An Old Salemite—

Jack Johnson, formerly well known hop grower, politician and rounder in this county, is working as a shipping clerk in a brewery at San Francisco. Between sports, speculating, politics and lawsuits, Jack blew in about $20,000 in a few years, but it is said has cut out all the follies.

Max Smith Shows Up—

Max Smith, of hop basket and restaurant fame at Salem, has returned from several years absence in the south and San Francisco. He is visiting his mother at Woodburn.

For some time he has been foreman for the United Railways at Frisco at $125 per month. He says the strike has ruined that city. Union men are fined $100 if they or any of their family ride on the cars, and there are not half vehicles enough in the city to carry them about the city.

Band Concert—

The Salem Military band delighted an appreciative audience in Marion Square yesterday afternoon by rendering another of the popular open air concerts. Owing to several of the musicians being out of the city last Sunday the concert was postponed but as the outing season will soon be over the band will probably appear each Wednesday night in Willison avenue and Sunday afternoon in Marion Square. Several experienced musicians will locate in the city soon which will be a valuable acquisition to the band.

The administrator reserves the right to reject any or all bids. As this is one of the best pieces of property in this locality it will be to your interest to look into this if wishing to buy a neat piece of property for a reasonable figure. A. G. Magers, administrator of the estate of Mrs. M. J. Magers, deceased. 8-12-31.

A Six Pound Bass.

W. B. Farrier of Yew Park tried the bass fishing in the slough yesterday afternoon, and caught about a dozen, most of them were small but he had one that weighed just a trifle less than six pounds. The bass fishing has been unusually good in the slough this summer, but Mr. Farrier's big one yesterday, is the largest caught this season.

Three Women Agents.

There are said to be three women station agents on the main line of the S. P. in Oregon—Chemawa, Gold Hill and Talent. There are several on the west side. Miss Francis at Chemawa has held her position for two years and is an accomplished station master.

Woodburn Defeated.

In a warm game Woodburn was defeated Sunday by the North Pacific Brewery nine, 4 to 0. The Queen City of the French prairie is wearing mourning over a succession of reverses.

Opera Chairs at the Circus.

Ringling Brothers have introduced this season a new idea in the way of a grandstand provided with folding opera chairs. It is the most comfortable seating arrangement ever used by a circus.

New Bank at Gervais.

Jacob Bingham is having a large vault built in one of his brick buildings at Gervais, and there is to be a new bank organized there and opened at an early day.

FIXING TURNER ROADS

A force of 31 convicts under Guard Geo. Wright, and directed by A. D. Harris, representing the county court, are at work on the Turner road from the city limits south. The ditches are being opened, the surface graded and made ready for crushed rock, the large gravel stones removed off the surface, and piled up for crushing. A fine quarry of trap rock has been found on the side hill half a mile west of the reform school and the rock crusher will be set at work at once preparing material for the whole distance. It is the intention if the governor will furnish the convicts to grade and finish the road with crushed rock from Salem to Turner this fall, and it is a piece of work the public will very much appreciate. A great part of the way the road is through state lands, and there is very heavy travel over it.

An effort is being made to find Greaser John's father. And an old man who mumbles curses all the time, has been discovered in Illinois who is said to be the man. Maybe John D. wants the old man to help him express his opinion of Judge Landis.
