alienating the affections of another man's wife, and was the result of a man-hunt in which the hunter finally found his game.

Bowlsby boarded the steamer at Portland, and was en route to North Bend. As the steamer was lying at her wharf here, Jennings came down and purchased a ticket for North Bend and went on board. Jennings had been on the steamer but a few minutes, and was standing near the main hatch watching the loading of the cargo, when Bowlsby discovered him. Without saying a word, Bowlsby stepped alongside the main cabin and took a certain aim at the man by resting a 44-calibre Remington revolver against the side of the house, and fired, the bullet striking Jennings in the abdomen and passing clear through his body.
