HENS GO CRAZY IN ALASKA

Special Correspondence:

Seattle, Aug. 1.—As all old prospection which will be held in Seattle that those most famous in the history of Alaska and Yukon will be present at Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition which will be held in Seattle from June 1 to October 15, 1909, the three months of almost continuous sunlight each summer in the northland has an odd effect on most newcomers.

As a matter of fact a man accustomed to seven hours sleep each night, finds upon going to Alaska that he cannot easily adjust himself to the altered conditions. Most people get sleepy when the dark comes, and do not think of sleeping in daylight. As a result men go for day after day in the north with little inclination to sleep. A man has to train himself in Alaska and Yukon to go to bed with the sun shining high in the sky. Those who need darkness in order to slumber comfortably have to pin blankets over the windows and go to a great deal of extra trouble to produce it. It is said in the early days that the chickens that were first brought to the north in the summertime went crazy for want of rest. They waited and waited for the sun to set in order to know when to go to roost, and as it continued to shine, the fowls went without sleep until they were exhausted. This story is hardly verified but it is true that the continuous daylight has a very odd effect on men and animals alike and it takes a few weeks to get accustomed to it.

Remedy for Diarrhoea—Never Known to Fail.

"I want to say a few words for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I have used this preparation in my family for the past five years and have recommended it to a number of people in York county and have never known it to fail to effect a cure in any instance. I feel that I can not say too much for the best remedy of the kind in the world."—S. Jamison, Spring Grove, York county, Pa. This remedy is for sale at Dr. Stone's drug store.

Has a Rooseveltian Family.

John Brown, a substantial citizen of Monroe, was in the city on business yesterday. Mr. Brown is a man after the President's own heart. He is only 46 years old, while his wife has just turned 41, and yet they have had 17 children born to them, 14 of whom are still living. Of these there is only one pair of twins. Mr. Brown is a Tennessean by birth, but has lived most of his life in Oregon, and swears by it as the most productive country on earth. He is in hearty sympathy with the present administration and thinks Roosevelt is all right.—Eugene Register.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Better Than Three Doctors.

"Three years ago we had three doctors with our little boy and everything that they could do seemed in vain. At last when all hope seemed to be gone we began using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and in a few hours he began to improve. Today is as healthy a child as parents could wish for."—Mrs. B. J. Johnston, Linton, Miss. For sale at Dr. Stone's drug store.

TWO OLD MINES OPENED

Story of Nevada Showing Wealth of Some Abandoned Properties

At a depth of ninety-two feet the Peerless Mining company has two feet of ore that assays $430 per ton in silver and $8 in gold. On the hanging wall there is eight inches of ore that assays $3500 per ton in silver and $3 in gold. Assays made in Austin and San Francisco show the same results within a few dollars. The Peerless company's claims, three in number, are located on Midas flat, two miles northwest of Austin. The claims were located in 1865. In 1871 the company secured a United States mineral patent and work on the property ceased. On each of the claims an incline was sunk, one to a depth of 60 feet, the second 20 feet and the third 12 feet.

This spring E. G. Ellinwood, a member of the company, arrived in Austin for the purpose of commencing work. He put two men at work on the 60-foot incline and at 70 feet was taking out some very rich ore, but the ledge was broken up. At 92 feet the ledge was solid and gave the above returns. The incline has reached the 100-foot point, and the rich streak had widened out to ten inches, but owing to the water coming in work has been suspended awaiting the arrival of a hoisting plant from San Francisco, which has been ordered.

The strike on the Peerless has put new life in that section, and owners of other properties are making arrangements to commence work at once.

The correspondent of the Salt Lake Herald from Las Vegas, Nev., says: Good Springs, Lincoln county, Nevada, appears to be attracting more attention on account of the prominence of the ore production of the Yellow Pine mining district than many another mining district in the states.

The most important mining transaction in the district occurred the other day, when the Monte Cristo group of three claims passed to Patsy Clark, of the famed Furnace Creek company of Greenwater, Cal.

Guy Fruit, an old mining man and desert prospector, visited the Yellow Pine district, and he noticed a peculiar character of lead matter, being a calamine carbonate of zinc, much resembling chalk almost in its every appearance and outer indication, but heavy. William Kennedy owned the property, and he wanted $50,000 for it. The more Mr. Fruit examined the property the more he liked it. J. R. McDonald and W. E. Higman, both of Rhyolite, were along with Fruit, and after viewing the stuff again, Fruit said: "Here, Kennedy, I think enough of that hole to give you $1000 down for a 30-day option for $50,000," and the deal was closed, both McDonald and Higman taking equal interests in the risk.

Mr. Fruit invited Jim Harvey, Patsy Clark's expert, down to the ground, and after a very critical examination he remarked to the three, "I'll tell you what I'll do, I will pay for the ground and give you $250,000 for the property."

Since that time, which was a few weeks ago, a force of 20 men have been employed. It seems ridiculous, but for all that it is true 20 tons of ore have been shipped daily, and the same has been increased within the last few days to 50 tons, which is hauled to the little railroad station of Jean on the Senator Clark railroad and sent to the Salt Lake smelter of reduction.

Croup

Is a violent inflammation of the mucous membrane of the wind pipe, which sometimes extends to the larynx and bronchial tubes; and is one of the most dangerous diseases of children. It almost always comes on in the night. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup and apply Ballard's Snow Liniment externally to the throat. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by D. J. Fry.

At Cascadia.

The Albany Democrat in speaking of the campers at Cascadia says "Kola Nels is there yet and is kept busy looking at an increasing stack of post cards, with bear pictures from his Albany friends, with numerous jokes. As nearly as could be learned all there was to the bear story was a big rock rolled down a hill by Henry McIlwain into the vicinity of Mr. Nels, who either did or didn't take it for a bear.

THE BOY SAVED THE BABY

Archie Conlee, at Risk of Life Carries Baby From Burning Building

Eleven-year-old Archie Conlee is the hero of Reservoir Park, says last night's Telegram. Yesterday afternoon he rushed into the burning home of Robert Ryan and snatched William Ryan, aged 21 months, from the flames. The baby's dress and hair were on fire, but Archie beat out the blaze with his hands. The boy, with the baby in his arms, jumped out of the house just before the roof tumbled in.

As a result of the fire, Mrs. Ida Ryan, aged 25 years, died at St. Vincent's hospital this morning, and her oldest son, Lester, aged 3 years, was burned to death as he lay sleeping on the bed. Young Conlee states he did not know the other boy was in the house, and that he heard no other cries save those of the baby. The fatality was caused by Mrs. Ryan starting a fire with kerosene. It is thought she held the can as she started the kindling, and that the flames blazed up so high they set fire to her clothing.

Mrs. Ryan had been visiting a short time yesterday afternoon with Mrs. R. E. Conlee, who lives but a short distance away. About 5 o'clock the visitor went home to prepare supper. A few minutes afterwards, Mrs. Conlee heard a scream, and looking out of her door saw Mrs. Ryan running toward her with her clothing and hair ablaze. The neighbor stopped her as she was entering the Conlee home. Mrs. Conlee attempted to put out the fire by wrapping a blanket about the woman's body.

This action smothered the fire that was burning the lower part of Mrs. Ryan's body, but did not put out the blaze that was scorching the woman's waist and hair. Mrs. Conlee then dashed a bucket of water over Mrs. Ryan's head, and then picked up a tubful of water and threw it over the burning woman. Mrs. Conlee is a small, slender woman, and she now declares she does not know how she managed to carry the tub of water as she did.

"Get, Willie; oh get my baby!" cried the burning mother.

Hearing these pitiful pleadings, Archie Conlee made a run for the burning house, and seeing the baby, with his clothing on fire, grabbed him up, beat out the fire, and escaped just before the walls and roof of the house crumbled.

"Where's Lester?" asked Mrs. Conlee.

"He's burned up, I know," replied the crazed mother.

The Ryan home consisted of but one large room, and Lester was asleep on a bed near the stove. When the flames shot out the bed clothing caught fire at the same time Mrs. Ryan was struck by the blaze. It is thought the 3-year-old boy was dead before his mother reached the Conlee home.

"If I'd heard Lester yell, I'd tried to get him, too," said young Conlee this morning, "but I didn't know he was there. Anyhow, I'm mighty glad I got the baby. Mr. Ryan offered me $10 this morning, but I wouldn't take it, 'cause he needs that money."

Mrs. Ryan was taken into the Conlee home, where her body was wrapped in dampened flour. A physician was called at once, and, after a long run, the Holman ambulance arrived and took the dying woman to the hospital. She was able to talk to her husband up to a short time before she died. She continually asked for her children. Her daughter, Edith, aged 5 years, was playing in a neighbor's yard at the time of the fire.

Nerve Sick

If weak, worn-out, nervous, cannot sleep; have indigestion, headache, neuralgia or periodic pains, it is because your nerves are weak. It is the lack of nerve force that makes the stomach, heart, lungs, etc., work imperfectly—become sick. Dr. Miles' Nervine cures the sick when it restores nerve strength, and puts the power behind the organs to do their work.

"Almost three years I suffered from nervousness, indigestion, and palpitation of the heart. I could not eat or sleep with comfort, or walk or talk without suffering. Altogether I was in a bad condition. My doctor did not seem to do me any good. I had tried so many remedies that I did not have much hope of any of them doing me any good. Dr. Miles' Nervine was suggested by a friend. I got relief from the first, and after a few days I felt like a new person. It not only relieved my heart and nerves, but has invigorated my whole system. I am very grateful because since I have stopped using it, I have had absolutely no return of my old trouble."

MRS. HOWARD FORD, 60 Summit Ave., Worcester, Mass. Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
