TIMBER FULL OF CABINS

A special from Ashland, dated June 20th, says: Interest in the railroad land grant question is not so acute in this vicinity as it was a couple of weeks ago. However, squatters continue to locate claims on grant lands to await some determination of their status. Tens of thousands of acres of the choicest timber lands in Jackson county are included within the railroad's grants and much fine mineral and agricultural land is held by the company in its reserves. Cabins by the score have been erected upon claims selected by claimants since the question of the status of these lands were recently opened up in this county, and people who have recently returned from the woods say they are full of new settlers who have begun to hew out homes in the wilderness.

State Senator L. L. Multt, of Jackson county, is now in San Francisco, and will represent a big bunch of claimants here in tendering to the railroad land agent $2.50 per acre, besides a sum for interest and taxes, if payment of the claims they have located. It is improbable that he will meet with any other reception than that heretofore accorded other persons on similar missions, but the claimants desire to take every means to comply with the law and regulations. A well-known resident of this section of Oregon recently received the following curt letter in response to his application to purchase certain of the railroad lands:

"Oregon & California R. R. Co., Land Department, June, 1907.—Dear Sir: I have received from you what purports to be an application to purchase certain lands of the Oregon & California Railroad Company, dated May 30, 1907, and I have to advise you that under the conditions the propositions made therein is necessarily declined. Please understand that this company refuses to accept or place on file the document referred to as an application to purchase, or to file it at all; that this company does not recognize any application to purchase made by you for the land mentioned, and that you have no such application on file in this office. Yours truly,
"CHARLES W. EBERLEIN,
"Acting Land Agent."

To Fight Coal Trust.
Ashland, Wis., June 21.—Plans for fighting the coal trust in the Northwest will be completed at a meeting here today of a recently organized co-operative concern, which will bring coal from the independent mines in the east to Ashland on boats owned by the company, thus taking coal direct from the mines to the consumers without the intervention of any organized monopoly. No one can secure coal from the company except stockholders, a majority of whom are farmers, although many manufacturers and merchants have purchased shares. The scope of operations will extend over Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Nebraska and Iowa.

Plan An American Venice.
City of Mexico, June 21.—America will soon have a Venice as beautiful and picturesque as that of Europe, if the plans of Jose Guevara, of this city, are carried to successful completion. Guevara has been granted one of the most novel concessions in the history of Mexico, involving the right to establish a city in the center of Lake Texcoco and also to build and operate a railroad from the capital to the new resort. Plans for the unique project have been completed and what is now a great sheet of water is laid out in blocks, streets, canals and avenues, down which gondolas may sometime ply between handsome mansions and hotels. All of the charm and romance of the famous Italian water-city will be transferred to the center of the valley of Mexico. Mr. Guevara is now engaged in financing this gigantic scheme among Mexican capitalists and is confident that within a few years Lake Texcoco will surround a city that will be the marvel of the entire western hemisphere.

Tillman Strikes It Rich.
Joplin, Mo., June 21.—United States Senator Benjamin Tillman, of South Carolina, is the latest to enter the lists of magnates in the "town that jack built," having recently purchased a mining property in the district on which an exceptionally rich strike has been made. Assayers report that the vein is unusually good and that it may in time make the South Carolina statesman a millionaire. Senator Tillman has christened his property the Pitchfork Mining Company. He has refused to sell any interest in it and the property will remain a close corporation.

He Fired the Stick.
"I have fired the walking-stick I've carried over 40 years, on account of a sore that resisted every kind of treatment, until I tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve; that has healed the sore and made me a happy man," writes John Garrett, of North Mills, N. C. Guaranteed for Piles, Burns etc., by J. C. Perry druggist. 25c.

Baseball This Evening.

Everybody ought to be out tonight to see the big game between the Y. M. C. A. and the Woolen Mills on the W. U. field, at 6:30 p. m.

The two teams are now even in the City League, and tonight will decide which will go in the lead. Forbes says he is going to pitch his head off, if he has to, for the Association tonight, and the "weavers" will have to do some tall playing if they want to land on top after the clash.

MUNSEY'S NEW IDEA.

The Two-for-a-Quarter Magazine is the Largest Ever Published.

An innovation that is without question the greatest that ever happened in magazine publication has come with the first appearance of the newest Munsey idea for July. Like all of Mr. Munsey's undertakings it is a little startling, but it will grow on you. Briefly, it is a magazine in two volumes—under separate covers, but under one name. The name is "The Scrap Book"—a magic name that made a great magazine a great success from the start. Mr. Munsey says there isn't room enough within one cover to make a big enough and strong enough magazine to satisfy the reader of today.

The Scrap Book, in its new form, is the largest magazine ever published—the biggest money's worth to be had. Its conception seems only natural to the man who has achieved fame by sizing up the wants of the reading public, and then filling the want.

Two Parts Under One Name.

The first section of this largest magazine the world has ever seen is practically an all-illustrated magazine—not in the sense that it carries no text, but that it is better and more profusely illustrated than any so-called illustrated magazine now published.

Every phase of life, every topic of interest, every subject that has the world's attention, is told in picture and story. It is truly a reflector of public sentiment—a mirror of the world's events. It deals with things timely and draws interesting comparisons with things of the past.

Stories of great disasters, reports of big achievements, comments on famous trials, side-lights on everything of human interest, have their place in its 192 pages—yet this is only half.

The Other Half.

The other half is 160 pages of pure fiction—the kind that tugs at the heart strings, the characters in which take the form of life and become your acquaintances.

It is fiction such only as Munsey is famed for as the pioneer in the publication of the all-fiction magazine. There is not a picture or a break of any kind in the 160 pages of the good solid kind of stories that makes such an appeal to the American love of romance and adventure.

You can hardly imagine such a supplement as this to such a magazine as the superb illustrated part. It is a brand new idea, worthy of the publisher who issues it, and you must buy the July issue of Scrap Book to appreciate it.

H. L. Pittock and F. W. Leadbetter, of Portland, came up today to inspect the Spaulding Logging Company's plant at this city. This afternoon they went to Independence to see the sawmill there.
