

NOTES FROM THE WAYSIDE

Wagon Trip to Coos Bay

Left Salem, Monday, July 15, 10 a. m., drove to the creek east of town, where we camped for the night. In the afternoon drove to the creek near Uncle Charley Millersmith of Jefferson and camped overnight.

Started at 8 o'clock on Monday, July 15, and drove to Eugene and laid in supplies. Here we met an old friend, Mr. C. W. Marrels, who is in the grocery business and doing well in the city of Eugene where the weather is nice and clean, and it seemed to be doing well.

Started at 8 a. m., drove by way of Walker, and in Cottage Grove we met the former of Silverton. He is in the mercantile business and looked hale and hearty, and seemed to be doing well.

penning these lines the Rev. Saulsberry and the balance are singing songs, and hymns of praise to the Giver of all the blessings of life.

Breakfast consisted of bread, pancakes, blackberries, venison hash, honey and potatoes. Dinner was the same except we had huckleberries instead of blackberries.

We left Cougar Bend at 7 a. m. and got to London at 9:45. Our guide John T. Woodard came out Sunday, and on the way killed a large wild cat near London.

We arrived at Roseburg at 5 p. m. hunted up some late papers, the first was The Capital Journal. Met C. W. Marrels and family and camped on the creek in the edge of town near the north end of Main street here.

W. H. Saulsberry, attorney at law from Osage, Iowa, got his mail, a letter calling home on business at once. We were sorry to lose him, and his brother, Rev. Saulsberry of Silverton.

We camped for the night in the southwest part of the city, south of the depot, with F. E. Cavender, a friend of the Hixes, who is car inspector for the Southern Pacific railroad at this part. From here we pull for Coos Bay.

Kidney Troubles Attack Salem Men and Women, Old and Young.

Kidney ills seize young and old. Come quickly with little warning. Children suffer in their early years—

Can't control their kidney secretions. Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.

Women worry, can't do daily work. Men have lame and aching backs. The cure for man, woman and child.

Is to cure the cause—the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys—

Cure all forms of kidney suffering. Salem testimony proves it. William Stansell, of 250 Cottage St., Salem, Or., says: "For five or six years kidney complaint and backache bothered me. It was never bad enough to lay me up but there were few times when I did not feel it still there and I suffered a lot from the persistent aching over and through the kidneys and from other symptoms of kidney trouble. I was never able to find anything to give me any permanent benefit until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Dr. Stone's drug store. The effects of this remedy were so gatisfying that I am glad to let others know my satisfactory experience with your medicine."

Takes the Blue Ribbon.

Breeze Gibson, the sage of the Eola hills, is getting a good deal of newspaper notoriety on account of his discovery of some freaks of nature in the maple woods near his home. We have seen Breeze's curios and certainly he has aided nature greatly in making some beautiful ornaments out of maple knots, but if a freak of nature is anything to be prized, Breeze is entitled to a blue ribbon.—Tall City Review.

The Doctor Away from Home When Most Needed.

People are very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like cramp colic and cholera morbus require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured from or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save life. For sale by Dr. Stone's Drug Store.

WANTS CORNER IN HOPS.

Grower Says the Trade is Losing at Present Prices.

Geo. Opp writing to the Oregonian from Woodburn says:

Last Thursday's Oregonian gives a statement of the hop situation and I agree with the view expressed as to there being too many hops held over and now held in reserve for the good of the market. Many growers for the last two seasons have lost money. It is true that all has not been lost for the cost of production has gone into circulation and mainly into the hands of deserving people, but how long can the growers stand it. That is the rub.

Oregon, Washington and California hold at this time 66,416 bales. Now, if we allow, say 10,000 bales, to be taken up from now until the new crop goes on the market, we will still have 56,416 bales to depress the market for new hops. The only feasible plan to remedy the situation as I see it, is for the Oregon, Washington and California hopgrowers to get together, hold a convention and to limit the out-put to say half this year's. This would save the Oregon hopgrower something like $846,000. By this means, they would obtain at least a living price for their portion put in the bale.

I believe that if the growers would so organize, they could control the situation. It would compel people making advance contracts to offer at least paying figures. I also believe it would prove very beneficial to the growers in protecting them against corners in hop cloth, sulphur and other supplies. In fact, the growers must organize, if for no other reason, than that all with whom they do business are either organized or combined against them.

MARINER IMPROVES.

Mate of French Bark Turgot is Fast Regaining His Mind.

One of the strangest cases of flurried mentality that has come to the attention of attendants at the Oregon insane asylum promises soon to be closed by the complete recovery of Yves Vidmend, second mate of the French bark Turgot, who went insane on the streets of Portland last winter. So encouraging is the condition of the French mariner that Consul Henri Labbe has received word that his discharge as cured may take place any day.

One wintry day Vidmend with other sailors ashore on leave walked up Front street. One moment he was talking and laughing, the next, apparently enraged because the sidewalk was blocked he began to rave. He picked up big cobblestones from the pavement and threw them about as though they had been pebbles. Half a dozen policemen had all they could do to take him to the police station.—Oregonian.

Long Live the King!

is the popular cry throughout European countries; while in America, the cry of the present day is "Long Live Dr. King's New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung Remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Paine, Truro, Mass., says: "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Paine's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throats after all other remedies have failed; and for coughs and colds it's the only sure cure. Guaranteed by J. C. Porry, druggist. 50c and $1.00. BAND CONCERT. Salem Musicians Delight Appreciating Audience in Marion Square. The Salem Military band rendered an excellent open air concert in Marion Square yesterday afternoon. The band is giving the music loving public many pleasurable afternoons and evenings this season which should be appreciated by Salem people of the city. Although it is sometimes difficult during the summer months to keep a band up to its usual standard, the boys this season have given entire satisfaction. Salem has an excellent band which should be encouraged and supported as one of the public necessities. The subscription to the organization should be large enough to pay a director and then have a surplus which would give the members a small amount for each concert. This would be an incentive for the boys to turn out and would show that the city really appreciated good music. The band is not a "one man band" but a permanent organization. A director is engaged at a stated salary and all the money collected over this amount is turned into the treasury of the organization. While some have helped the band liberally yet there are many that should be on the subscription list whose names do not appear as the amount as shown by the secretary's books does not quite pay the director. To maintain a good band means money, enthusiasm and work; and in a city of this size the band must receive help from the citizens. It has been suggested that it would be feasible and most satisfactory to appropriate a reasonable amount from the city for the maintenance of a band. This would equalize the assessment which would be so small as to not materially effect the city tax and would enable the organization to do the best work.

Best Medicine in the World for Colic and Diarrhoea. "I find Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to be the best remedy in the world," says Mr. C. L. Carter of Skirum, Ala. I am subject to colic and diarrhoea. Last spring it seemed as though I would die, and I think I would if I hadn't taken Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I haven't been troubled with it since until this week, when I had a very severe attack and took half a bottle of twenty-five cent size Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and this morning I feel like a new man."
