

What Would You Do

Three good physicians could pronounce your case hopeless. If they could decide that you could not live longer than a few weeks. And if you could get well, after using only $12.00 worth of Miles' Heart Cure and Irvine, what would you advise a friend in like condition to do?

I have to thank you for saving my wife's life two years ago. We had consulted with the doctor until the doctor, like the two previous ones, said that nothing could be done for her; that she had better be taken to the hospital to quietly wait for death. I thought, however, that at the most, I brought her home, and then I got a bottle of Miles' Heart Cure and Irvine. I commenced to give them to her, and soon seen an improvement, and then I continued to give her the medicine. We gave her eleven bottles in all of the medicine. She is now occasionally now if she feels tired. I am in the ministry, and have been for 44 years.

A STAMP MILL.

Be Taken into the Santiam Mines.

Gus Currie, a former Albany man, and Howard Mack of Portland were in the city this morning on their way home from a trip to the Santiam mines, where Mr. Currie and Robert J. Monroe own a mine. Mr. Currie reports some splendor from it, and, so confident are owners of the property that they propose to install a Little Giant mill to see what can be secured.

The Santiam mines have been neglected during the past few years, since the Lawler days there, $200,000 were said to have been spent in development work, but Currie is confident there is just as good ore there as anywhere along the coast and proposes to get some of it, which new methods of mining ought to secure.—Albany Herald.

A Wonderful Happening.

Port Byron, N. Y., has witnessed one of the most remarkable cases of healing ever recorded. Amos F. of that place says: "Buckley's Arnica Salve cured a sore on my leg with which I had suffered 50 years. I am now eighty-five. Guaranteed to cure all sores." C. Perry, druggist, 25c.

Not a Bad Suggestion.

See that wreck? a Long Island water Inquired of a friend, giving him a sideward toss as he got no wetter without it than it. It was full of holes as big as cup plates. "Well," he went on, "was coming over from Aqueduct the man who sat beside me."

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and sensible objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold step, and to place before the public the names of put-up medicines for public use, and so has published broad, and open to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely advertised medicines. Thus he has taken numerous patrons and patients into full confidence. Thus too he has revealed his medicines from among secret compounds of doubtful merits, and made them remedies of known composition. This bold step Dr. Pierce has shown the formulae are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to public scrutiny.

It tells the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the medicine for weak stomach, liver, and all catarrhal diseases, is located, have printed upon it, in English, a full and complete list of all ingredients composing it, but a small number of these little books will be mailed free on any sending address on postal card or by mail to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral salts or other poisonous or injurious agents, and that they are made from the roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak women, overworked, "run-down," nervous, debilitated women, were employed, long ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their women. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as not a few of our most valuable native medicinal plants were gained from the Indians. The "up-to-date" and "exact" present remedy for regulating all the women's functions, correcting displacements, relieving all sorts of ailments, and promoting a healthy and regular menstruation, is a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

thoughtlessly got up and left his umbrella behind him."

"And you stole it and it proved to be a lemon?" put in the friend.

"No, no. Don't butt in and try to dope out my narrative. As soon as I discovered the umbrella, I called the conductor and gave it to him. He hadn't got fairly out of the door before I smelled smoke. After scanning everybody else in the car, I took an inventory of my own surroundings and found my umbrella in flames. As I handed the conductor the fellow's umbrella with one hand, I apparently knocked some fire off my cigar with the other and my own umbrella caught it.

"See the reward I get, don't you?" the irate passenger went on, again pointing to the demolished umbrella cover. "What would you do in a case like that? Swear?"

"No," replied the philosophical friend, softly. "If it were my case, and I had got a very good look at the other fellow's umbrella, I felt sure I would be the first to call at the window and identify it."

The vexed look in the other man's eye changed into a knowing leer.

"Pardon me, won't you?" he said, "but I must hurry away. I have business that won't wait."—Brooklyn Eagle.

A man lay dead,
And then they said,
As he lay dead,
Upon the bed,
And scattered flowers around his head—

"He was a good man, and he fed the poor and hungry." But instead of doing so while life he led, They waited till the man was dead; And in the papers then 'twas read: "He was a good man, but he's dead," And then they scattered flowers around his head,
While alive he scattered bread—
Now he has flowers, when he's dead.
—J. C. B. Hebbard in The Liberal.

The Charming Woman
Is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires; neatness, clear eyes, clean, smooth skin and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at J. C. Perry, druggist, 50c.

Holy Grail Found in England.
A dispatch from London dated July 26 says:

The Express prints a story of the discovery near Glastonbury Abbey of a glass vessel of beautiful workmanship and apparently of great antiquity, which one of the discoverers believes is the Holy Grail of the Arthurian legend. The Holy Grail is the cup from which Christ is reputed to have drunk at the Last Supper, and according to ancient British tradition it was brought to England by Joseph of Arimathea, after the crucifixion. The vessel is of bluish green glass of some kind, cunningly inlaid with silver leaf. A number of eminent including some peers with ecclesiastical interest, Ambassador Reid, Professor William Crookes and the Rev. R. J. Campbell, have examined it. It is now in the possession of Professor Crookes, who has undertaken to solve its history.

Wedding Bells Suit Johnson.

Henry W. Johnson, groom of one week, spent the eighth night of his remarkable honeymoon in the Roseburg jail, says a recent Roseburg dispatch. Miss Percy Hoffman, of Portland, a former fiancée of Johnson, is detained at a hotel in the custody of the sheriff, awaiting further developments. It appears that Johnson, after marrying a young woman at Vancouver, Wash., a week ago, changed his mind in the course of three days, and departed in company with Miss Hoffman. They came direct to Roseburg and thence headed inland, locating at Leona, near Drain, where Johnson secured a position in the lumber mills. It is learned that Johnson has a wife in the East, not to mention his lately deserted bride, who is heart broken in her home at Vancouver, and the matter has been taken up by the police departments at Portland and Vancouver.

BACK TO DENVER IN SPECIAL

Denver, July 30.—"We will hire from the Union Pacific railroad the same special train in which Bill Haywood was taken to Boise after being kidnaped, and in this train we will bring him back to Denver," declared James Kirwin, acting secretary and treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, on receiving the news from Boise of William Haywood's acquittal.

"This great victory for the good name of the federation will be followed by the immediate engagement of enough organizers to double the membership of the Western Federation of Miners in the next three months.

"We will not have any more secret meetings of the various local unions, besides there is nothing to hide. Then there will be no work for the detectives who have been getting money from the mineowners to spy upon our meetings."

X-RAYS

The state of Idaho having made itself ridiculous, the gang of mystery dealers, thorn Pinkertons and indicted officials representing it, are trying to let themselves down easy by holding Pettibone, and pretending he will be tried. It won't do for their cars stick out from under the Hon's skin, and their collective roar is easily recognized as the bray of a jackass.

Haywood was taken out of Colorado in a special train at night; he will return in a special train in broad daylight.

Bishop Cranston, having spent some months in Japan, thinks he sees an easy solution of the Jap question. The trouble is that while the good bishop may understand the Jap side of it, he has lost sight of the American position. The peaceable solution of the Jap question is in the hands of the people. Just stop patronizing or employing them, and the war talk will soon stop.

John D. Rockefeller says he joined the Sunday school 54 years ago. The Sunday school has survived the shock, but John D. has lost his hair trying to square his conduct with its teachings—and then failed.

The Albany Democrat says the street car system of that city is "being continually kicked at, and a good effort is being made to have it electrified." Maybe electrocution would be quicker and less painful.

Your Liver
Is out of order. You go to bed in a bad humor and get up with a bad taste in your mouth. You want something to stimulate your liver. Just try Herbine, the liver regulator. A positive cure for Constipation, Dyspepsia and all liver complaints. Mrs. F., Ft. Worth, Texas, writes: "Have used Herbine in my family for years. Words can't express what I think about it. Everybody in my household are happy and well, and we owe it to Herbine. Sold by D. J. Fry."

"The old remedies are the best. Hickory Bark Cough Remedy has been in use for over one hundred years by the old Dutch Dunkards of Pennsylvania, and is still in use by all the old families of Western Pennsylvania. Is absolutely pure; made from the bark of the white or shell bark hickory tree. The bark is shipped from the east, and manufactured in Salem, Ore. For sale by all dealers everywhere.

For Sale.
