DAY IN MANILA

Wards Get Their First in How to Swat Their Enemies—American Professors Must Keep Hands Off

July 30.—The first election of members of the Philippine assembly in accordance with an act of Congress passed at Washington, is being held here. The election is progressing in the most modern method, by the restriction of the most advanced American order is being brought into play. The campaign, closed last Sunday, was most interesting between the two principal parties, the "progressists" and the "nationalists." Indications point to a victory for the "nationalists," who have fused with various political parties advocating independence, and have elected an enthusiastic candidate in other parts of the island. They seem to have excellent prospects of sweeping everything before them. The opponents, of whom the main body are the governors and other office holders of the insular government, are in a vigorous contest, particularly in the country districts. The movement of the progressists, that the nationalists are violent measures, and that people elect the nationalist to the assembly war with Americans will be the result. The harrowing pictures of the former American rule. The nationalists denied that they would be, and denounced the progressists as "bloodsuckers," "servers," who were bought by the other governmental. They claimed to want to the Americans that the immediate independence. The nationalist delegates to the assembly, there to demonstrate the rights of the Filipinos to manage their own affairs. While the progressists have been going on a stump the excitement has been intense that Manila papers the cockpits have been de-no cockfighting is permitted, and liquor is not permitted within 175 yards of Americans in the islands. Ballots at the election by those their citizenship in the states. The election law, under which the election is being held, provides for the election of delegates to the assembly and thenceforward on Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1909, and every two years thereafter. At the regular elections, beginning 1907, the president and members of all municipalities are elected. But municipal elections shall be elected half at regular elections, so that the office for four years, and other officials for two years. The majority of votes shall elect. There shall be $1 delegates, or one $6,000 of population, and a major fraction thereof. There shall not be more than 100 delegates shall be privileged from prosecution for treason; breach of the law. Felony is exempt from any imprisonment for more than two years. A delegate can be appointed to the assembly during the two years for which he is elected, and no person holding any office under the Philippine government can be a delegate. Delegates shall receive 20 pesos a day for actual services, and also actual traveling expenses, stationery, etc., of first session.

Delegates must be at least 25 years old, owe allegiance to the United States, and be qualified electors of the election district for which they stand.

There are of male adults over 21 years old about 784,095 who can read and $539,749 who can both read and write. These are all Christian and civilized Filipinos, according to the United States census. Of these it is estimated about 161,000 are qualified to vote. The American males number 7000, Chinese males 40,000 and Spaniards 3000. No one knows how many of these are electors, but it is estimated 10,000.

Manila, July 30.—The election is proceeding quietly and practically a full vote had been polled at noon. No disturbances have been reported, and people do not seem to realize the methods of the management of the election, and are continually asking the officers to interfere with electioneering near the booths. The authorities are trying to impress the people with the idea that the election is entirely within the rights of the people, and there should be no interference. Heavy rains fell throughout the morning.

Manila, July 31.—The independence party wins an overwhelming victory. A small percentage of the voting population voted for Dr. Dominador Gomez, who was elected while in Manila under a prison sentence for alleged frauds. There were no disorders.

BRITT NELSON FIGHT

San Francisco, July 30.—Unless all signs fail Nelson will be a top-heavy favorite over Britt when they face each other for the third time tomorrow night. From 10 to 9 the odds have gone to 10 to 6, and before the day is over the wise ones expect to see the price 10 to 1. Quite a lot of money was placed at 10 to 8. Britt admirers are taking all at that price there is in sight, but despite their eagerness the wager odds become longer. This condition is primarily due to the one decisive victory Nelson scored over Britt, but the Nelson sentiment has been given great strength by the dissipation of reports that he had not only gone back as a result of the beating Gans gave him, but that he had an ailment that would never again permit him to get into condition. The Dane is in splendid shape, and looks like a tough piece of whalebone. Britt is also in grand form for a grueling mill. Both laid off today, contenting themselves with a little road work. The indications are for a big house.

Washington, July 30.—The powder trust is trying to outwit the trust busters and prevent the suit which Bonaparte had arranged to be filed at Wilmington, Del., and today anticipated the filing of the bill in which he asks for the dissolution of the trust. The Duponts, under date of July 25, filed in court a certificate of dissolution for the E. I. Dupont and de Nemours Powder Company, the big holding company, one of the concerns for which a receiver will be asked. Bonaparte wired special counsel Roadstrum to make the necessary change in the bill before it is filed.

Wilmington, Del., July 30.—The government today began suit for the dissolution of the powder trust. United States Senator Dupont is one of a score of individual defendants to the action, which charges a combination and conspiracy in restraint of trade. The bill filed asks an injunction restraining 26 separate corporations from further operations of the powder and dynamite business, and prays that a receiver be appointed for three of the leading companies, E. I. Dupont de Nemours Powder Company, Laffin & Rand and the Eastern Dynamite Companies. The bill was filed by District Attorney Nields, after eight months' probing. Among the defendants are the California Powder Works, of San Francisco; the Judson Dynamite Powder Company, of San Francisco; the Metropolitan Powder Hercules Company, of California; and the Peyton Chemical Company, of San Francisco. When Dupont entered the senate, a little more than a year ago, the announcement was made that he would withdraw from all active participation in the operation of all powder concerns. The bill says: "That at the time of this petition Dupont was one of the principal stockholders in said company, and that during all of the time mentioned he has been and now is exercising a dominant influence over the management of the business of said companies, and is responsible for their acts."

SCHMITZ WAKES UP LANGDON

THE CITY IS EXCITED

Rumors That Schmitz Has Appointed a Board of Supervisors and Will With Aid of Chief of Police Capture Council Chambers Stir Frisco

San Francisco, July 30.—It is persistently reported that Schmitz last night appointed 15 men to take the place of the supervisors who resigned. The county clerk is said to have sworn the men in secretly, but he denies this. Schmitz threatened this action some weeks ago. If the report is true the existence of two sets of supervisors will cause a hopeless tangle. Two of the old board, who were permitted to retain their seats, have announced their intention not to sit with the board named by Taylor.

The report spread like wildfire, and others soon followed, one being to the effect that the Schmitz board would attempt to seize the council chambers this afternoon, aided by Chief Police Dinan, who refused to recognize Taylor as mayor. Dinan and Police Commissioner Hager held a secret conference early this afternoon, supposedly for the purpose of making police arrangements. Langdon hurried to the hall of justice, where the board of supervisors holds its meetings, to await developments.

Schmitz confirmed the report that he had appointed a second set of supervisors.

QUIET REIGNS AT BOISE

Boise, July 30.—Charles H. Moyer will walk out of the Ada county court house this afternoon, freed on bonds of $25,000, made possible by the generosity of local unions of the Western Federation of Miners, who guaranteed with $30,000 cash, the personal bond of Timothy Regan, a resident and property owner here. Moyer is jubilant at regaining his freedom, and his attorneys says he will never be called upon to face the charge. Orchard's tale is the only evidence against him, and during the Cripple Creek troubles Moyer was in jail, and could not have had part in them. He said, when released: "You may tell the readers of the United Press I am grateful to friends for having sided with me, and my associates for combatting the vile conspiracy. As far as my plans are concerned I'm going to return to Denver. Pettibone will also be acquitted if they dare to try him." Pettibone was brought into the court room at 10 o'clock and Darrow made a formal motion asking he be admitted to bail. No argument was made and Judge Wood denied the request. Pettibone had little hopes of securing favorable action, and was hardly disappointed.

HAWSE BECOMES INSANE

San Francisco, July 30.—The brain of Robert Hawse, third officer of the lost steamer Columbia, succumbed to the abuse, ridicule and contempt which has been heaped upon him ever since the investigation of the disaster has been in progress. Holding the newspaper articles containing the criticism of his actions subsequent to the crash in his hands, a brain fibre snapped, and he was mad.

The ignominy heaped upon him was more than he could bear. After brooding for several days over the charges which have been made against him, his intellect lost that keen adjustment that nature provides between thought and act, and his mind reeled off into insanity.

Hawse spent the evening at his rooms, 138 Fair Oaks street, Second Officer Richard Agerup was with him. Hawse had spent an hour or more reading the censures which had been printed against him. With a cry like a wild animal he clenched the clippings in his hands and leaped to his feet. Agerup looked at him and Hawse looked at his friend, but did not see him. His eyes were glazed.

The police were called and Hawse was taken to the detention ward at the Central Emergency Hospital.
