

THE ART OF FEATHER MIXING

Years Are Required to Gain
Skill in Filling Pillows

storm, for the feathers fly around as high as the ceiling. An onlooker well might wonder where the sorting comes in of the maze of feathers.

It is here that the wonderful part of the machine lies, for the air pressure is so arranged that the heaviest feathers, which are also the cheapest, will fall precisely in a bin about five feet away from the blower. The next heaviest will fall in the bin 15 feet away from the machine, and the rest of the seven different grades of feathers will fall accurately in bins that have been provided for them. The down, which is the most expensive, flies around in the air the longest, but when it comes down it falls into a bin that is placed over 70 feet away from the blower. Thus the seven different grades of feathers have been sorted, each kind in a bin and without having been touched since leaving the blower.

The drum and blower man, after putting in five years at this kind of work and also learning the different grades of feathers, takes another step upward in the business and becomes an assistant to the mixer. His work consists of weighing feathers and learning the different combinations that are used in stuffing pillows. In a few years he will probably know how to mix some of the combinations, but usually it takes five years of experience before an assistant can become a mixer.

The combination used in the cheapest pillows is hen and turkey feathers. Duck and turkey combination is used in a little better grade of pillows, and the best combination of all is duck and goose feathers. The most expensive filling is made of downy feathers from geese. These combinations have different prices, and the mixer must know these prices, and, when he can, experiment with the various kinds of feathers to try and get a cheaper combination that will last as long as the dearer kind.—Chicago Tribune.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period, that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by J. C. Perry, druggist. 50c.

Crossing the Herring Pond.

The liner was rolling frightfully. "Jack," moaned the pale green but still lovely bride, "promise me you will send my remains to the old home for burial."

He promised. The motion grew gradually worse.

"Jack," she moaned again.

"Well, dear?"

"You needn't bother about my remains. There won't be any."—New York Press.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Better Than Three Doctors.

"Three years ago we had three doctors with our little boy and everything that they could do seemed in vain. At last when all hope seemed to be gone we began using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and in a few hours he began to improve. Today is as healthy a child as parents could wish for."—Mrs. B. J. Johnston, Linton, Miss. For sale at Dr. Stone's drug store.
