A Successful Affair—
The military ball given at the armory last night by the dance committee of Company "M," O. N. G., was one of the most pleasant affairs of the season, and was largely attended. The Salem Military Band furnished excellent music for the occasion, and the company boys sustained their reputation of being royal entertainers. All present spent a delightful evening, and hope that they may be the guests of Company "M" again.

THE COW KEPT BUSY.

Pulled on Her Rope Just in Time to Cause Trouble.

T. A. Ratcliff, of Morningside addition, while driving on Mission street, near Capital, this morning narrowly avoided a serious accident, by his good horsemanship and judgment. A cow, picketed on one side of the road, as cows and all other animals and humans will, concluded the picking in the place where she wasn't better than where she was, so, like the old cow in the song, she "crossed the road." The tie that bound her to the other side, a small chain, of course, crossed the road after her, that is part of it did. Everything went smoothly for the gentle bossy, until just as Mr. Ratcliff's horse stepped over the chain, the imp of the perverse, the devil, or whatever it is that is the mental motive power of cows in general, caused her to suddenly tighten the chain, which struck the horses on the keelson about amidships. In consequence, the horses couldn't get their forelegs backward over it, or their hind legs forward, and as both were ticklish in the ribs and the cow busy trying experiments with the chain, there was something doing. Fortunately no one was injured, but the hack was broken in several places. A warrant has been sworn out for the arrest of the owner of the cow—but she don't care.

Boggs-Maurer Nuptials.

A beautiful home wedding took place at the home of Ezra Maurer, presiding elder of the Evangelical Association, June 12, 1907, when Miss Mary Maurer became the bride of G. V. Boggs. The beautiful ceremony of the Evangelical church was performed by Rev. Ezra Maurer, brother of the bride. Immediately after the ceremony all sat down to a sumptuous dinner. The bride was the recipient of many valuable and appropriate presents, some coming from relatives in Ontario, Canada, which was the former home of the bride. Little Misses Esther Maurer and Clara Luethi were the flower girls, and a beautiful wedding march was played by Mrs. Lachelle, a cousin of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Boggs will be at home to their friends at their residence on South Twenty-first and Ferry streets.

A Card.

In compliance with a petition signed by a very large number of the citizens and taxpayers of Salem, A. N. Moores will be a candidate for school director at the election to be held Monday, June 17, 1907. The people can be assured that in the event of Mr. Moores' election he will do his part in giving school affairs careful and judicious management. No individual or faction can swerve him from a course that he considers for the best interest of school district No. 24. 6-15-1t

Caned President Gatch.

A felicitous incident of commencement, was the presenting of a beautiful cane to President Gatch. It was the gift of the graduating class, and a token of their esteem and appreciation. The presentation occurred in the armory and Mark Weatherford made the speech. His remarks were replete with kind assurances, and when he concluded it was with extreme difficulty that Dr. Gatch was able to acknowledge his gratification. The whole scene was that neither donors nor recipient will soon forget.—Corvallis Times.

TWO CASES IN POINT.

Supreme Court Sustains Rate Fixed by Commerce Commission.

May 28, the supreme court of the United States handed down a decision that is of much interest to the mill men of the Willamette valley.

The cases originated, one in Louisiana for the haul from Louisiana 1903. The facts in the Louisiana case had to do with raising the freight on lumber, and the Georgia case was making a freight rate that was "unreasonable and unjust." The railroad in the first case raised the rate two cents on the hundred pounds for the haul from Louisiana to points north of the Ohio river. The mill men appealed to the interstate railroad commission, asking that the transportation companies be required to restore the old rate. The commission made the order. From that the railroads appealed. That was in 1905. The United States circuit court affirmed the order of the commission, and now the supreme court sustains the court below and orders the railroads to restore the old rate. In addition to requiring the roads to restore the old rate, the court requires them to rebate to the shippers the 2-cent raise collected illegally. The Georgia "unreasonable and unjust" case was also in favor of the mill men. The two decisions will control about 40 others, involving the same points that are now pending.

The full text of the court's opinion has not yet been received, but from the synopsis reported, the way now seems open for the restoration of the $3.10 rate from Willamette valley points to Bay points in California. All the mills will have to do is to appeal to the interstate commission and produce evidence of the reasonableness of the $3.10 rate, when an order will be made for its restoration.—Western Oregon.

Tetter Cured.

A lady customer of ours had suffered with tetter for two or three years. It got so bad on her hands that she could not attend to her household duties. One box of Chamberlain's Salve cured her. Chamberlain's medicines give splendid satisfaction in this community.—M. H. Rodney & Co., Almond, Ala. Chamberlain's medicines are for sale by Dr. Stone's drug store.

Ralph Moores gave a pleasant informal luncheon Friday evening at his home on Chemeketa street, to the members of the Salem high school baseball team. College songs and music were the principal features of the evening's entertainment.
