MOTHER LOVE.

Take the glory of the conquest and the grandeur of the morn,
 The splendor of the triumphs out of toil and patience born,
 The beauty of the cities and the armies of the just Moving down the golden valleys to the victories of the dust—
 But the mother love that wraps around a wayward child its wings
 Is sweeter than all triumph and is stronger than all kings!

The mother love is patience bearing all the years of care,
 With faith to take the burden up and strength to lift and bear;
 The mother love is warder of the rosy gates of life,
 With kiss goodby to little ones who go to face the strife,
 And arms of old endurance waiting there to clasp and greet
 The loved who wander back again, the lost with weary feet!

The mother love is gentleness that mellows through the years,
 With lips to kiss the brow that aches and song to stay the tears;
 The mother love is tireless in the vigil that it keeps
 To guard the couch from danger where the bloom of lovehood sleeps!
 Oh, wayward, weak, and weary, and ye who walk in sin,
 Be sure the heart of mother love will open and let you in.

THE SO-CALLED "GOOD CITIZEN" IS FREQUENTLY A CURSE.

One of the sagest paragraphs of recent days is this, from the address of William Allen White at the commencement exercises at Oberlin college:

"One of the curses of the country is the large class of so-called 'good citizens' who, because they have book learning and well-fitting clothes, are looked upon as leaders. Better is a government of stable boys following sincerely and seriously the light God gives them than a council of 'good citizens' adorning yesterday and afraid of nothing so much as the dawn of tomorrow."

Every city in this country—undoubtedly in every country—has plenty and to spare of that class of "good citizens" who are FOREVER UTTERING CHEAP MORAL PLATITUDES ABOUT MUNICIPAL CLEANLINESS AND CIVIC DUTY, and who fall in their own public duty whenever the right comes in contact with a question of dollars and cents; men who can see the faults in every class but their own, but who never battle for the immunity of their fellows from the same laws which they invoke so stringently and so strenuously against others—as witness the hallooings that arose to heaven from the truly GOOD MERCHANTS OF SAN FRANCISCO WHEN SCHMITZ WAS CONVICTED, and the equally loud protests that now arise from the same people BECAUSE CALHOUN AND OTHERS 'OF OUR OWN CLASS' ARE TO BE TRIED.

William Allen White is right. Better, far better, a government by honest and sincere stable boys than one of such "good citizens!"

THE SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST.

The great wave of prosperity which has spread over the entire country for several years has been accompanied by an undefined something that has appeared to emphasize more unfortunately the distinction between the classes and the masses and to have caused much bitterness of feeling among the latter against those whose lines have been cast in high financial and somewhat pleasanter social places.

During the hard times of 1893, and the years immediately following, it was generally inferred that the UNREST AMONG THE LABORING CLASSES AND THE BITTERLY FOUGHT STRIKES WERE DUE MAINLY TO THE DEPRESSED CONDITIONS OF TRADE AND FINANCE THEN PREVAILING.

It was frequently hoped and fondly believed that a regime of prosperity would put an end to all this unrest and uneasiness and place all hands upon a plane of mutual dependence, accentuated by a friendliness of feeling essentially necessary in an age where the great nations are contending for commercial and industrial supremacy.

Instead of these Utopian ideas being realized, however, we find a greater unrest pervading labor circles in these days of prosperity than were ever dreamed of in the days of adversity.

Strike has followed strike and socialistic doctrines have been advanced even by men in high places who would have most bitterly denounced the promulgators of them a decade or so ago.

Beneath the great wave of prosperity there appears to be an undertow, or adverse current, that has seized the minds of men in proportion to the influence of good times upon their pocketbooks and has warped their opinions in a like degree.

Men of deep thought have sought the reason for all this, and various theories have been advanced, but these, as well as all suggested remedies, have failed to strike the proper key that will awaken a harmonious note among the discordant elements.

THE WAGE EARNER FEELS THAT HE IS NOT GETTING HIS JUST PROPORTION OF THE HARVEST THAT IS BEING REAPED.

The employer claims that wages now are far beyond the high water mark of prudence and of safety. All complain about the trusts and other combinations in restraint of trade—and yet themselves form combinations for the enhancement of their private interests that are just as pernicious as those against which they continually complain.

It is simply the process of evolution—the survival of the fittest—applied to practical, every-day business life as it has for ages been applied in the realm of Nature.

We have reached a stage of development where the pace is very swift and the fight for supremacy between man and man is waged with the pocketbook and brain instead of the muscle and the brawn, as in the ages that are gone.

After awhile there will come a rest—a change.

When men have wearied of the present struggle and the tide that enters the affairs of all has turned, their thoughts and minds will run in other channels and they will have a more kindly feeling for the rights of others, and a more lofty ideal than the mere pursuit of worldly gain or pleasure.

Then, and not until then, will this strife and unrest end.

Nearly every man you meet boasts of having been raised on a farm. But not one of them would be willing to go back to it and perform the old tasks again.

The Charming Woman is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires: neatness, clear eyes, clean, smooth skin and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at J. C. Perry, druggist, 50c.

The Doctor Away from Home When Most Needed.
 People are very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like cramp colic and cholera morbus require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured from or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save life. For sale by Dr. Stone's Drug Store.

SERVANT GIRLS ON TOP

Enormous Demand, Scant Supply And Top Notch Wages

Other cities will perhaps have to follow the example of Spokane in her effort to relieve the existing demand for servants as the situation grows worse and worse each week and the appeals from the surrounding towns by the city employment bureaus show the situation to be the same about the country.

In Spokane the situation is described as follows in the Spokane Review:

"The perplexing problem of securing competent servant girls for Spokane homes, which for some time has been the bugbear of many housewives, is about to be solved. Because of the rate which has been offered by transcontinental railroads from eastern cities to the convention of the Baptist Young People's union to be held at Spokane, July 4 to 7, inclusive, hundreds of eastern servant girls will come to Spokane to relieve the demand existing here, so employment agents declare.

The coming of servant girls to Spokane has been directly influenced by the publicity committee of the Spokane chamber of commerce and the 150,000 club, which sent the word broadcast through the eastern states. Spokane women well remember the culmination of the pent-up cries for housekeepers at the mass meetings held at the Masonic temple in February, at which time Ben H. Rice, who was then secretary of the 150,000 club, received hosts of letters of inquiry from eastern girls relative to the need of their services here.

Scores of girls came to Spokane at that time, but they were not a drop in the bucket toward filling the demand. A statement made by Mr. Rice at that time showed that of the 12,000 Spokane homes, 3000 employed hired help in the kitchen, chambers and premises. Positions for 2500 servant girls were then open, and at present are only partially filled. Spokane women are paying practically the top prices for domestic help. The demand of competent women for from $30 to $46 per month is being paid throughout the city.

As an explanation of the help shortage, it is said that after being employed in the homes a short time the girls and women either marry or remove to other localities.

Managers of employment agencies in the city say that they have been notified by eastern people of the approaching exodus of waitresses and servant girls from the Mississippi valley and eastern states to Spokane. In discussing the situation yesterday afternoon, S. Simpson, manager of the Denver employment agency, said:

"It is too true that Spokane and the adjacent country is at this time suffering from a lack of both men and women in nearly all branches of labor, particularly in the home housekeeping and dining room, in the hotels, in the lumbering camps and in the harvest fields. In our offices alone we have positions offered for at least 1000 men and about the same number of women, the women as servants, chambermaids, waitresses and housekeepers. The salaries offered vary from $30 to $50 per month for female help.

"The coming of the crowd of servant girls to Spokane from the east will relieve that branch of the demand for help materially, but unless something is done to bring laboring men to this vicinity soon overripe

YOU WOR FOR MONEY

In the shop, office or the field, you toil incessantly to make money. Your best thought and efforts and your strength and time are expended for money. Why, then, not husband and take care of that which costs so much. Open a savings account and deposit regularly a part of your earnings, and in a few years you will not have to work so hard—your money will then work for you.

There Are Few
 People who know how to take care of themselves—the majority do not. The liver is a most important organ in the body. Herbine will keep it in condition. V. C. Simpkins, Alba, Texas, writes: "I have used Herbine for Shills and Fever and find it the best medicine I ever used. I would not be without it. It is as good for children as it is for grown-up people and I recommend it. It is fine for La Grippe." Sold by D. J. Fry.

There is only one regret about growing old—one is likely to forget that he ever was a boy.

Your Liver
 is out of order. You go to bed in a bad humor and get up with a bad taste in your mouth. You want something to stimulate your liver. Just try Herbine, the liver regulator. A positive cure for Constipation, Dyspepsia and all liver complaints. Mrs. F., Ft. Worth, Texas, writes: "Have used Herbine in my family for years. Words can't express what I think about it. Everybody in my household are happy and well, and we owe it to Herbine. Sold by D. J. Fry.

We know one boy who imagines heaven to be one large, deep, cool and shady swimming hole.

The Magic No. 3.
 Number three is a wonderful mascot for Geo. H. Parris of Cedar Grove, Me., according to a letter which reads: "After suffering much with liver and kidney trouble, and becoming greatly discouraged by the failure to find relief, I tried Electric Bitters, and as a result I am a well man today. The first bottle relieved and three bottles completed the cure." Guaranteed best on earth for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by J. C. Perry druggist, 50c.
