A Collection of Important Paragraphs for Your Consideration

Post Card Hall—
New subjects daily. tf.

Fourteenth Annual Fair—
Second Oregon District Agricultural Society, Roseburg, Oregon, September 10 to 14, 1907. On account of this fair, the Southern Pacific will sell tickets from Salem to Roseburg and return September 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14, return limit September 15, for $5.90 for the round trip. 9-5-6t

Do You Want Students?
Any person desiring the services of students who are working their way through Willamette University, will please notify the secretary, U. G. Boyer, at once. 9-6-eod

To the Woods—
Lee Woods and son, Edmund, John Moir and Henry Meyers left today for a two weeks' hunting and fishing trip in the Siletz country. They were well equipped with fishing tackle and salt, and were armed to the teeth. They say that they are prepared to meet anything from a snipe to a grizzly, and their Salem friends count on having a roast of bear or a feed of trout when they return.

Offers Reward—
A reward of $1000 is offered by George L. Moore for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who murdered his wife, Mrs. Rebecca Moore, at their home near Buena Vista last week. It is probable the county court, as soon as it meets, will offer a reward.

Painters Wanted—
William R. Anderson, of 163 South Commercial street, will give employment or job to one or more painters. Call at 163 South Commercial street.

Visiting Student Friends—
George Lounsbury, the well-known Willamette thlete and medical student arrived in the city yesterday from Corvallis, to visit old-time friends. He will leave tomorrow for Knoxville, Tennessee, to enter the university at that place.

Judges Selected—
The following judges have been announced to serve in the live stock department of the 1907 state fair: Prof. W. L. Carlyle, of Fort Collins, Colorado horses; Prof. E. E. Elliot, of the Washington state college, of Pullman, cattle, dairy breeds; Thos. Andrews, of Cambridge, Mass., cattle, beef breeds; N. A. Gwin, of Lawrence, Kansas, goats; E. Carlisle, of Portland, Oregon, poultry; H. E. Soos, of Norbourne, Missouri, starting judge for the harness races.

A Usable Education—
A business education was at one time considered useful only for those who expected to follow bookkeeping. It is not so now. Such an education is considered the proper kind for any one, no matter what his occupation may be, and if a young person would succeed in business now he will stand little chance without a thorough knowledge of accounts and kindred subjects. All of these are taught thoroughly and practically at the Capital Business College, of Salem. Send for our catalogue. sat-mon-wed

The Good Old Summer Time—
It has gone, and the fall season with all its luxuries and good things is upon us. Now everybody is busy planning for the winter comforts, and greatest among them is good clothing. See G. W. Johnson & Co. for the best the market affords at right prices.

Cheers But Not Inebriates—
For the cup that cheers but not inebriates, the cup of the best tea, you should get your supplies at the grocery store of J. M. Lawrence. Best teas and coffees a specialty.

Will Lay Rails Next Week—
The Oregon Electric Company has issued orders to begin the work of laying the rails at this end of the new Salem-Portland road next week. November 15th has been set as the time when the road will be completed ready for beginning traffic between here and the metropolis.

Paste This in Your Hat—
The office of the Horticultural Fire Relief of Oregon is in room 7, McCormack building, Salem, Oregon. Entrance to stairway and elevator on Court street. Our phone is Ne. 245. 9-11-3t.

Pioneer Fatally Hurt—
John Stuart, a well-known Lane county pioneer, fell from an apple tree in the yard at his home in Eugene yesterday evening, striking on the side of his head. He had not regained consciousness late last night, and physicians give little hope of his recovery. He is 72 years old.

Boedigheimer-Odantal—
County Clerk Allen this morning issued a marriage license to Simon P. Boedigheimer, aged 43, and Mary Odantal, aged 37, both of Sublimity, E. Schott witness.

Tough on the Filipinos—
J. B. Huntington, recently arraigned before Judge Cleland in the circuit court, at Portland, will sail from Seattle tomorrow morning on the same boat with Secretary Taft for Manila. Mr. Huntington was brought into the court on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, having forged a check for about $20. His brother paid the amount and all the costs of the suit, thus getting Huntington out of trouble, and is now paying the cost of the trip. Huntington intends to start life anew, and realizes that he could not do it unless he broke away from his associates here. Detective Maher will accompany Huntington to Seattle.

Huntington was generally in Salem during the legislative sessions, and seems to have been born crooked. It is only a question of time until he is in trouble in the Philippines, with no brother to look after him.

The Young Idea—
Little Girl (after a domestic scene with her mother)—The best thing for us to do, mamma, is to agree to a separation.—Philadelphia Inquirer

The professor and wife conducted the Garland normal school on Commercial street, and Owen attended Willamette University for several years, where he graduated with high honors.

Klinger Grand Theatre

Another packed house greeted the performance at the Klinger Grand last night, and, judging from the applause, the audience seemed well satisfied with the show. Madam Musette does a very entertaining act with her trained dogs, and it seems at times that the canines possess human intelligence. James S. Derrin, the ventriloquist, keeps the audience in roars of laughter with his puppets, and it is hard to realize that the dummies are not really talking while he is on the stage. The moving picture, "Jim's Apprenticeship," is a neat laugh-producer, and is in itself worth the price of admission. The program will be augmented tonight by the appearance of another act, which should have appeared Monday night. There will be a matinee Saturday, and a complete change of program for fair week.

Taft Sails Tomorrow

Seattle, Sept. 11.—The Taft party left at 7 this morning on a special for Grays Harbor. The party will return to Seattle tonight and sail on the Minnesota at noon tomorrow for the Philippines.

The Vernacular

"Drink to me only with thine eyes," chortled the poet.
"All right," responded the fair girl. "Here's looking at you."—Exchange.

Don't Neglect Your Eyes

The time is now approaching when your eyes need attention. Evenings are short and to strain your eyes may result fatally in the end, if neglected.

School children's eyes should be looked after before starting the school. Those wearing glasses should have them examined to see they are still correct. Don't neglect and see Salem's best eyesight specialist.
