Cleaning Depot Grounds—

The depot grounds at Salem are at last undergoing a cleaning. The ground is being burned over, which will be a help in starting a new growth of grass. The flower beds on the north side of the depot have been cultivated, and the dead shrubs removed. The dead logs have been taken out of the oak grove and paper and rubbish from the grounds.

Hansen All Right—

That "Andy Hansen made it" is sufficient claim to the superiority of any article manufactured in wood in Salem. Go to Hansen's sash and door factory and get figures.

Badly Scalded—

The little 4-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mathes, of Fruitland, was yesterday badly scalded by falling into a pot of boiling water. It is not known how the accident happened. The little girl was taken to the Salem hospital.

Free Circus Tickets—

Any boy or girl who is willing to do half an hour's work, can go to the Ringling Brothers' circus, August 28. We only ask you to get us two subscribers and bring in 50 cents for the first month on each. Call at Journal office and get blanks.

The Selected Kinds—

Of fresh vegetables are making the grocery store of J. M. Lawrence a very popular place to trade these days. Pleased customers are the best advertisement for a grocery store.

It's Hot Again—

And many a housekeeper sighs for assurance of untainted meats. Our sanitary refrigerator counters insure the freshest and sweetest cuts. Send us your orders. Steusloff Bros.

Farmers—

I believe it will be to your interest, both financially, as well as having your machine attended to in future, to call and get the price you can get a new drop-head Davis sewing machine for at and from Geo. C. Will, the old sewing machine dealer, before purchasing one of strangers.

Wanted—

1000 acres of flax and hemp grown by farmers, delivered at my mill, for cash, just outside the east line of the city limits. This is easy to grow, remunerative, and better the land. Apply at my residence Tuesday forenoon or Saturday afternoon in town. Eugene Boese.

Public Debate—

There will be a public debate upon the question: "Resolved, That Socialism is Impracticable." The affirmative will be maintained by an ex-convert of Socialism. He will attempt to prove that the practice of socialist principles will lead society into an immoral state of affairs. The meeting will be at Commercial Hall Friday evening, August 23d. All are invited to be present. The negative will be argued by a member of the local socialist club.

Can Do Business—

The Horticultural Fire Relief Association yesterday received a certificate from the secretary of state's office, allowing it to do business within the state of Oregon. The company proved that it had the necessary $300,000 of risks. John Pemberton is president and E. H. Anderson secretary. The United States Casualty Company, of New York, has obtained the right to do business in Oregon, and will have its main office in Portland. The United States Fidelity Guarantee Company has received its annual license.

A New Hotel—

Visitors to Portland will be interested in the new hotel facilities of that city, as many of the older landmarks are getting behind the times. The newest, and one that will appeal to a very large number of patrons, is the St. Philip Hotel, corner of Fifth and Burnside streets. It is conducted by H. M. Pierce, who is taking pains to make his hostelry a home-like place. Salem people will not only find the St. Philip in a convenient location, but will find it clean and inviting. The rooms are fitted up with the best of beds and modern sanitary conveniences. The building is not a sky-scraper to endanger your safety in case of fire, and in fact it is practically fireproof. The rates are very modest, and are so adjusted as to meet the needs of all comers. Families and parties of friends especially provided for.

Journal Ads Get 'Em—

Monday a lady, with sublime faith in humanity, and an abiding confidence in the power of a Journal want ad, put a little notice in that column to the effect that she had lost an umbrella. Now it is a matter of notoriety that an umbrella, like virtue, once lost is gone forever. Despite this the ad was inserted and Tuesday her umbrella was returned. It might further be stated, to remove the general opinion about lost umbrellas, that the one in question was a valuable one, with mother-of-pearl handle. It may be that the fact that a Salem man found it had something to do with its being returned, and that, too, just before state fair time, when it is supposed to be needed; but the fact remains that The Journal want ad got it. The fact is that a $20 piece dropped down an open well, if advertised for in The Journal, is pretty sure to come up in the first bucket.

Mrs. Ballington Booth—

Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Dell, of the Congregational church, returned from a vacation at Portland, and other points down the valley. He had expected to be away a month, but being fortunate enough to get Mrs. Ballington Booth to conduct the services at his church next Sunday, returned at once. Mrs. Booth will speak at the Congregational church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

Tracks to the Bridge—

The General Electric Company has now laid its tracks on Commercial street up to the new concrete bridge on either side of the creek, and is prepared, as soon as the city officials and the company get together, to complete its line across the bridge. This will enable the company to operate cars for the state fair, which is of vital importance to the people of Salem, as well as the state fair and the car company. There is a general feeling that the matter will be adjusted in time to bring about this result, as the public convenience demands it. Whatever the differences may be that exist between the different parties, whoever may be right or whoever may be wrong, it is certainly a fact that the matter should be settled, and settled right away, in the interest of the general public. There are said to be negotiations on foot by members of the council to bring about an amicable settlement, and it would be a detriment to the public welfare to have any steps taken that would prevent this much-desired end.

PERSONALS

L. S. Perkins, of Monmouth, was a Salem visitor Thursday.

President Resaler, of the Monmouth state normal school, was here on a business trip yesterday.

F. M. George was in the city Thursday, coming in from his prune orchards near Liberty, where he has been for several days, arranging for taking care of the crop. He returns to his home, Portland, today.

Miss Alice Albaugh returned to her home in Ashland today. While in Salem she was the guest of Miss Hunt, at her home in the Waldo Hills.

Mac Hofer went to Woodburn today to oil up the merry-go-round in his brick yard, and thus get the brick kiln business to running smoothly, preparatory to his taking a month's outing at Newport.

Miss Ranska Swartz went to Portland this morning.

Superintendent of Schools Ackerman went to Joseph, Wallawa county, this morning to take part in the teachers' examination at that burg. He took a supply of winter clothing with him, but will be back before snow flies, or at least before the Republican state convention meets.

Miss Effie Needham and Eugene Houston returned last night from Eugene, where they have been visiting relatives the past three weeks. They were accompanied home by Mrs. M. Elliott and daughter, Ione, who are guests at the Houston residence.

X-RAYS

John Temple Graves announces that he "will stand by his party." Rather discouraging to the party that its graves will be always handy.

E. E. Lytle thinks it would be "foolish" to arrest the officers of the defunct Oregon Trust & Savings Bank. His being one of the officers may possibly have caused this unbiased opinion.

The electric snake has finally caught up with that 4 per cent in the Oregon Trust & Savings' Bank sign, and swallowed it, and also the principal. Some folks think the snake is only one of a large family, and that there are Moore.

John Temple Graves has announced that he "will stand by his way to speak at the Chautauqua at Rockford. This is the fourth wreck he has been in while going to make addresses at this same town, but none of them were as serious as the two political wrecks he was in.

About the most senseless expression in the English language and one in daily use is "the rights of property." There is no such thing, for property in itself can have no rights. A person or a corporation may have rights in or over property, and a right to be protected in its use, but the property can have no "rights."

A Small Blaze—

The barn of A. Hubbard on Front and Columbia streets was saved from destruction by fire early this morning by promptitude in turning in the alarm and the quick action of the fire department. The chemical engine arrived on the spot in a few minutes, and apparently made short work of the fire, but when they returned to the station they heard another alarm from the same part of the city. It appeared that the fire had broken out again in some straw near the yard. This was put out as easily as the first. The damage was inconsiderable.

Real Camera Fiasco.

Magistrate—It isn't that, yet man charged with?

Constable—He's a camera fiasco, the worst kind, yer worship.

Magistrate—But this man should not have been arrested simply because he has a mania for taking pictures.

Magistrate isn't that, yet man ship; he takes the camera—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Imitators are not loved by Americans, nor is the manufacturer who endeavors to imitate a well advertised article by using a cheap trade-mark or package, hoping to fool the public. Do not be fooled—insist on getting what you want.
