Today. Red Cross Pharmacy.

To Commence on Fifteenth—

Geo. C. Will intends to commence taking stock on the 15th—a week from today. As every business man knows, there is no time that a person wants to sell so badly as just before taking stock; in order to put everything possible into cash or accounts. So if you want a piano or organ, musical instrument, talking machine, sewing machine records, sheet music, or a sewing machine, you will find this week an excellent time to get a bargain. Go to the music house of Geo. C. Will, Commercial street, Salem, opposite the Ladd & Bush bank.

Salem Girl Weds—

Cards received by friends in Salem announce the wedding of Miss Alma Chiqua Wagner, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Wagner, of Stockton, California, to Mr. Albert L. Barnes. The Wagners formerly conducted the Willamette hotel at Salem, and are now prominent hotel people of the San Joaquin valley metropolis.

Completing Cosy Cottage—

Charles Goodalo will in a few days move into his new modern cottage on Mill street. The building is a neat and modern seven-room dwelling, and is a valuable acquisition to the many substantial homes of that section.

Secretary Benson to Return—

Secretary of State Benson is expected home from California, where he has been staying for a few months for his health. The strain of the legislative session was too much for Mr. Benson, and he has taken much-needed recuperation.

A Rare Plant—

The rare and beautiful Indian Pipe, a species of flowering fungus, is found in deep, dark and wet places of the forest at this season of the year. Mr. A. D. Pettyjohn, of Hall's Ferry, brought this office a beautiful specimen today. It is a great curiosity in the way of a connecting link between the vegetable and fungoid growths.

Going to Coos Bay—

Railroad Commissioners Acheson and West left today for the Coos Bay country to examine into some of the transportation conditions there that are complained of. The office will be in charge of Chairman Campbell until their return.

Want a Five-Cent Fare—

Mayor Schindler and Alderman Stred, of Milwaukie, were before the railroad commission today, contending for a five-cent fare on the electric line from Portland to their city. The fare is now ten cents, while from Portland to the Golf Links, just one mile away, the fare is only five cents.

Woodburn Election Cases—

The grand jury of Marion county has been summoned to investigate the election frauds at Woodburn, in connection with the last city election. W. L. Tooze, of Falls City, and Grant DeGuire and others are here to appear as witnesses. Fred Oster, who was voted without having had any naturalization papers, and others, may be indicted.

Inspection of C. & E. Railway—

General Manager O'Brien, of the Southern Pacific Company, and Guy W. Talbot, of the C. & E., went through the city Sunday night in the private car of Mr. O'Brien, to inspect the Corvallis & Eastern from Detroit to Yaquina. A new manager is to be appointed in place of Mr. Talbot, who becomes manager of the Oregon Electric.

I. W. Newcomb, of Tangent, was in the city Sunday to attend services at one of the churches of the Capital City. He was a blacksmith for many years, kept a grocery store, and now at the age of 74 works at common labor. He has been haying at $2.00 a day, and makes a full hand. In his younger days he taught school in Lane county. One of his pupils at the Grand Prairie school, ten miles from Eugene, was the present chief justice, R. S. Bean. Mr. Newcomb says Bean was a bright boy.

F. A. Darling, who learned the painting trade in this city 20 years ago of Billy Warner, dropped off at Salem the other night between trains. He looked up a few old friends and then went to his home in Frisco. He is just out of the hospital, where he lay for 13 months with a broken back and hip, from the earthquake. That tremor destroyed his shop and a fine business he had built up on Valencia street, and, worst of all, killed his wife and twin daughters. The pleasures of life in the Golden State are not what they are cracked up to be.
