

You May Need It

Ask your doctor about the wisdom of your keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, ready for colds, coughs, croup, bronchitis. If he says it's all right, then get a bottle of it at once. Why not show a little foresight in such matters? Early treatment, early cure. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our preparations.

IN THE EAST

General Outlook is For Less Than An Average Crop

Business on the local market is almost at a standstill. There has been very little inquiry and we only hear of sales of occasional very small lots. On the Pacific Coast, however, there is more activity is reported, principally in Oregon, with sales of several hundred bales there at from 7c. to 7c., according to quality. There is a report of a sale of a good-sized lot made in western Washington at 8c. to the grower, the quality said to have been very poor. With the excellent growing weather the past week in New York state the vine has made rapid progress, and in those places in which the vine was in good condition the showing is excellent. The more backward yards have also shown a decided improvement, and prospects for a fair crop are now much better. It is still claimed, however, that it will be impossible to raise as many hops as last year on account of missing hills in the old yards. The Coast crops are reported to be in very good shape, the showers of late having brightened up the yards. From England and newspaper advices are the effect that the crop has made a very good start, although a slight attack of fly is reported. This is nothing unusual, however, and is made light of. The Continental crops are all reported as looking very well.

Hop Conditions in England. Messrs. Manger & Henley, London, report: There is very little business doing. Buyers are waiting to see what developments are likely to come from the recent attack of fly. Prices are very firm.

Messrs. W. H. & H. Le May, London, report: There is a fair demand for English hops; consumers are taking advantage of the very low prices they are obtainable at to cover their requirements until the new crop is available. In spite of the poor prices now ruling, the import of foreign hops for the last month is very heavy, being 30 per cent more than the corresponding month of last year, the weight being 5,789 cwts., against 4,399 last year. The total for the last nine months amounts to 198,067 cwts., against 163,141 cwts. for the preceding corresponding period.

Maidstone and district.—There are some pieces in this district looking wonderfully well considering recent weather conditions. Fly and lice show a tendency to increase. Warm sunshine is needed to keep the plant growing as it ought to do.

Ashford.—The bine has grown since the weather became more genial, but it is still backward. The fly are also in evidence. Wet weather has given the weeds a good chance.

Benenden.—The bine is looking well as a rule in this part, but some few pieces where the heaviest crops were grown last year are rather weak and spindly. There is a sprinkling of fly.

Boxley.—The bine continues to make good progress in spite of the continuous rains and low temperature of the last fortnight. There is a severe attack of fly in nearly all grounds, and washing will be general this week. Drier weather, with more sunshine, is much needed.

Canterbury and district.—The hop plant in this district appears quite healthy, and is growing rapidly. A good lot of fly and some lice are reported, and in places there is a tendency to mould. The rains have left the grounds soddened, and cultivation has not made much progress. The warmer weather of the past few days (especially at nights) has been most welcome.

Farnham.—The cool northeast wind which has prevailed throughout the past week has been all against hop growers. The bine has made but little progress, and fly is still prevalent to a slight extent in some gardens. Warm sun and light rains are badly needed.

Hereford.—Owing to the cold and boisterous weather at the commencement of the week, the gardens underwent a rough experience. The rain, however, gave them a good washing, and now the weather has at last turned warmer, the crop will have a good chance of healthy development.

Worcester.—With a change from east winds there is a noticeable decrease of fly, and the weather of the past few days has been warm and favorable. The growth of bine is good, but irregular. The younger plantations are looking the most promising.

Notes.

The Cooperstown Farmer, June 21st, says: In spite of the favorable weather of the past few days conservative estimators say that Otsego county can not come within seventy-five per cent of her usual crop.

The Coblesville Index, June 20th, says: The warm weather of the past week has been favorable to the growth of the vines, which have developed rapidly. Much complaint, however, is made by growers as to their unfavorable conditions. Old yards especially were affected by the severe winter and backward spring, and even should conditions be favorable from now on, a small crop is anticipated.

The Malone Gazette, June 21st, says: Franklin county hop vines have shown a rapid growth during way. A continuance of warm weather being just what was needed. All yards show a marked improvement and growers are consequently encouraged.

The Schoharis Republican, June 20th, says: The weather the past week has been favorable for growth of the vines and they are now climbing up the poles in an encouraging way. A continuance warm weather is necessary if a crop of medium size only is harvested, as there are but three weeks for growth before the hop goes into "blow."

The Brookfield Courier, June 19th, says: There is a general complaint among hop growers of an unusual number of miss hills, which occasion the uneven appearance of yards. Everything points to a short crop.

Hops Blighted at Beaverton. A mysterious blight is affecting two well-known hop yards in the Beaverton section. The occurrence puzzles the owners of the yards and is causing considerable apprehension among neighboring farmers. The disease or pest, or whatever it is, first shows itself at the tip of the vines, which wilt and turn yellow, and then rapidly spreads down the vine. The lower part of the vine remains healthy and the root continues sound, but the fruitfulness of the plant is out of the question. Not only single vines, but acres of them have been blighted in these yards.

Expert hop-growers who have examined the yards or sample vines from them are at a loss to explain the trouble. There is nothing to indicate whether it is caused by an insect, climatic conditions or comes from several miles apart, it is thought probable that some new insect has infested them. The blight has not yet been discovered in any other section, but growers are on the look-out for it. If it is found to be due to vermin, spraying will be resorted to in an effort to check its spread.

Best Medicine in the World for Colic and Diarrhoea. "I find Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to be the best remedy in the world," says Mr. C. L. Carter of Skrum, Ala. I am subject to colic and diarrhoea. Last spring it seemed as though I would die, and I think I would if I hadn't taken Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I haven't been troubled with it since until this week, when I had a very severe attack and took half a bottle of twenty-five cent size Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and this morning I feel like a new man."
