

Back In Our Old Quarters

Which have been thoroughly repaired and made more modern and convenient than ever before. We are back in our old quarters with everything new and up-to-date. We can truthfully say this is the only house in the Willamette Valley showing a new and complete line of fall merchandise at this time. Quality is up to our usual standard and our prices speak eloquently of their usual littleness.

Waisting and Flannels

Our showing is wide and comprehensive, embracing every new weave in all wanted shades. It's too large a showing to give you descriptions here, but we want you to see these new things and know what remarkable values they are.

It isn't simple that we sell Hart

Schaffner & Marx clothes that find it worth while to buy things here. That's a pretty reason; but there are others. We have a lot of other things men wear, that are worth too. If you haven't found that this store is the headquarters for quality stuff, you've something coming to you. Come in; we're here all the time.

Trunks and Suit Cases

Are here in a great variety. They are the best that we can get and you get the benefit of our experience in buying the best.

Blankets

Entire stock of new blankets both in cotton and wool. A complete showing ready.

Fire in Logging Camp.

Monday night the logging camp on Seven-Mile Creek, above Rocky Point, was destroyed by fire. The estimated damage to cut logs and timber is in the whereabouts of $5000. A donkey engine which was in use at the time was burned. The cause is unknown, but it is attributed to a spark from the donkey engine.

The fire was very plainly seen from here. The heavens were lit up for miles around and the fire is still burning as we go to press.—Bandon Recorder.
