IN TUNE.

A song I heard long, long ago,
A song of love so soft and low;
I listened with my heart aglow
And tried to catch the rhythmic flow
And learn the pathos of the rune.
In vain! my soul was out of tune.

Years passed me by, years full of pain,
When lo! I heard the song again.
Sweet as a wild bird's voice it came;
I tried to learn it, not in vain.
I know not how, but pain and strife
Had put in tune my harp of life.

—Flora Hazleton-Baily in New Thought.

MISS TARBELL ON STANDARD.

That the prosecution and fine of the Standard Oil company has grown out of the castigations administered by Miss Ida M. Tarbell during the last few years, no one can doubt who has ever read her magazine articles and her "history of the Standard Oil Company."

So, when she says in the World of yesterday that, "the day of the Standard Oil company and its old form is over; it must either conform now to justice and fair dealing or it will fall utterly; I don't mean that its day is over this year, or will be over next year, but it is as surely ended as right is right," she has the ear of the entire American people.

Miss Tarbell calls attention to the fact that it is thirty-five years ago that the United States government first had to investigate the Standard Oil company for its illegal contracts with railroads.

This is only the last offense we know of in thirty-five years.

There are plenty of others as richly deserving of punishment which have not been brought to the atten-tion of the court.

Miss Tarbell says: "The difficulty of the men with the Standard Oil company seems to be that THEY HAVE NO SENSE THAT THE PUBLIC HAS ANY PART IN THE CONDUCT OF CORPORATIONS.

"THEY UTTERLY LACK THE COLLECTIVE SENSE.

"IT IS INDIVIDUALISM GONE MAD—REDUCED TO ABSURDITY.

"The point is that the public for thirty-five years has been trying to make the Standard Oil company play fair.

"It has given the trust repeated warnings in the way of public uprisings, the passage of laws and adverse decisions.

"But every time the trust has snapped its fingers and gone on in the same old way.

"It is a sort of insolence which a people would be very supine to tolerate indefinitely.

"It is being demonstrated clearly that the American people do not propose to endure it any longer.

"The Standard Oil men are not only insolent, but they are stupid as well, and show that they entirely misunderstand the power of public opinion and the genuineness of the public's sense of fair play.

"They have had every chance to readjust their business and conduct it as gentlemen should, and all they have ever done, after a public explosion, is to readjust it so they could carry on their same old practices in a new way.

"Mr. Rockefeller never has taken any public verdict against himself very seriously.

"HIS COMMENT ON JUDGE LANDIS' DECISION—THAT THE JUDGE WOULD BE DEAD A GOOD MANY YEARS BEFORE THE FINE WAS PAID—IS CHARACTERISTIC OF HIM.

"HE ALWAYS SHOWS THE SAME CONFIDENCE THAT HE WILL BE ABLE TO PROVE HIMSELF STRONGER THAN THE GOVERNMENT.

"I hope the fine will be collected, but I think, with Mr. Rockefeller, that it will be some time before it will be paid.

"If it is collected, the public will pay it—the public always pays under present conditions.

"It is not that I do not believe that we are eventually going to bring the Standard Oil company down to doing a strictly legal business.

"I believe we are, but it is going to take a good many years yet of hard fighting.

"These men have thought they would be justified by their success, but the whole history of the world is against the continuance of success built on injustice.

"The fruit of injustice is never permanent.

"The Standard Oil company will be, I believe, one of the most remarkable illustrations of the truth of this adage."

A DAMNABLE REGIME.

The death by suicide of G. Wallace Delamater at Pittsburg, says the New York Commercial, recalls the disaster, personal and official, sustained by Pennsylvania through the unfortunate domination of Matthew Quay.

A man who would have graced a prison cell much better than the state treasurership, his influence in the most easily corruptible of all our states has been one of the saddest records in American politics.

When Mr. Delamater was induced to run for governor against Mr. Pattison, SENATOR QUAY NOT ONLY MANAGED TO LOSE THE CAMPAIGN BY HIS OWN RECORD AND UTTERANCES, BUT HE MANAGED TO RUIN MR. DELAMATER FINANCIALLY.

It was the wasting of one of the fine men and successful bankers of northwestern Pennsylvania on the altar of hideous sacrifices.

It recalls the long list of men identified with the Quay regime in Pennsylvania who, like Senator Delamater, have died by their own hand or of broken hearts.

Of the former there are recalled J. B. Walters, cashier in the state treasury; J. S. Hopkins, cashier of the wrecked People's bank of Philadelphia; T. L. Clark of Allegheny, cashier of the wrecked Enterprise National bank; of the latter, who died from broken hearts or under great strain, are noted Amos C. Noyes, William Livsey, D. J. Haywood and W. B. Hart, all state treasurers.

It is said that Wilson A Norris of Philadelphia, the auditor-general died from worry precipated by the scandals and troubles ascribed to the Quay administration.

A REGIME WITH A RECORD LIKE QUAY'S CAN NEVER, WE TRUST, BE DUPLICATED IN THIS COUNTRY.

The history of his life should be a warning to every American to whom graft is tolerable or who walks on the edge of paths illegal.

It has not passed, as yet, if one may judge from the remaining rascals who are debauching state officials as of yore; but there is daily growing a public sentiment which has a truer appreciation of the efficacy of imprisonment as a regulative of nasty politics and as punishment of flagrant violations of law by the influential.

Harriman Will Stop Them.

Now watch the railroad game being played in Crook county and you will see the Nelson-Gregory outfit lay down their cards without calling Mr. Harriman. It is an old game, this railroad game, but the same old bluff will invariably work when made by the man who has the money at his command. For Central Oregon we are sorry, but there is no use in trying to hide the facts. The very minute some one tries to project a line into this territory Mr. Harriman gets busy, and the other man will quit before he does. Then he'll quit. He would rather expend half a million to keep another man out than to add another half million and build into central Oregon. Was ever there another such a case of perversity? It is doubtful if the railroad magnate would allow even a horse road constructed from the Columbia to Crooked River.—Prineville Review.

"The most popular remedy in Otsego county, and the best friend of my family," writes Wm. M. Dietz, editor and publisher of the Otsego Journal, Gilbertsville, N. Y., "is Dr. King's New Discovery. It has proved to be an infallible cure for coughs and colds, making short work of the worst of them. We always keep a bottle in the house. I believe it to be the most valuable prescription known for Lung and Throat diseases." Guaranteed to never disappoint the taker, by J. C. Perry's drug store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

A. D. Kenworthy, of this city, was taken to Portland last week, where he has since undergone a surgical operation for appendicitis, and is reported improving

THE improvidence of a large number of people is due not so much to a desire to spend every cent they earn, as to their failure to understand the value of small economies, and to adopt a definite plan of saving. If a start, no matter how small, would be made of laying aside a small portion of the income each week or month, the lesson of saving would soon be learned.

Start a savings account now, if the first deposit is only one dollar. We pay 3 per cent interest on saving deposits, compounded semi-annually. You will profit by the interest, but your greatest profit will be in forming the saving habit.
