

STILL AT IT

But you can't be certain that we will be at it much longer. If you are wanting a more favorable time, don't deceive yourself, for you will not see it.

We have a large assortment yet and the prices will not be made lower. We must get cost out of our goods, and, judging from the past few weeks, we will not be long in doing it. When we say that we are closing out everything and will quit the furniture business we mean exactly what we say. The entire stock may be transferred to other parties at any time, which would put an end to our great close-out sale. Hence there is nothing to be gained by waiting, but much to lose.

THE HOUSE FURNISHING COMPANY

177 LIBERTY STREET

The House When Lights Are Lit.

I may set down in conclusion an impression of another kind. Justice has never been done to the pictorial quality of the Assembly. Drab-colored in the daytime, it can grow brilliant and flashing by night, when the whole is lit up and the galleries and benches are thronged with men listening. What you see then—but to see it you must be on the floor of the House (of Commons), not looking down from a gallery on to the top of heads and hats—is a great number of faces making splashes of color and light are 780$. . . AOICMF living color over a dark background; and in the center of your picture, color and light are concentrated on the face of one man speaking—one face, as it were, relieved against other faces. There is no doubt that if any one essayed to paint this (as the great Dutchmen painted so many similar subjects) he would choose for center some man with strongly marked features, speaking from the vantage ground of one of the front benches—perhaps John Burns, whose forehead and eyebrows throw his eyes into a deep mass of moving shadow—or (for choice, I think) the Prime Minister himself, leaning friendly on his elbow, with his rough-cut face pleasantly lighted, and the great crowd of his followers turning toward him with that curious movement of half-protecting affection which Mr. Birrell recognized some time ago in a very attractive passage.

Across the picture the light of the House of Commons fall kindly; the central face catches a genial illumination from the sense of almost chivalrous deference in a House eager to stand over and cheer the man who, after a long bearing most unmerited reproach and contumely, has come quietly and unostentatiously into great power and—what is rarer by far—great reverence, in an assembly of men of the world.—Stephen Gorynn in London Chronicle.

Long Live the King!

is the popular cry throughout European countries; while in America, the cry of the present day is "Long Live Dr. King's New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung Remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Paine, Truro, Mass., says: "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Paine's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throats after all other remedies have failed; and for coughs and colds it's the only sure cure. Guaranteed by J. C. Perry, druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Sharp.

"There are many good points about him."

"I suppose that's how he came to stick me on that horse trade."—Houston Post.

The Doctor Away from Home When Most Needed.

People are very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like cramp colic and cholera morbus require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured from or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save life. For sale by Dr. Stone's Drug Store.

A Gradual Newsbreker.

Molke—Who will we send to break the sad news to the poor widow?

Pat—Sure, we'd better send Clancy to break it gradual, because she stammers.—Tit-Bits.

Take the Postmaster's Word for It.

Mr. F. M. Hamilton, postmaster at Cherrycreek, Ind., keeps also a stock of general merchandise and patent medicines. He says: "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is standard here in its line. It never fails to give satisfaction and we could hardly afford to be without it." For sale by Dr. Stone's Drug Store.

The Perpetual Strife.

A man, if we believe what's said in modern scientific terms, is little else, from foot to head, than just a battlefield for germs.

—Washington Star.

The Way It Goes.

The auto horn goes honk-honk-honk! The engine rat-tat-tat! A piece of glass, and then alas! The blamed old tire goes flat! Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Nursing Mothers and Over-burdened Women

In all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken-down by over-work, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating restorative strength-giver ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant nourishment for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless help in preparing the system for baby's coming and rendering the ordeal comparatively painless. It can be had in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, back-ache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressing sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable, pelvic catarrhal drain, prolapsus, ante-version or retro-version or other displacements of womanly organs from weakness of parts will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find a permanent cure by using faithfully and fairly persistently Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This world-famed specific for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments is a pure glyceric extract of the choicest native medicinal roots without a drop of alcohol in its make-up. All its ingredients printed in plain English on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Dr. Pierce thus invites the fullest investigation of his formula knowing that it will be found to contain only the best agents known to the most advanced medical science of all the different schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments.

If you want to know more about the composition and professional endorsement of the "Favorite Prescription," send postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his free booklet treating of female ailments.

You can't afford to accept as a substitute for this remedy of known composition a secret nostrum of unknown composition. Don't do it.

GOODALE LUMBER CO., Yards Near Depot.

X-RAYS

If that amendment to the fish law is law, then trout may be killed with dynamite. Good thing Orchard is locked up.

Brainstorm would be much more in accord with natural laws if it would occasionally attack the jury trying a murderer.

The unwritten law proposition needs no re-classifying. It should read "murder made safe, or every man his own judge."

If a tree is known by its fruits, how would you classify that Idaho Orchard?

Band Concert.

The Salem Military Band gave its regular Sunday open-air concert yesterday afternoon in Marion square to an appreciative audience. The program was varied in its selections from popular airs to the classics, and was rendered in a manner which demonstrated that the Salem band would be a credit to any city.

The Magic No. 3.

Number three is a wonderful mascot for Geo. H. Parris of Cedar Grove, Me., according to a letter which reads: "After suffering much with liver and kidney trouble, and becoming greatly discouraged by the failure to find relief, I tried Electric Bitters, and as a result I am a well man today. The first bottle relieved and three bottles completed the cure." Guaranteed best on earth for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by J. C. Perry druggist. 50c.

Not Him.

"How is the Colonel this morning?"

"He is getting bettuh, suh."

"I heard yesterday that he was too weak to lift an arm."

"No, suh, there's nevuh been a day when he's been unable to take a drink, suh."—Holston Post.

He Fired the Stick.

"I have fired the walking-stick I've carried over 40 years, on account of a sore that resisted every kind of treatment, until I tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve; that has healed the sore and made me a happy man," writes John Garrett, of North Mills, N. C. Guaranteed for Piles, Burns etc., by J. C. Perry druggist. 25c.

GOOD WORDS FOR THE PRUNE.

Much Maligned by Jokers But It Gets There Just the Same.

If there ever was a maligned, slandered and unjustly treated vegetable, it is the prune. From time immemorial joke-writers have coupled the prune with mother-in-law, angular landlady, star boarder and the other perennials. There isn't a boarding house in Baltimore in which some guest has not by untimely jest hurt the feelings of the prune. This, in spite of the fact that the prune is a health-giving product of Mother Earth and an infallible remedy for many ailments that flesh is heir to. Given the prune, the chicken wing and the butter, most any boarder could make a joke. But the prune is no joke. Sun-dried, evaporated or parboiled for curing, the prune is a blessing among sweets of the harvest. It is a medical masterpiece, a dietetic delight, a juicy joy.

How many Baltimore boarders know that the first prune industry started in the Eastern United States in 1854 and was removed to California for climatic advantages in 1863, and ever since has been striding onward until America is the greatest prune-producing county in the world—exceeding in output even France, where the medal was formerly located. How many Baltimore scoffers know that California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho produce 100,000,000 pounds of prunes in 1900, as against only 200,000 pounds in 1880, and that these four states produce more than Serbia, Germany, Spain, Australia or South America, the other prune countries? Why, the prune is an industrious element in society, ranking with the great American hen. Wherefore, then, the cruel jest? Come, let us raise our voices high, Our harp strings all atune— And let our challenge sweep the sky; Defenders of the prune! —Baltimore News.

His Requirements.

Long-Haired Clerk—Do you want a highly exciting book? Bald-Headed Customer—Yes; I'd like something truly hair-raising."—Kansas City Times.

Constipation.

For constipation there is nothing quite so nice as Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They always produce a pleasant movement of the bowels without any disagreeable effect. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at Dr. Stone's Drug Store.

Natural Deduction.

Actyn Barnes—I see that in the new version of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" there are no bloodhounds.

Mac Booth Rantington—Aha! I knew it wouldn't be long before Eliza would be chased over the ice by a sixty-horse-power touring car!—Puck.

Best Medicine in the World for Colic and Diarrhoea.

"I find Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to be the best remedy in the world," says Mr. C. L. Carter of Skirum, Ala. I am subject to colic and diarrhoea. Last spring it seemed as though I would die, and I think I would if I hadn't taken Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I haven't been troubled with it since until this week, when I had a very severe attack and took half a bottle of twenty-five cent size Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and this morning I feel like a new man." For sale by Dr. Stone's Drug Store.

Advantages of Invention.

Maid—Please, mum, the baby has gone and turned the jug of cream all over my best dress.

Mistress—Never mind, Bridget; we can use the condensed milk.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Charming Woman

is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires; neatness, clear eyes, clean, smooth skin and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at J. C. Perry, druggist, 50c.
