

CHRONIC STOMACH TROUBLE

Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills After Sufferer Had Doctored for Years in Vain.

The tonic treatment for indigestion is having remarkable success in curing obstinate cases of that distressing malady and deserves attention from every sufferer. Its principle is that remedies for indigestion that digest the food for the stomach give relief for only a short time. Ultimately they unfit the stomach to do its own proper work, because they make its already weak power still weaker by disuse, while the remedy that strengthens the stomach makes it more and more capable of digesting the food for itself and this benefit lasts. A remedy that is a tonic not only for the stomach but for the blood and nerves as well, invigorates the entire system and makes recovery from the weakening effects of indigestion rapid and thorough.

Miss Cynthia Hart, of 418 E. Mulberry street, Lebanon, Ohio, says: "I was a sufferer from stomach trouble for several years and found no relief in doctors' or other medicines. My appetite was gone, I was troubled constantly by headaches and dizzy spells and was so nervous that I was annoyed and worried by any little noise. It was almost impossible to sleep at night and I was easily tired out. The least bit of work made me short of breath. I lost in weight and was so run down that I knew I must soon find some help or give up."

"While undecided what to do I ran across a newspaper containing a case like mine cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and at once bought a box. There was soon such a decided improvement that I continued using the pills and was entirely cured. The best proof of this is that I have been well ever since. I cannot recommend the pills too highly."

Sufferers from dyspepsia in any form who have found their condition unrelieved or actually growing worse while using ordinary remedies, would do well to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by all druggists or direct by mail, post-paid on receipt of price, 50c per box; six boxes, $2.50. A diet book will be sent free on application to Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

tionary and pumping work, and the Hildreth marine engine.

Along with the Reterson exhibit E. R. Cherriman of that firm is displaying the 20th Century gas machine which is represented by him. He has installed a small machine which is used to light their exhibit. This machine is for use in the country home, for lighting, cooking, etc., the gas being made from carbide or acetylene, costing less than 3/4 cents per hour to operate a 24-candle power light.

Mitchell, Lewis & Staver have their regular exhibit this year, only larger and better than ever. Their gasoline engines are shown doing probably more different kinds of work than in any other exhibit, although their displays are most in the vehicle line.

An interesting exhibit is that of a hot air engine which may be seen in operation to the left of the ground entrance. The engine is for use in pumping; and is operated by simply building a fire in the fire-box directly beneath the cylinder. A 1000-gallon tank is used in connection with the engine which is pumped full of air and water to a pressure of 100 pounds and this air-pressure forces all of the water out to wherever needed, with high pressure. The compressed air in the tank is said to keep the water cool and fresh.

These are only a few of the interesting features in the mechanical part of the state fair exhibits.

Put Ban on Dancing Girls.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 20.—Dozens of dancing girls, variety artists and musicians, thrown out of employment by the act of the Yukon legislature abolishing music halls, are arriving in Seattle from Dawson and other places in the Yukon. During the palmy days of the gold country the proprietors of dancing halls and burlesque theaters reaped harvests and hundreds of stage folk were attracted to Alaska by the high salaries offered. Nearly all of these were thrown out of employment by the new law, and many are still stranded in Dawson.

Anniversary of Paoli Massacre. West Chester, Penn., Sept. 20.—

ELEVEN YEARS OF STATE FAIRS

In presenting our eleventh successive exhibition at the Oregon State Fair, we wish to state that each article in our stock has been selected with the utmost consideration for the use to which it is to be put. No implement or machine is taken into our stock until it has been thoroughly tested and compared with others for the same purpose, and found to be the best that it is possible to obtain. Many of our goods are made especially for this trade, which has its peculiarities.

A celebration of the 130th anniversary of the massacre of Paoli was held on the monument grounds, near Malvern, today, many prominent members of the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution taking part in the exercises.

It was in the night of September 20, 1777, that the troops commanded by General "Mad" Anthony Wayne, retreating from the battle of Brandywine, were surprised by the British general afterwards called "Flintless" Gray. The British leader forbade his men to fire a shot, and to make certain that his orders were carried out took their flints away from them, whence the nickname "Flintless."

The night was intensely dark, and the Hessians fell upon the Americans without a moment's warning, and bayoneted them, only the genius of General Wayne saving the entire army from destruction. After the continental troops had fled the sick and wounded left on the field were tortured and cruelly put to death and the camp burned. On the following day 53 of the victims of the Hessians were buried in one grave, and during the remainder of the revolution the battle cry which fired the hearts of the patriots was "Remember Paoli!"

In 1877, just a century after the massacre, the present monument was erected over the spot where the patriots lie buried. It is a modest shaft, surrounded by an iron railing, and appropriately inscribed.

Acute Rheumatism.

Deep tearing or wrenching pains, occasioned by getting wet through; worse when at rest, or on first moving the limbs and in cold or damp weather, is cured quickly by Ballard's Snow Liniment. Oscar Oleson Gibson City, Ill., writes, Feb. 16, '02. "A year ago I was troubled with a pain in my back. It soon got so bad I could not bend over. One bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me." Sold by D. J. Fry.

Democratic Caucuses.

Boston, Sept. 20.—Democratic caucuses are being held today in all Massachusetts cities and towns in which the joint caucus act does not obtain, and in all other cities will be held Tuesday, the latter date being fixed by law.

The state convention will be held in the Court street theater, Springfield, on October 5. The struggle for the gubernatorial nomination between the supporters of Henry M. Whitney and Charles W. Bartlett is being waged merrily, both sides being apparently confident of victory in the convention.

"Everybody Should Know" says C. G. Hayes, a prominent business man of Bluff, Mo., that Bucklen's Arnica Salve is the quickest and surest healing salve ever applied to a sore, burn or wound, or to a case of piles. I've used it and know what I'm talking about." Guaranteed by J. C. Perry, druggist, 25c.

OTHER ENGINES

Showing of Pumping and Small Power Plants

Gasoline engines and gasolene engines and are well represented this year. The various machine and implements exhibited at the state fair are taking a larger place in the farm machinery exhibits every year, especially in irrigating and pumping.

Where they threaten in a short time to put the old windmill and water wheel out of use. The farmer who is willing to invest a little of his cash, could make a regular city residence by consulting a few of the agents who are in charge of the displays and always ready to explain to anyone in connection with the engine line everything from grinders to wood saws.

Engines that will pump 1500 gallons an hour, are in the range of the purse of the man of moderate wealth; and their manufacturers claim that they save their cost in fuel. When not in use, such engines may be put to work to saw water's wood or many other jobs.

Emmett, the windmill pump house, corner of State and 10th streets of Salem, are well represented this year. Their special pumping plants and irrigating engines. They have several engines in operation, of the Fairbanks make, one of which is a small power pumping outfit, worth about $250, which will pump from 1500 to 2000 gallons per hour. One of these pumps is in use at the H. H. Keats Auto company.

Portland has an attractive booth at an exhibition of the Olds, Staver, and Kushman, marine, engine, and a small Kushman engine is exhibited with everything complete to fit up a small launch. A 3-horse power Olds pumping outfit is shown which will pump 1500 gallons and burn only about three gallons of gasolene in ten hours run.

The Keats display is a new stationary engine, of the Emerson Machinery Co. of Portland has one of the neatest exhibits, including, besides their pumps and machinery, three makes of engines including a $70 Peterborough, one of the finest canoes made, the Oldtown and Truscot. They exhibit the Alamo engine for sta-

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

MEDICINE.

They seem to think because I advertise my preparations I claim they will cure anything and everything. Well, I don't. The other day I got a letter from a woman who said her husband had been in bed eighteen years. She had bought seven bottles of the Cooper medicines and her husband was still in bed.

It was a second, a robber and various other pleasant things. The only thing I claim for Cooper's Discovery is that it will put the man in working order. I know that when I am done, rheumatism, constipation, indigestion and liver troubles, nervousness, and the general tired out, despondent feeling will disappear in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred. I know this medicine to be the most efficacious and add flesh, strength and vigor to the entire system. But it will do the impossible. No medicine can do more than help nature. Chronic diseases are beyond all medicine, although God in his wisdom may some day cure them. At present I know of no more efficient medicine as was ever on the market, and people who will take it will be more than satisfied.

From a letter from one who has tried Cooper's New Discovery to be as thorough as possible, and I felt greatly improved in my health. I am indeed thankful for the medicine I have received." Miss Jennie Smith, No. 15 1/2 Avenue, West.

They have sold and are selling great quantities of these famous medicines.
